situates the contours of Davidson's practice within the broader Northwest Coast art world Hidden in Plain Sight Daniel J. K. Beavon, Cora Jane Voyageur, David Newhouse, 2005-01-01 The history of Aboriginal people in Canada taught in schools and depicted in the media tends to focus on Aboriginal displacement from native lands and the consequent social and cultural disruptions they have endured Collectively they are portrayed as passive victims of European colonization and government policy and even when well intentioned these depictions are demeaning and do little to truly represent the role Aboriginal peoples have played in Canadian life Hidden in Plain Sight adds another dimension to the story showing the extraordinary contributions Aboriginal peoples have made and continue to make to the Canadian experience From treaties to contemporary arts and literatures Aboriginal peoples have helped to define Canada and have worked to secure a place of their own making in Canadian culture For this volume editors David R Newhouse Cora J Voyageur and Daniel J K Beavon have brought together leading scholars and other impassioned voices and together they give full treatment to the Aboriginal contribution to Canada's intellectual political economic social historic and cultural landscapes Included are profiles of several leading figures such as actor Chief Dan George artist Norval Morrisseau author Tomson Highway activist Anna Mae Pictou Aquash and politician Phil Fontaine among others Canada simply would not be what it is today without these contributions The first of two volumes Hidden in Plain Sight is key to understanding and appreciating Canadian society and will be essential reading for generations to come Eagle Transforming Robert Davidson, Ian MacEwan Thom, Vancouver Art Gallery, Surrey Art Gallery (B.C.), Two Rivers Gallery (Prince George, B.C.), 2010 Potlatch as Pedagogy Sara Florence Davidson, Robert Davidson, 2018-10-19 In 1884 the Canadian government enacted a ban on the potlatch the foundational ceremony of the Haida people The tradition which determined social structure transmitted cultural knowledge and redistributed wealth was seen as a cultural impediment to the government's aim of assimilation The tradition did not die however the knowledge of the ceremony was kept alive by the Elders through other events until the ban was lifted In 1969 a potlatch was held The occasion the raising of a totem pole carved by Robert Davidson the first the community had seen in close to 80 years From then on the community publicly reclaimed from the Elders who remained to share it the knowledge that has almost been lost Sara Florence Davidson Robert's daughter would become an educator Over the course of her own education she came to see how the traditions of the Haida practiced by her father holistic built on relationships practical and continuous could be integrated into contemporary educational practices From this realization came the roots for this book Cycles Marjorie M. Halpin, 1979 Essay on Haida Indian artist and his prints Returning to the Yakoun River Sara Florence Davidson, Robert Davidson, 2022-10-06 Based on author Sara Florence Davidson's childhood memories this illustrated story captures the joy and adventure of a Haida fish camp Every summer a Haida girl and her family travel up the Yakoun River on Haida Gwaii following the salmon While their father fishes the girl and her brother spend their time on the land playing and learning from Tsinii Grandfather Dancing with Our Ancestors Sara Florence Davidson, Robert Davidson, 2022-09-06 In this tender picture book Sara Florence

Davidson transports readers to the excitement of a potlatch in Hydaburg Alaska her last memory of dancing with her late brother It feels like my brother and I have always known how to sing the songs and dance the dances of our Haida ancestors Unlike our father we were born after the laws that banned our cultural practices were changed The potlatch ban did not exist during our time so we grew up dancing and singing side by side The invitations have been sent The food has been prepared The decorations have been hung And now the day of the potlatch has finally arrived Guests from all over come to witness this bittersweet but joyful celebration of Haida culture and community Written by the creators of Potlatch as Pedagogy this book brings the Sk ad a Principles to life through the art of Janine Gibbons

Solitary Raven Bill, 2012-03-23 A seminal collection of writing from one of Canada s most revered artists spanning forty years of his life When Haida sculptor and Canadian icon Bill Reid died in the spring of 1998 he was more widely and more fervently admired than any other Native artist in North America Although Reid attained his greatest fame in the visual arts words were his first professional medium Until he received his first large carving commission in 1958 he made his living as a radio announcer and script writer This work earned him the Haida name Kihlgulins the One with the Beautiful Voice In his later years Parkinson s disease curtailed his public speaking but it did not prevent him writing His oratorical and literary gifts are rightly part of the Reid legend Recordings of his voice can still be played in a number of major museums around the world Despite his gift for words much of what he wrote was published only in newspapers magazines and exhibition catalogues Some was made public in audio form but never printed and some has languished in manuscript for years This book collects for the first time the most important of these widely scattered writings seminal statements on the art on the Northwest Coast the role of the Native artist in a multicultural world and the quintessential role of the environment to the survival of human culture

The Canadian Encyclopedia James H. Marsh, 1999 This edition of The Canadian Encyclopedia is the largest most comprehensive book ever published in Canada for the general reader It is COMPLETE every aspect of Canada from its rock formations to its rock bands is represented here It is UNABRIDGED all of the information in the four red volumes of the famous 1988 edition is contained here in this single volume It has been EXPANDED since 1988 teams of researchers have been diligently fleshing out old entries and recording new ones as a result the text from 1988 has grown by 50% to over 4 000 000 words It has been UPDATED the researchers and contributors worked hard to make the information as current as possible Other words apply to this extraordinary work of scholarship AUTHORITATIVE RELIABLE and READABLE Every entry is compiled by an expert Equally important every entry is written for a Canadian reader from the Canadian point of view The finished work many years in the making and the equivalent of forty average sized books is an extraordinary storehouse of information about our country This book deserves pride of place on the bookshelf in every Canadian Home It is no accident that the cover of this book is based on the Canadian flag For the proud truth is that this volume represents a great national achievement From its formal inception in 1979 this encyclopedia has always represented a vote of faith in Canada in Canada as a separate place whose natural worlds and whose peoples and their achievements deserve to be recorded and celebrated At the start of a new century and a new millennium in an increasingly borderless corporate world that seems ever more hostile to national distinctions and aspirations this Canadian Encyclopedia is offered in a spirit of defiance and of faith in our future The statistics behind this volume are staggering The opening sixty pages list the 250 Consultants the roughly 4 000 Contributors all experts in the field they describe and the scores of researchers editors typesetters proofreaders and others who contributed their skills to this massive project The 2 640 pages incorporate over 10 000 articles and over 4 000 000 words making it the largest some might say the greatest Canadian book ever published There are of course many special features These include a map of Canada a special page comparing the key statistics of the 23 major Canadian cities maps of our cities a variety of tables and photographs and finely detailed illustrations of our wildlife not to mention the colourful informative endpapers But above all the book is encyclopedic which the Canadian Oxford Dictionary describes as embracing all branches of learning This means that with rare exceptions there is satisfaction for the reader who seeks information on any Canadian subject From the first entry A mari usque ad mare from sea to sea which is Canada's motto and a good description of this volume's range to the Zouaves who mustered in Quebec to fight for the beleaguered Papacy there is the required summary of information clearly and accurately presented For the browser the constant variety of entries and the lure of regular cross references will provide hours of fascination The word encyclopedia derives from Greek expressions alluding to a grand circle of knowledge Our knowledge has expanded immeasurably since the time that one mind could encompass all that was known Yet now Canada's finest scientists academics and specialists have distilled their knowledge of our country between the covers of one volume The result is a book for every Canadian who values learning and values Canada Robert Davidson Robert Davidson, Ian M. Thom, 2015-05 Robert Davidson is an internationally renowned multidisciplinary artist who is critically engaged in the contemporary arts and deeply rooted in Haida cultural expression Davidson continues to be a vital force in the Haida community and advocate for First Nations culture education ceremony politics and art while sharing cultural knowledge with broader multi cultural communities Robert Davidson Progression of Form is a multi faceted project which will explore Davidson s latest artwork within the context of the current landscape of contemporary Canadian art and Davidson s cultural and artistic history The exhibition catalogue and programs will recognize the importance of the integration of the visual and performing arts and their intrinsic relationship with culture ceremony and Haida identity Although Davidson s vision is deeply rooted in tradition he strives to push boundaries of representation and art making to what he considers a universal artistic experience The exhibition will showcase twenty of Davidson s most recent paintings as well as four epoxy coted aluminum sculptures and a house post to be finished specifically for the exhibition Many of the works lean close to abstraction while showing deep respect for traditional Haida artistic expression it is in this balanced intersection that we see the significance of the progression of form A
