The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1972 Robert Burns and Pastoral Nigel Leask, 2010-07 This book restores the long marginalised Scottish poet Robert Burns to his rightful place as a major poet of the 18th century and Romantic period It discusses his education as a farmer during the revolutionary period of improvement in 18th century Scotland decision to write Scots pastoral poetry and influence on Wordsworth and Coleridge Artful Virtue: The Interplay of the Beautiful and the Good in the Scottish Enlightenment Leslie Ellen Brown, 2016-03-09 During the Scottish Enlightenment the relationship between aesthetics and ethics became deeply ingrained beauty was the sensible manifestation of virtue the fine arts represented the actions of a virtuous mind to deeply understand artful and natural beauty was to identify with moral beauty and the aesthetic experience was indispensable in making value judgments This book reveals the history of how the Scots applied the vast landscape of moral philosophy to the specific territories of beauty in nature aesthetics and ethics in the eighteenth century The author explores a wide variety of sources from academic lectures and institutional record to more popular texts such as newspapers and pamphlets to show how the idea that beauty and art made individuals and society more virtuous was elevated and understood in Scottish society Representing Place in British Literature and Culture, 1660-1830 Professor Evan Gottlieb, Professor Juliet Shields, 2013-04-28 Revising traditional rise of the nation state narratives this collection explores the development of and interactions among various forms of local national and transnational identities and affiliations during the long eighteenth century By treating place as historically contingent and socially constructed this volume examines how Britons experienced and related to a landscape altered by agricultural and industrial modernization political and religious reform migration and the building of nascent overseas empires In mapping the literary and cultural geographies of the long eighteenth century the volume poses three challenges to common critical assumptions about the relationships among genre place and periodization First it questions the novel's exclusive hold on the imagining of national communities by examining how poetry drama travel writing and various forms of prose fiction each negotiated the relationships between the local national and global in distinct ways Second it demonstrates how viewing the literature and culture of the long eighteenth century through a broadly conceived lens of place brings to the foreground authors typically considered minor when seen through more traditional aesthetic cultural or theoretical optics Finally it contextualizes Romanticism's long standing associations with the local and the particular suggesting that literary localism did not originate in the Romantic era but instead emerged from previous literary and cultural explorations of space and place Taken together the essays work to displace the nation state as a central category of literary and cultural analysis in eighteenth century studies The Life of Robert Burns James Currie, 1838 The London and China Telegraph, 1867 From Compositors to Collectors John Hinks, Matthew Day, 2012 The essays in this collection trace texts from their creation and printing through to their publication dissemination and collection In doing so they show how production processes change texts and how collectors subsequently appropriate them for their own ends By examining the diverse activities of those involved in both textual creation and collection over a long period these essays highlight both continuities and changes in the book trade Taken together this collection offers considerable new insights into many facets of the book trade ranging from creation to consumption This newest addition to the Print Networks series includes nineteen essays from leading book history scholars including Mariko Nagase Daniel Cook Stephen Brown Brian Hillyard Catherine Delafield Rob Allen Rachel Bower Iain Beavan and more The compositors section covers everything from The Mayor of Quinborough published in 1661 to My Name is Salma published in 2007 Essays on collectors include Dr James Fraser Titus Wheatcroft Sir Walter Scott the USA Armed Services and more The book is illustrated throughout in black and white Available in the UK from The British Library

My muse is British Peter Zenzinger,1977 All about Tea William Harrison Ukers,1935 Essay on Burns Thomas Carlyle,1903 Language and Relationship in Wordsworth's Writing Michael Baron,2014-10-13 William Wordsworth 1770 1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally This broad ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language difference and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period It discusses many of Wordsworth's later poems comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth's construction of community and his use of power relationships A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included A Supplement to Granger's Index (1919-1928). Edith Granger,1929 The Post Office Directory of Somerset and Devon, with Bristol, Etc Directories. - Somerset,1866 The London Gazette ,1826 Granger's Index to Poetry and Recitations ,1929 The Manchester commercial list [afterw.] The Manchester & district commercial list [afterw.] The Manchester, cotton district and general Lancashire commercial list Seyd and co,1873 The directory of the county of Derby Stephen Glover,1829 The Ballad World of Anna Gordon, Mrs. Brown of Falkland Ruth Perry,2025-05-20 This book is a biographical study of unprecedented scope and detail of the celebrated Anna Gordon Mrs Brown of Falkland whose magnificent repertory of old Scottish ballads attracted the fascinated attention of intellectuals and song collectors during the later years of the eighteenth century Her ballads the earliest to be gathered from a named living person were recognized by the great Francis James Child as a unique source in the Anglo Scottish tradition superior in quality to all other versions Anna Gordon was a literary woman with a strongly intellectual middle class background educated by her father a professor in one of Scotland's four universities who himself made significant contributions to Scottish Enlightenment thinking about literacy and the nature of language She lived at the intersection of several different worlds reflecting balladry oral tradition and women's culture as well as Enlightenment debates about orality and literacy and the rapidly expanding imperial enterprise

The story encompasses three generations of her remarkable family as they entered the wider Atlantic world with adventures in Scotland Virginia and the West Indies including an elopement and a duel capture by pirates and an evening party given by George Washington The book includes an examination of the complex musical and cultural context from which Anna Gordon sprang Threaded throughout are discussions of the ballads that brought her fame revealing the deep importance of traditional music in Scottish society and the centrality of women as tradition bearers in balladry one of the great verbal and musical art forms of Western Europe Historically informed audio recordings of twelve ballads from her original manuscripts with musical settings based on the notations of her gifted nephew Robert Eden Scott have been made for an accompanying website specially created for this book by leading Scottish folk musicians
