Discussion over celebrity engagement is often limited to theoretical critique or normative name-calling without much grounded research into what it is that celebrities are doing, the same or differently throughout the world. Crucially, little attention has been paid to the Global South, either as a place where celebrities intervene into existing politics and social processes or as the generator of Southern celebrities engaged in do-gooding. This book examines what the diverse roster of celebrity humanitarians are actually doing in and across North and South contexts. Celebrity humanitarianism is an effective lens for viewing the multiple and diverse relationships that constitute the links between North and South. New empirical findings on celebrity humanitarianism on the ground in Thailand, Malawi, Bangladesh, South Africa, China, Haiti, Congo, US, Denmark, and Australia illustrate the impact of celebrity humanitarianism in the Global South and celebrityization, participation, and democratization in the donor North. By investigating one of the most mediatized and distant representations of humanitarianism, the celebrity intervention from a perspective of contextualization, the book underscores the importance of context in international development. This book will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of development studies, celebrity studies, anthropology, political science, geography, and related disciplines. It is also of great relevance to development practitioners, humanitarian NGOs, and professionals in business, CSR, fair trade, who work in the increasingly celebrityized field.
