mission or ministry feeling exhausted and overwhelmed Not only that but mission which focuses on the rapid and the growing fails to recognise the rich resources the more contemplative Christian traditions can offer our post secular society and especially those who would call themselves spiritual but not religious

The Truth-Seeking Heart Ann Loades, Robert MacSwain, 2006-08-29 Austin Farrer was part of the extraordinary mid 20th century group of Oxford Christians which also included C S Lewis J R R Tolkien Charles Williams and Dorothy Sayers Described as the one genius that the Church of England produced in the last century and author of incomparably the most interesting theological books ever to come out of Oxford his great legacy is that his considerable learning expressed itself as practical spiritual direction He believed that after all the argument analysis and sifting of evidence the purpose of theology was to show how to live and how to love He died in 1968 and his many books are now out of print Here is a thematically arranged anthology of his most influential writings with an extended introduction that assesses his contribution to Anglican life and through today

Head and Heart Fraser Watts, Geoff Dumbreck, 2013-08-26 Theologians and religious figures often draw a distinction between religion of the head and religion of the heart but few stop to ask what the terms head and heart actually denote Many assume that this distinction has a scriptural basis and yet many Biblical authors used the word heart as a synonym for mind In fact there isn't a strict separation of the two concepts until the modern period as in Pascal's famous claim that the heart has its reasons that reason can not know Since then many other philosophers and theologians have made a similar distinction The fact that this distinction has been so persistent makes it an important area of study Head and Heart Perspectives from Religion and Psychology takes an inter disciplinary approach linking the thinking of theologians and philosophers with theory and research in present day psychology The tradition of using framing questions that have been developed in theology and philosophy can now be brought into dialogue with scientific approaches developed within cognitive psychology and neuroscience Though these scientific approaches have not generally used the terms head and heart they have arrived at a similar distinction in other ways There is a notable convergence upon the realization that humans have two modes of cognition at their disposal that correspond to head and heart The time is therefore ripe to bring the approaches of theology and science in to dialogue an important dialogue that has been heretofore neglected Head and Heart draws on the unique expertise in relating theology and psychology of the University of Cambridge's Psychology and Religion Research Group PRRG In addition to providing historical and theoretical perspectives the contributors to this volume will also address practical issues arising from the group's applied work in deradicalisation and religious education Contributors include Geoff Dumbreck Nicholas J S Gibson Malcolm Guite Liz Gulliford Russell Re Manning Glendon L Moriarty Sally Myers Sara Savage Carissa A Sharp Fraser Watts Harris Wiseman and Bonnie Poon Zahl
