Searching For Human Origins:

Ancestors Donald C. Johanson, Lenora Johanson, Blake Edgar, 1994 A world renowned paleoanthropologist and author of Lucy The Beginnings of Humankind Donald Johanson attempts to solve the mystery of human evolution using new evidence uncovered on his recent forays into the fossil rich regions of Eastern Africa Companion volume to the upcoming Nova series 175 illus Maps The Wisdom of the Bones Alan Walker, Pat Shipman, 1997-09-02 Fascinating As engaging an explanation of how scientists study fossil bones as any I have ever read John R Alden Philadelphia Inquirer In 1984 a team of paleoanthropologists on a dig in northern Kenya found something extraordinary a nearly complete skeleton of Homo erectus a creature that lived 1.5 million years ago and is widely thought to be the missing link between apes and humans The remains belonged to a tall rangy adolescent male The researchers called him Nariokotome boy In this immensely lively book Alan Walker one of the lead researchers and his wife and fellow scientist Pat Shipman tell the story of that epochal find and reveal what it tells us about our earliest ancestors We learn that Nariokotome boy was a highly social predator who walked upright but lacked the capacity for speech In leading us to these conclusions The Wisdom of the Bones also offers an engaging chronicle of the hundred year long search for a missing link a saga of folly heroic dedication and inspired science Brilliantly captures an intellectual odyssey One of the finest examples of a practicing scientist writing for a popular audience Portland Oregonian A vivid insider's perspective on the global efforts to document our own ancestry Richard E Leakey

Southern Asia, Australia, and the Search for Human Origins Robin Dennell, Martin Porr, 2014-02-24 This is the first book to focus on the role of Southern Asia and Australia in our understanding of modern human origins and the expansion of Homo sapiens between East Africa and Australia before 30 000 years ago With contributions from leading experts that take into account the latest archaeological evidence from India and Southeast Asia this volume critically reviews current models of the timing and character of the spread of modern humans out of Africa It also demonstrates that the evidence from Australasia should receive much wider and more serious consideration in its own right if we want to understand how our species achieved its global distribution Critically examining the Out of Africa model this book emphasises the context and variability of the global evidence in the search for human origins Bones of Contention Roger Lewin, 1987 Acknowledgments1 Bones of Contention2 The Storytellers3 The Taung Child Rejection4 The Taung Child Acceptance5 Rama's Ape Resurrected6 Rama's Ape Destroyed7 The Leakeys Father8 The Leakeys Son9 The KBS Tuff Controversy Genesis10 The KBS Tuff Controversy Denouement11 Lucy The Naming12 Lucy The Response13 Man's Place in Nature Afterword Notes Index Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved Masters of the Planet Ian Tattersall, 2012-03-27 When Homo sapiens made their entrance 100 000 years ago they were confronted by a wide range of other hominids but shortly after their arrival something happened that vaulted the species forward This book is devoted to revealing just what made humans the indisputable masters of the planet Interrogating Human Origins Martin Porr, Jacqueline Matthews, 2019-12-06 Interrogating Human

Missing Links John Reader, 2011-10-27 This is the story of the search for human origins from the Middle Ages when questions of the earth's antiquity first began to arise through to the latest genetic discoveries that show the interrelatedness of all living creatures Central to the story is the part played by fossils first in establishing the age of the Earth then following Darwin in the pursuit of possible Missing Links that would establish whether or not humans and chimpanzees share a common ancestor John Reader's passion for this quest palaeoanthropology began in the 1960s when he reported for Life Magazine on Richard Leakey's first fossil hunting expedition to the badlands of East Turkana in Kenya Drawing on both historic and recent research he tells the fascinating story of the science as it has developed from the activities of a few dedicated individuals into the rigorous multidisciplinary work of today His arresting photographs give a unique insight into the fossils the discoverers and the settings His vivid narrative reveals both the context in which our ancestors evolved and also the realities confronting the modern scientist The story he tells is peopled by eccentrics and enthusiasts and punctuated by controversy and even fraud It is a celebration of discoveries Neanderthal Man in the 1850s Java Man 1891 Australopithecus 1925 Peking Man 1926 Homo habilis 1964 Lucy 1978 Floresiensis 2004 and Ardipithecus 2009 It is a story of fragmentary shards of evidence and the competing interpretations built upon them And it is a tale of scientific breakthroughs dating technology genetics and molecular biology that have enabled us to set the fossil evidence in the context of human evolution John Reader's first book on this subject Missing Links The Hunt for Earliest Man 1981 was described in Nature as the best popular account of palaeoanthropology I have ever read His new book covers the thirty years of discovery that have followed

In Search of Origins Garry Trompf, 2005-01-01

Religion is an integral part of our life The answer to the question what is religion is subjective Since the word religion and its cognates are common coinage across the literate world most of us will have a fair appreciation of the term s connotations Considering students and scholars alike are lacking an introductory textbook on the origins of religion in modern Western theory and archaeological practice this work is designed to fill the lacuna Historians of ideas and social science are often not clear as to how any given theory of religion might pertain to the known archaeological record while exponents of prehistoric religion have worked with surprisingly narrow definitions of religious life Many will locate the kernel of the matter in practice or in an active spirituality Today the pressures of the global village have forced many of us to take off our blinkers and do some cross cultural homework Religious Studies has emerged as an academic discipline or intellectual pursuit with one of its functions being to facilitate mutual understanding between traditions and to ensure that the varieties of religious belief and experience are fairly appraised The series of which this book is a part will be historically rather than theologically oriented This book will cover such a vast area for investigation and it is designed to help students find their own way through the forest pick the trees which interest them and learn how to scrutinise them in depth Religious Studies is a multi disciplinary activity and one is encouraged to turn over as many stones as possible to look at religions from as many different angles as possible the psychological anthropological sociological geographical ecological political economic and the like with some awareness of current theological debates as well This book gives scope to the comparative method and all the great religions are treated side by side with points of comparison and contrast drawn This book begin with the large question of the origins and prehistory of religion including the bearing anthropological study has on this question before giving space to the larger traditions themselves The comparative method is applied not only between such enormous aggregates of phenomena as let us say Buddhism and Islam but between these and small scale tribal traditions as well The book highlights that some religions will be difficult to separate from cultures because they amount to a total way of life An attempt is made to try to interpret religion both as culture and as a distinctive set of forces in interaction with culture or perhaps even against prevailing cultural forms This book has been designed to help students find for themselves possible answers to existential or theological questions but only as a side effect to historical and phenomenological study and as the author says provide no such answers on a platter
