Seed Money The Guggenheim Story:

Seed Money Milton Lomask, 1964-01-01 The Guggenheim Francesco Dal Co, 2017-01-01 The captivating tale of the plans and personalities behind one of New York City's most radical and recognizable buildings. Considered the crowning achievement of Frank Lloyd Wright, 1867-1959, the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in Manhattan is often called iconic. But it is in fact iconoclastic, standing in stark contrast to the surrounding metropolis and setting a new standard for the postwar art museum. Commissioned to design the building in 1943 by the museum's founding curator, Baroness Hilla von Rebay, Wright established residence in the Plaza Hotel in order to oversee the project. Over the next 17 years, Wright continuously clashed with his clients over the cost and the design, a conflict that extended to the city of New York and its cultural establishment. Against all odds, Wright held fast to his radical design concept of an inverted ziggurat and spiraling ramp built with a continuous beam, a shape recalling the form of an hourglass. Construction was only completed in 1959, six months after Wright's death. The building's initial critical response ultimately gave way to near universal admiration as it came to be seen as an architectural masterpiece. This essential text offering a behind-the-scenes story of the Guggenheim, along with a careful reading of its architecture, is beautifully illustrated with more than 150 images, including plans, drawings, and rare photographs of the building under construction.

Fifty Years in Public Causes Brian O'Connell, 2005 Stories from a fascinating life devoted to providing opportunities for citizens to improve their lives, strengthen their communities, and empower democracy. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Economic History Joel Mokyr, 2003 What were the economic roots of modern industrialism? Were labor unions ever effective in raising workers' living standards? Did high levels of taxation in the past normally lead to economic decline? These and similar questions profoundly inform a wide range of intertwined social issues whose complexity, scope, and depth become fully evident in the Encyclopedia. Due to the interdisciplinary nature of the field, the Encyclopedia is divided not only by chronological and geographic boundaries but also by related subfields such as agricultural history, demographic history, business history, and the histories of technology, migration, and transportation. The articles, all written and signed by international contributors, include scholars from Europe, Latin America, Africa, and Asia. Covering economic history in all areas of the world and segments of economies from prehistoric times to the present, The Oxford Encyclopedia of Economic History is the ideal resource for students, economists, and general readers, offering a unique glimpse into this integral part of world history.

Civil Society Brian O'Connell, John William Gardner, 1999 O'Connell offers an action guide for citizen leaders and teachers, must-know information to help ensure that the democracy will last another century. Philanthropists and Foundation Globalization Joseph Kiger, 2017-07-28 The modern American foundation, as an instrumentality for charitable and philanthropic giving, is in many ways a unique and complex social, economic, political institution. This is particularly the case for foundations with large assets. As a social phenomenon, the foundation has deep roots in the past. At the beginnings of any degree of civilization, charitable giving and rudimentary forms of foundations emerge This is the case in many regions of the world The pattern is consistent once enough property or wealth beyond primitive human needs is accumulated some of it begins to be set aside for what the donors of such wealth consider worthwhile purposes The serious literature contributing greatly to public perception of philanthropy and foundations has been relatively sparse Much of what is available is quantitative and statistical in nature There has been limited objective attention to the motives or reasons spurring individual philanthropists to engage or not to engage in creating foundations such motivation needs historical and comparative analysis Major investigations and studies of foundations together with ancillary national regional and international organizations to facilitate such study have received spotty consideration Philanthropists and Foundation Globalization addresses three interrelated aspects of foundation history First it reviews biographical historical profiles of the founding philanthropists and their heirs engaged in international giving Second it discusses major governmental and non governmental investigations and studies of foundations including domestic ones and also foreign ones in which U S participants have played a prominent role spanning the period 1912 to the present Third it chronicles foundation developments and activities in Europe at the close of the twentieth century The volume provides a historical account of some U S foundations international activity in a particular region in a specific time period and their a

Newberry, Eric Jumper, 2004 On 17 December 1903 at Kitty Hawk NC the Wright brothers succeeded in achieving controlled flight in a heavier than air machine This feat was accomplished by them only after meticulous experiments and a study of the work of others before them like Sir George Cayley Otto Lilienthal and Samuel Langley The first evidence of the academic community becoming interested in human flight is found in 1883 when Professor J J Montgomery of Santa Clara College conducted a series of glider tests Seven years later in 1890 Octave Chanute presented a number of lectures to students of Sibley College Cornell University entitled Aerial Navigation This book is a collection of papers solicited from U S universities or institutions with a history of programs in Aerospace Aeronautical engineering There are 69 institutions covered in the 71 chapters This collection of papers represents an authoritative story of the development of educational programs in the nation that were devoted to human flight Most of these programs are still in existence but there are a few papers covering the history of programs that are no longer in operation documented in Part I as well as the rapid expansion of educational programs relating to aeronautical engineering that took place in the 1940s Part II is devoted to the four schools that were pioneers in establishing formal programs Part III describes the activities of the Guggenheim Foundation that spurred much of the development of programs in aeronautical engineering Part IV covers the 48 colleges and universities that were formally established in the mid 1930s to the present The military institutions are grouped together in the Part V and Part VI presents the histories of those programs that evolved from proprietary institutions The Encyclopedia of the Industrial Revolution in World History Kenneth E.
