Seedborne Diseases and Their Control R. B. Maude, 1996 Seed pathology Infection of seeds Longevity of seedborne organisms Seed transmission of disease Spread and survival of seedborne pathogens Disease control Eclusion and reduction of inoculum Disease control eradication and reduction of inoculum by seed treatment Disease control by cultural measures and sanitation practices Detection of seedborne organisms

Postharvest Pathogens and Disease Management P. Narayanasamy, 2005-11-14 POSTHARVEST PATHOGENS AND DISEASE MANAGEMENT Postharvest diseases caused by microbial pathogens account for millions of dollars in losses of both durable and perishable produce products every year Moreover with consumers increasingly demanding minimally processed vegetables and fruits which can be invaded by human pathogens there is an imperative need for suitable protective measures to provide pathogen free commodities that are free from or contain only acceptable levels of chemical residues Providing details of both conventional and modern molecular techniques applicable for the detection identification and differentiation of field and storage microbial pathogens Postharvest Pathogens and Disease Management Discusses diseases of both durables and perishables during transit and storage Provides a basic understanding of the effects of handling and storage practices as well as field conditions and product susceptibility on the development of postharvest diseases Reveals as a cautionary note the potential hazards of mycotoxins with carcinogenic properties that can contaminate fruits and vegetables Contains detailed information derived from elucidative evidence and disease data in order to explain the infection process and subsequent stages of disease development Helps readers to avoid conditions that favor disease incidence and spread Includes real life examples of disease management strategies to help readers develop effective disease management systems suitable for different ecosystems Emphasizes the importance of integrating several different effective methods in tandem including the development of cultivars with resistance to postharvest diseases the selection of suitable analytical methods and the effective use of biocontrol agents and chemicals Presents protocols for numerous techniques and basic methods making the book a distinctive and highly useful teaching and research tool Postharvest Pathogens and Disease Management offers readers insight into the principles and methods of avoiding and managing postharvest diseases of fruit and vegetable products in an efficient economical and environmentally feasible manner allowing producers to sell safer higher quality produce to the public and prevent the losses associated with postharvest disease

Seed-Borne Diseases of Agricultural Crops: Detection, Diagnosis & Management Ravindra Kumar, Anuja Gupta, 2020-05-18 The global population is increasing rapidly and feeding the ever increasing population poses a serious challenge for agriculturalists around the world Seed is a basic and critical input in agriculture to ensure global food security Roughly 90 percent of the crops grown all over the world are propagated by seed However seed can also harbour and spread pathogens e g fungi bacteria nematodes viruses etc which cause devastating diseases Seed borne pathogens represent a major threat to crop establishment and yield Hence timely detection and diagnosis is a prerequisite for their effective management The book Seed Borne Diseases of Agricultural Crops Detection Diagnosis Management addresses key issues related to seed borne transmitted diseases in various agricultural crops Divided into 30 chapters it offers a comprehensive compilation of papers concerning the history of seed pathology importance of seed borne diseases seed borne diseases and quarantine seed health testing and certification detection and diagnosis of seed borne diseases and their phytopathogens host parasite interactions during development of seed borne diseases diversity of seed borne pathogens seed borne diseases in major agricultural crops non parasitic seed disorders mechanisms of seed transmission and seed infection storage fungi and mycotoxins impact of seed borne diseases on human and animal health and management options for seed borne diseases We wish to thank all of the eminent researchers who contributed valuable chapters to our book which will be immensely useful for students researchers academics and all those involved in various agro industries

Seed Quality Enhancement: Principles and Practices K. Vanangamudi, G. Sastry, S. Kalaivani, A. Selvakumari, M. Vanangamudi, P. Srimathi, 2010-03-01 Seed is the source of future plants or foods is the storage place of culture of history is the first link in the food chain is the ultimate symbol of food security Seed is the source of life Seeds are basic in crop production No agricultural practice can improve a crop beyond the limits set by the seed Quality seed is the key for successful agriculture which demands each and every seed should be readily germinable and produce a vigorous seedling ensuring high yield Care with the seed and joy with the harvest and Good seed doesn't cost it always pays are the popular adage which enlightens the importance of the quality seed The farmers always very much interested in the best seed management practices which are safe environmentally sound and scientifically proven technologies Understandably in view of the importance of quality seeds in Agriculture both as a product and as a means of establishing a crop most attention at all levels of investigation has been directed to crop seeds Since seed is a biological entity deterioration beyond harvest is inevitable The consequences of low quality seeds are poor germination low and delayed emergence and weak growth leading to poor field stand and ultimately reflecting on reduced yield Low productivity could be attributed broadly to use of poor quality seeds At present to overcome this several seed enhancement techniques are available for quality upgradation It has two goals one is related to seed designing and other to seed functioning The rationale for pre sowing seed enhancement techniques is to mobilize the seeds own resources and to augment them with external resources to get maximum improvement in field stand establishment and yield To achieve this several physical physiological and biochemical treatments are available at present to give value addition to seeds Physiological seed treatments that improve seed performance are based primarily on seed hydration and dehydration Among several non physiological seed treatments coating or pelleting can also indirectly improve seed germination stand establishment and crop productivity

Testing Methods for Seed-transmitted Viruses Sven Erik Albrechtsen, 2006 This book provides a practical guide to the commonly used detection methods for seed transmitted viruses and viroids affecting both tropical and non tropical crops The first part describes important aspects of seed transmitted viral diseases The second and main part contains principles of the detection techniques and step by step protocols accompanied by method optimization and comments Most of the described techniques can be equally applied to plant viruses and viroids other than seedborne ones This book will be of significant interest to those working in seed testing laboratories and students and teachers within plant pathology and seed science

Vegetable Diseases Steven T. Koike, Peter Gladders, Albert Paulus, 2006-12-14 Our dependence on healthy vegetable crops as a reliable source of food transcends all barriers of nation and culture Consumers now demand excellent quality from the industry that produces large volumes of high quality vegetables to be sold locally regionally and shipped internationally The diseases that affect vegetables compromise such quality

Plant Disease Management Strategies for Sustainable Agriculture through Traditional and Modern Approaches Imran Ul Haq, Siddra Ijaz, 2020-02-12 This book provides an account of the classical and recent trends in plant sciences which have contributed for disease management strategies in plants for sustainable agriculture Advancements in the disciplines of biological sciences like biotechnology microbiology bioinformatics as well as information and communication technology etc has given the new dimensions for the development of new plant disease management strategies By keeping this perspective in view the editors collected and compiled the useful practical and recent information regarding plant disease management from a diverse group of authors from different countries associated with well reputed scientific teaching and research organizations with the objective to update and equip the researchers with comprehensive and latest knowledge of plant disease management This book is based on the knowledge of traditional and modern approaches for plant disease management It has 15 chapters each chapter describing the pillar strategies which may be the possible way for crop protection from diseases This effort deals with the history and recent trends in plant disease control plant genetics and physiology in disease prognosis conventional plant breeding program for disease resistance synthetic chemicals major component of plant disease management biological antagonism expected safe and sustainable way to manage plant diseases soil microbes and plant health conventional and modern technologies for the management of post harvest diseases nanobiotechnology an innovative plant disease management approach transgenic approaches in plants strategic control for disease management exploiting RNAi mechanism in plants for disease resistance genome editing technologies for resistance against phytopathogens principles applications and future prospects plant health clinics in Pakistan operations and prospects precision agriculture technologies for management of plant disease quarantine and regulations and development and implementation of IDM program for annual and perennial crops

Microbial Plant Pathogens-Detection and Disease Diagnosis: P. Narayanasamy, 2010-10-26 The need for the development of techniques based on the characteristics of the viral proteins and genomic nucleic acids was realized in order to detect identify differentiate and quantify viruses in the infected plants planting materials with or without symptoms of infection Immunoassays have been successfully applied for the detection of viruses in crop and weed host plant species as well as in the vectors Nucleic acid based techniques have been demonstrated to be the most reliable and sensitive tests for detection identification and differentiation of viruses and viroids present in plants and planting materials Inclusion of numerous protocols in appropriate chapters as appendix is a unique feature of this volume Diseases of Field Crops: Diagnostics and Management Vaibhav Kumar Singh, Jameel Akhtar, Krishna Pratap Singh, 2024-11-18 This edited book is a compilation of the chapters on the recent advances made in the field of disease management in various field crops It covers host resistance regulatory mechanism as well as non chemical methods and computer based applications in disease management Molecular marker assisted selection proteomic approaches CRISPR Cas mediated technology to improve food quality and minimize negative public health impact associated with crop diseases is also discussed Plant diseases continue to be major challenge to global crop production especially field crops inflicting not only crop yield losses to farmers but also decline quality as well as nutritional value leading threat to global food security According to FAO statistics there is a need of 70% steady increase in agricultural production to fulfil the food requirements of 9.1 billion populations by 2050 and annual global crop losses due to pests and diseases have been estimated to be about 30% Therefore the book aims at bringing out a comprehensive information on field crop diseases plant disease detection and diagnosis monitoring forecasting forewarning and management The book is very useful for students teachers researchers planners administrators and also the end users at national and international level
