Seen From The South:

Seeing South America William Alfred Reid, 1923 Seeing South Asia Dev Nath Pathak, Biswajit Das, Ratan Kumar Roy, 2022-04-11 This book critically examines the cultural politics of visuals in South Asia. It makes a key contribution to the study of visuals in the social sciences in South Asia by studying the interplay of the seen and unseen and the visual and nonvisual. The volume explores interrelated themes including the vernacular visual and visuality ways of seeing in South Asia and the methodology of hermeneutic sensorium anxiety and politics of the visuals across the region and the trajectory of visual anthropology significance of visual symbols and representations in contemporary performances and folk art visual landscapes of loss and recovery and representation of refugees visual public in South Asia and making of visuals for contemporary consumptions. The chapters unravel the concepts of visual visibility visuality while attending to determinant meta ideas such as memory and modernity trajectories of tradition fluidity and hybridity and visual performative politics. Based on interdisciplinary resources the chapters in this volume present a wide array of empirical findings across India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal and Bangladesh along with analytical readings of the visual culture of the subcontinent across borders. The book will be useful to scholars and researchers of visual and cultural studies social and cultural anthropology sociology political studies media and communications studies performance studies art history television and film studies photography studies and South Asian studies. It will also interest practitioners including artists visual artists photographers filmmakers and media critics.

Promoting Foreign Judgments Pontian N. Okoli, 2019-10-07 In many African countries litigants experience significant uncertainty in their attempts to enforce foreign judgments. Drawing on the experiences of the United Kingdom and the United States vis vis efforts to attain an effective global legal framework on foreign judgments this book undertakes a comparative analysis of how South African and Nigerian courts can promote the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments in a fair manner. This comparative analysis is made considering both African countries as paradigms of their respective legal traditions. The author a legal consultant and academic in private international law analyses stage by stage the challenging process that litigants face when they seek to enforce foreign judgments in South Africa and Nigeria. This analysis includes insightful consideration of broader issues such as the following how challenges faced by judgment creditors may be circumvented practical issues impeding the free movement of foreign judgments impact of globalisation increase in international commercial transactions and regionalism on private international law application of fairness how territorial sovereignty and State interests in international commerce impede the free movement of foreign judgments and qualified obligation under which courts would presumptively enforce foreign judgments subject to certain exceptions and to the balancing of competing interests between private litigants and the State The comparative analysis is undergirded by relevant case law spanning decades in Africa and centuries in Europe and the United States In summary the author projects a clear case for predictability and certainty in the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments as well as how to go about it thus offering lawyers a strategic position to weigh their options in contemplating enforcement of foreign judgments in any jurisdiction even beyond the African region This innovative approach will also be of particular value to policymakers at national levels international and regional economic organisations as well as scholars in private international law and international commercial law generally This is regardless of their specific legal area or niche especially considering the dearth of literature in African private international law
