Lost World Of The Kalahari:

The Lost World of the Kalahari Laurens Van der Post, 1958 An account of the author's search for the vanishing Bushmen of South Africa The Lost World of the Kalahari with "The Great and the Little Memory" a New Epilogue Laurens Van der Post, 1963 The Lost World of the Kalahari Laurens Van der Post, 1988 Seventy five stunning color photographs have been added as well as an epilogue by the author The Lost World of the Kalahari, 1996 San Representation Keyan Tomaselli, Michael Wessels, 2017-12-22 The San or Bushmen of southern Africa have exerted a fascination over generations of writers and scholars from novelists and anarchists to ethnologists and geneticists and also occupy a special place in the popular imagination as the First People and the contemporary remnant of spiritual and natural man The ways in which particular groups of people from southern Africa have been traditionally categorised and positioned as objects of scrutiny by a range of academic disciplines is increasingly being contested and questioned There is a growing awareness of the cultural economic and genetic entanglement of the peoples of the region This book examines how San and Khoe people are represented by others as well as by those who identify as San or Khoe The book interrogates the ways in which disciplines through their methodologies and ways of authorising knowledge not only discover or reveal knowledge but produce it in ways that involve complex and often ambiguous relationships with power structures and forms of intellectual symbolic and cultural capital One major trend that emerges is that the San and Khoe can no longer be seen as people of the past but have to be acknowledged as contemporary and socially situated individuals and communities who are increasingly contesting the representations which others have imposed on them This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts A Journal of South North Cultural and Media Studies The Lost World of the Kalahari. (New Edition with Illustrations.). Laurens Van der Post, 1961 Loneliness and Time Mark Cocker, 1992 Refreshing original and eminently readable The Literary Review Loneliness and Time is a pioneering study of travel writing as a literary form and of travel as a cultural phenomenon Mark Cocker offers a fertile mixture of biography history and literary criticism in his portraits of some of the most prominent twentieth century British explorer writers including Wilfred Thesiger Laurens van der Post Gavin Maxwell and Lawrence Durrell and of the places Greece Tibet that obsessed them In scrutinizing the deep drives that impelled these men to the outer reaches Cocker makes clear the immensely powerful idea of the journey as quest as pilgrimage and how it has come to carry mythological and spiritual import In each portrait the journey's meaning is unearthed layer by layer and we see not only how it operates in the lives of the travelers themselves but its importance to the modern industrial and largely secular societies from which these figures emerge Cocker shows how foreign landscapes and their inhabitants have been used by travel writers as a means to self definition as well as a source of image fantasy even self image Loneliness and Time illuminates the appeal of travel the desire to explore the unfamiliar and the strange that captivates us all BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Forsaken Garden Nancy

Recreating First Contact Joshua A. Bell,Alison K. Brown,Robert J. Africanizing Knowledge

Toyin Falola, 2017-11-30 Nearly four decades ago Terence Ranger questioned to what extent African history was actually African and whether methods and concerns derived from Western historiography were really sufficient tools for researching and narrating African history Despite a blossoming and branching out of Africanist scholarship in the last twenty years that question is still haunting The most prestigious locations for production of African studies are outside Africa itself and scholars still seek a solution to this paradox They agree that the ideal solution would be a flowering of institutions of higher learning within Africa which would draw not only Africanist scholars but also financial resources to the continent While the focus of this volume is on historical knowledge the effort to make African scholarship more African is fundamentally interdisciplinary The essays in this volume employ several innovative methods in an effort to study Africa on its own terms The book is divided into four parts Part 1 Africanizing African History offers several diverse methods for bringing distinctly African modes of historical discourse to the foreground in academic historical research Part 2 African Creative Expression in Context presents case studies of African art literature music and poetry It attempts to strip away the exotic or primitivist aura such topics often accumulate when presented in a foreign setting in order to illuminate the social historical and aesthetic contexts in which these works of art were originally produced Part 3 Writing about Colonialism demonstrates that the study of imperialism in Africa remains a springboard for innovative work which takes familiar ideas about Africa and considers them within new contexts Part 4 Scholars and Their Work critically examines the process of African studies itself including the roles of scholars in the production of knowledge about Africa This timely and thoughtful volume will be of interest to African studies scholars and students who are concerned about the ways in which Africanist scholarship might become more African
