Lost Films:

Australia's Lost Films Ray Edmondson, Andrew Pike, 1982 Australia's Lost Films was published by the National Library of Australia to coincide with THE LAST FILM SEARCH a project to find as many of these important films as possible and commit them to the care of the National Film and Sound Archive But with its many photographs and a complete checklist of silent feature films 1896-1930 the book stands as an important record of a necessarily little known part of Australia's cinematic past

Lost Silent Films Ethan Parker, AI, 2025-02-24 Lost Silent Films explores the tragic disappearance of approximately 80% of silent films framing it as a significant cultural loss that impacts our understanding of early 20th century society This book investigates the reasons behind this cinematic vanishing act detailing the instability of nitrate film the era's primary film stock which was prone to decomposition and fire It also examines the historical context including a general lack of perceived value which led to neglect systematic discarding and even intentional destruction of these early films This study uniquely combines technical analysis historical investigation and cultural critique to provide a comprehensive account of the lost silent era The book presents a multifaceted approach from detailing the technology of early cinema and the dangers of nitrate film to the role of studio practices copyright law and shifting audience tastes Case studies of specific lost films considered cinematic milestones are provided The book progresses by first introducing early film technology then examining the historical factors contributing to film loss and finally exploring film preservation efforts and modern digital restoration techniques By drawing from archival research filmographic data and historical accounts Lost Silent Films connects to diverse fields such as art history media studies and cultural preservation

Lost Movie Scenes Logan Rodriguez, AI, 2025-02-24 Lost Movie Scenes explores the profound impact of deleted altered or lost footage on film history and our understanding of movies The book examines how these excised moments shape narratives and legacies offering fresh perspectives on artistic expression and filmmaking Discover how censorship pressures studio interference and test screenings influence the final cut revealing the complex dance between creative vision and practical constraints Ever wondered how societal taboos affected movies Or how much power studio executives wielded over directors This book uniquely analyzes these cinematic fragments treating them as artifacts that reveal deeper character motivations and plot resolutions By examining specific films across genres and eras the book uncovers scenes cut for various reasons from censorship to pacing Learn how these lost scenes exist today in director's cuts or online fan communities impacting how we perceive films The book begins with a theoretical framework around film editing and progresses into case studies of specific films The book uses archival research studio memos and filmmaker interviews to support its analysis Lost Movie Scenes ultimately provides film enthusiasts and students with valuable insights into the art and industry of filmmaking

Africa's Lost Classics Lizelle Bisschoff, 2017-07-05 Until recently the story of African film was marked by a series of truncated histories many outstanding films from earlier decades were virtually inaccessible and thus often excluded from critical accounts However various conservation projects since the turn of the century have now begun to make many of these films available to critics and audiences in a way that was unimaginable just a decade ago In this accessible and lively collection of essays Lizelle Bisschoff and David Murphy draw together the best scholarship on the diverse and fragmented strands of African film history Their volume recovers over 30 lost African classic films from 1920 2010 in order to provide a more complex genealogy and begin to trace new histories of African filmmaking from 1920s Egyptian melodramas through lost gems from apartheid South Africa to neglected works by great Francophone directors the full diversity of African cinema will be revealed Missing Reels Harry Waldman,2000 During the first half of this century motion pictures were often considered disposable once their circulations were over The recycling of used film and the use of components for war efforts contributed to the loss of many movies as did the unstable nature of the nitrate film itself The loss of extant works has created gaps in the national cinematic history of the United States and most European countries Eighty percent of all Western made films produced before World War I are considered lost while 15 percent of the films made from 1930 to 1950 are also missing Here are descriptions of nearly 1 000 of the lost American and European films produced between 1900 and 1950 featuring the talents of the still famous as well as the now obscure The films are arranged by country and reveal the remarkably prolific early filmmaking in countries like the Netherlands and Sweden Each entry includes production information cast synopsis history and insights from reviews when available Photographs from these films provide glimpses of what once was An extensive index is included The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry

Anthony Slide,2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide s The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association s Outstanding Reference Book award for that year More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated each entry is followed by a short bibliography As its predecessor the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who s who of the industry but rather a what s what a dictionary of producing and releasing companies technical innovations industry terms studios genres color systems institutions and organizations etc More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope Outstanding Reference Source American Library Association

Satanic Feminism Per Faxneld, 2017 The notion of woman as the Devil's accomplice is prominent throughout Christian history and was used to legitimise the subordination of wives and daughters In the 19th century rebellious females performed counter readings of this misogynist tradition and Lucifer was reconceptualised as a feminist liberator Per Faxneld shows how this surprising Satanic feminism was expressed in a wide range of 19th century texts and artistic productions

Transpacific Convergences Denise Khor, 2022-04-26 Despite the rise of the Hollywood system and hostility to Asian migrant communities in the early twentieth century United States Japanese Americans created a thriving cinema culture that produced films and established theaters and exhibition companies to facilitate their circulation between Japan and the United States Drawing from a fascinating multilingual archive including the films themselves movie industry trade press Japanese American newspapers oral histories and more this book reveals the experiences of Japanese Americans at the cinema and traces an alternative network of film production exhibition and spectatorship In doing so Denise Khor recovers previously unknown films such as The Oath of the Sword 1914 likely one of the earliest Asian American film productions and illuminates the global circulations that have always constituted the multifaceted history of American cinema Khor opens up transnational lines of inquiry and draws comparisons between early Japanese American cinema and Black cinema to craft a broad and expansive history of a transnational public sphere shaped by the circulation and exchange of people culture and ideas across the Pacific

Performance Projections Stephen Barber, 2014-11-15 Film does far more than document performance it actively recreates the time and space of performance and overhauls its rapport with the viewer's eye and body The first book to look in depth at the intersection of film and performance in relation to issues and theories of space Performance Projections travels from the origins of film in Europe and the United States to the world of digital media today exploring the dynamic relationship between these vitally connected ideas Drawing from a wide range of examples including filmic depictions of German and Japanese and Chinese performance art and street cultures Stephen Barber argues that the act of filming has the power to draw distinctively performative dimensions out of unruly human gatherings such as riots and political protests while also accentuating the outlandish and aberrant aspects of performance Spanning the history of film Barber moves from performance in film's formative years such as Edward Muybridge's work in the 1880s to contemporary performance artworks for example Rabih Mroué's investigations of the often lethal camera phone filming of snipers in Syrian cities Proposing that the future conception of filmed performance needs to be radically expanded in response to the transformations of digital film cultures Performance Projections is a critical addition to the literature on both film and art history
