quietly I know Studying and caressing my dad's hand I knew there was one more important conversation that the voice in my heart insisted upon. I know that this is getting to be really tough for you. If staying here becomes too hard it's okay to let go. During the following few weeks I watched my 89 year old Mom experience a renewed sense of purpose and increased strength as she doted on my dad and met his needs as best she could. Some days were better than others. Most nights were difficult when Dad's heart pain was significantly worse and his level of anxiety escalated. Often my mom would pass the hours by reading to Dad. Although her eyesight was clouding she still managed to read the newspaper column by column or inspirational short stories she found in the stack of magazines beside their bed. Amazingly dawn nearly always brought ease and comfort for them both. And so the nights and days continued.

REFLECTION Difficult subjects sometimes need to be discussed. You might be asked by others to deliver bad news: news of someone's death, a life altering diagnosis or even the necessity for a change in residence. Each conversation carries the potential for unleashed emotions. My advice: No matter how difficult or emotional don't leave words left unsaid. People if capable of understanding deserve information. Often they are much stronger than we realize. Words are powerful. They carry courage, condemnation, reassurance or permission. Choose them wisely as your words may be the ones that bring freedom from pain or suffering. It's tough but I know you can do it and if you listen to that voice inside you will know exactly the right time and the right words. Be Strong.
