Automotive Prosthetic Charissa N. Terranova, 2014-01-15 In the twenty first century we are continually confronted with the existential side of technology the relationships between identity and the mechanizations that have become extensions of the self Focusing on one of humanity's most ubiquitous machines Automotive Prosthetic Technological Mediation and the Car in Conceptual Art combines critical theory and new media theory to form the first philosophical analysis of the car within works of conceptual art These works are broadly defined to encompass a wide range of creative expressions particularly in car based conceptual art by both older established artists and younger emerging artists including Ed Ruscha Martha Rosler Richard Prince Sylvie Fleury Yael Bartana Jeremy Deller and Jonathan Schipper At its core the book offers an alternative formation of conceptual art understood according to technology the body moving through space and what art historian curator and artist Jack Burnham calls relations This thought provoking study illuminates the ways in which the automobile becomes a naturalized extension of the human body incarnating new forms of car art and spurring a technological reframing of conceptual art Steeped in a sophisticated take on the image and semiotics of the car the chapters probe the politics of materialism as well as high low debates about taste culture and art The result is a highly innovative approach to contemporary intersections of art and technology

Design Jon Lang,2020-11-09 The Routledge Companion to Twentieth and Early Twenty First Century Urban Design is a fully illustrated descriptive and explanatory history of the development of urban design ideas and paradigms of the past 150 years The ideas and projects hypothetical and built range in scale from the city to the urban block level The focus is on where the generic ideas originated the projects that were designed following their precepts the functions they address and or afford and what we can learn from them The morphology of a city its built environment evolves unselfconsciously as private and governmental investors self consciously erect buildings and infrastructure in a pragmatic piecemeal manner to meet their own ends Philosophers novelists architects and social scientists have produced myriad ideas about the nature of the built environment that they consider to be superior to those forms resulting from a laissez faire attitude to urban development Rationalist theorists dream of ideal futures based on assumptions about what is good empiricists draw inspirations from what they perceive to be working well in existing situations Both groups have presented their advocacies in manifestoes and often in the form of generic solutions or illustrative designs This book traces the history of these ideas and will become a standard reference for scholars and students interested in the history of urban spaces including architects planners urban historians urban geographers and urban morphologists Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Moving Picture World and View Photographer, 1916

Art, Design, Craft, Beauty and All Those Things... Donald Richardson, 2023-08-18 Responding to many recent calls for redress and restitution Richardson summarises the historical and current situation and attributes its problematics to the fact that theorists and historians have taken the concept art as a generic that includes both design and craft which are actually and validly distinguishable from art by application of the concept functional or else ignored the two entirely Considering the conceptual he maintains calls into question the view that the three may be sub classes of the one class whereas in a work of art typically there is a resolution of the tension between form and content in works of design and craft the resolution is between form and function How this recognition can clarify the issue informs the entire book The book's other major thesis is the realisation that aesthetic values are inherently human and that therefore they apply not only to art but to life in general Far from being frivolous or a mere emotion the aesthetic is a sense of equivalent psychic status to sight and hearing and like them is employed at almost every moment of our daily lives which fact grounds art design and craft deeply in human life This is reflected in the universal use of the human form including the exhibition of sexual characteristics in art The eternal conflict between making art and making a living from making art is examined and contrasted to the rarely recognised but positive role of design in planning and industry Richardson also critiques common theories of representation and composition including Albertian perspective and scientific and geometric theories of beauty and composition also the relevance of the camera and the computer in the field Stillness in Motion in the Seventeenth-Century Theatre P.A.

Skantze,2003-09-02 Stillness in Motion in the Seventeenth Century Theatre provides a comprehensive examination of this aesthetic theory The author investigates this aesthetic history as a form of artistic creation philosophical investigation a way of representing and manipulating ideas about gender and a way of acknowledging reinforcing and making a critique of social values for the still and moving the permanent and elapsing The book s analysis covers the entire seventeenth century with chapters on the work of Ben Jonson John Milton the pamphletheatre Aphra Behn John Vanbrugh and Jeremy Collier and will be of interest to scholars in the areas of literary and performance studies Rural Modernity, Everyday Life and Visual Culture Rosemary Shirley,2016-03-03

Through the lens of the everyday this book explores the countryside as an inhabited and practised realm with lived rhythms and routines It relocates the topography of everyday life from its habitually urban focus out into the English countryside The rural is often portrayed as existing outside of modernity or as its passive victim Here the rural is recast as an active and complex site of modernity a shift which contributes alternative ways of thinking the rural and a new perspective on the everyday In each chapter pieces of visual culture including scrapbooks art works adverts photographs and films are presented as tools of analysis which articulate how aspects of the everyday might operate differently in non metropolitan places The book features new readings of the work of significant artists and photographers such as Jeremy Deller and Alan Kane Stephen Willats Anna Fox Andrew Cross Tony Ray Jones and Homer Sykes seen through this rural lens together with analysis of visually fascinating archival materials including early Shell Guides and rarely seen scrapbooks made by the Women s Institute Combining everyday life rural modernity and visual cultures this book is able to uncover new and different stories about the English countryside and contribute significantly to current thinking on everyday life rural geographies and visual cultures Making Something of Ourselves Richard M. Hanks,Anne Hoy,2005-08-30

The twentieth century loved machines and the speed they made possible Speeding cars trains and planes promised to conquer space and time their aerodynamic styling and metal skins embodied a new and modern beauty one that especially enchanted American designers from the late 1920s through the 1950s Streamlining became the popular American style for all sorts of objects from toy scooters to typewriters from power tools to teakettles This book celebrates this beauty as epitomized by the work of Raymond Loewy Kem Weber Henry Dreyfuss Norman Bel Geddes as well as in works by many lesser known industrial designers whose products are presented here for the first time The book also demonstrates the resurgence of interest in streamlining among international vanguard designers from the 1930s to the present This volume is illustrated with patent drawings and period photographs showing how these dynamically styled objects were used The one hundred eighty objects presented here drawn from the Eric Brill Collection recently donated to the American Friends of Canada and supplemented by pieces from the Stewart Collection at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts were photographed for this book A full bibliography biographies of the designers and index complete the study BOOK JACKET
