Arbe, 2019-08-05 Who am I and where do I come to write this book I feel it necessary to address all aspects of motherhood so I decided to include both the sweetness and delight plus the shadow side of motherhood in this book Some challenging life situations occur that are vital for us to consider so I am including some disguieting statistics Because many women and men have refrained from checking within themselves or making an examination on emotional mental physical and spiritual planes about having children hardships have been created both personally and planetary The New Irish Studies Paige Reynolds, 2020-09-24 The New Irish Studies demonstrates how diverse critical approaches enable a richer understanding of contemporary Irish writing and culture The early decades of the twenty first century in Ireland and Northern Ireland have seen an astonishing rate of change one that reflects the common understanding of the contemporary as a moment of acceleration and flux This collection tracks how Irish writers have represented the peace and reconciliation process in Northern Ireland the consequences of the Celtic Tiger economic boom in the Republic the waning influence of Catholicism the increased authority of diverse voices and an altered relationship with Europe The essays acknowledge the distinctiveness of contemporary Irish literature reflecting a sense that the local can shed light on the global even as they reach beyond the limited tropes that have long identified Irish literature The collection suggests routes forward for Irish Studies and unsettles presumptions about what constitutes an Irish classic

Imagining Motherhood in Contemporary Irish and Caribbean Literature Abigail L. Palko, 2016-07-25 Imagining Motherhood in Contemporary Irish and Caribbean Literature undertakes a comparative transnational reading to develop more expansive literary models of good mothering Abigail L Palko argues that Irish and Caribbean literary representations of non normative mothering practices do not reflect transgressive or dangerous mothering but are rather cultural negotiations of the definition of a good mother This original book demonstrates the sustained commitment to countering the dominant ideologies of maternal self sacrifice foundational to both Irish and Caribbean nationalist rhetoric offering instead the possibility of integrating maternal agency into an effective model of female citizenship Clearing a Space T. Day, 2022-07-04 This collection draws together the work of authors from Indonesia Australia North America and Europe in the first comprehensive attempt to relate modern Indonesian literature to the insights and approaches of postcolonial theory and literary criticism The essays in the collection range over the history of modern Indonesian literature from its beginnings in the late nineteenth century to its diversity and growth in the 1990s Some offer the fresh readings of well known texts others draw attention to aspects of the Indonesian literary tradition that have hitherto escaped the notice of scholars and critics Grounded in detailed analysis of local contexts yet enlivened by comparative and theoretical perspectives the collection places Indonesian literature at the heart of contemporary cultural concerns Ireland's Magdalen Laundries and the Nation's Architecture of Containment James M. Smith, 2007-09-01 The Magdalen laundries were workhouses in which many Irish women and girls were effectively imprisoned because they were perceived to be a threat to the moral fiber of society Mandated by the Irish state beginning in the eighteenth century they were operated by various orders of the Catholic Church until the last laundry closed in 1996 A few years earlier in 1993 an order of nuns in Dublin sold part of their Magdalen convent to a real estate developer The remains of 155 inmates buried in unmarked graves on the property were exhumed cremated and buried elsewhere in a mass grave This triggered a public scandal in Ireland and since then the Magdalen laundries have become an important issue in Irish culture especially with the 2002 release of the film The Magdalene Sisters Focusing on the ten Catholic Magdalen laundries operating between 1922 and 1996 Ireland's Magdalen Laundries and the Nation's Architecture of Containment offers the first history of women entering these institutions in the twentieth century Because the religious orders have not opened their archival records Smith argues that Ireland s Magdalen institutions continue to exist in the public mind primarily at the level of story cultural representation and survivor testimony rather than history archival history and documentation Addressed to academic and general readers alike James M Smith s book accomplishes three primary objectives First it connects what history we have of the Magdalen laundries to Ireland s architecture of containment that made undesirable segments of the female population such as illegitimate children single mothers and sexually promiscuous women literally invisible Second it critically evaluates cultural representations in drama and visual art of the laundries that have over the past fifteen years brought them significant attention in Irish culture Finally Smith challenges the nation church state and society to acknowledge its complicity in Ireland's Magdalen scandal and to offer redress for victims and survivors alike Hurt People Cote Smith, 2016-03-01 Summer of 1988 Leavenworth Kansas a town with four major prisons gripped by the recent escape of a convict Yet for two young brothers all that matters is the pool in their apartment complex They spend their blissful days practicing dives while their divorc e mother works her day shift at the golf course and their policeman father patrols the streets But when a mysterious stranger appears poolside and creates a rift between the brothers the younger one wonders just what these visits to the pool might ultimately cost Based on Cote Smith s well received short story of the same name Hurt People will hold you in its grip to the very last page Eerily atmospheric lean and forceful this is a debut from a slyly talented new writer Surviving Space Andrew Briggs, 2018-06-13 Surviving Space is a collection of papers on infant observation and related issues by contemporary experts in the field commemorating the centenary of Esther Bick and the unique contribution she has made to psychoanalytic theory As part of the prestigious Tavistock Clinic Series this is an essential addition to this highly valued and innovative series Infant observation is crucial to most psychotherapy training and this work would be of obvious value to those commencing their training as well as valuable insights for all psychotherapists Feminist Bookstore News, 1995 Do-It-Yourself Space Clearing Kit Christan Hummel, 2004-06 The CD which comes with the Do It Yourself Space Clearing book is a guided meditation of the clearing processes outlined in the book A History of Twentieth-Century British Women's Poetry Jane Dowson, Alice Entwistle, 2005-05-19 Publisher Description
