Moving Mountains Coping With Change In Mountain Communities:

Moving Mountains Sara Neustadt, 1987 Examines how mountain dwellers of seven different communities from the Himalayas to the Rockies deal with threats to their way of life and livelihood Land Is Kin Dana Lloyd, 2023-11-16 Responding to Vine Deloria Jr's call for all people to become involved in the struggle to protect Indigenous sacred sites Dana Lloyd's Land Is Kin proposes a rethinking of sacred sites and a rethinking of even land itself Deloria suggested using the principle of religious freedom but this principle has failed Indigenous peoples for decades Lloyd argues that religious freedom fails Indigenous claimants because settler law creates a tension between two competing rights one party's religious freedom and another party's property rights In this contest the right of property will always win Through an analysis of the 1988 US Supreme Court case Lyng v Northwest Indian Cemetery Protective Association which she interprets as a case about sovereignty and the meaning of land Lloyd proposes a multilayered understanding of land and the different roles it can simultaneously play Rejecting the binary logic of sacred religion versus secular property Lloyd uses the legal dispute over the High Country an area of the Six Rivers National Forest in Northern California sacred to the Yurok Karuk and Tolowa Indigenous nations to show that there are at least five different but not equally valid ways to understand land in the Lyng case home property sacred site wilderness and kin To protect the High Country the Yurok filed a religious freedom lawsuit but then proceeded to describe the land as their home in court They lobbied for protecting the High Country through a wilderness designation even as they continued to argue that they had been managing it for centuries They have purchased large parcels of ancestral land and also declare the land their kin a relationship that ostensibly excludes the possibility of ownership Land Is Kin demonstrates the complexity of land in contemporary religious political and legal discourse By drawing on Indigenous perspectives on the land as kin Lloyd points toward a framework that shifts sovereignty away from binary oppositions between property and sacred site between the federal government and Native nations toward seeing the land itself as sovereign Moving Mountains Thomas Nisbett, 2025-01-28 Environmental stewardship and wilderness protection are core values in outdoor programs and require a participant to tell why natural resources are important to them and to the future of our country Today environmental curriculum and nature based lessons are taught in elementary and secondary schools Beyond the intellectual learning in classrooms experience in the wilderness and field research in nature is essential The mountains particularly have much to teach us Mountains are sacred places to people of all races cultures religions throughout the world Mountains and glaciers are also a barometer of climate change and a bellwether of environmental trends Mountains resemble leading indicators in the economic and political battle over climate change Altering our destructive trajectory will be like moving mountains and it will save them Climbing, 1987 High Mountain Challenge Linda Buchanan Allen, 1989 Chronicles an expedition the author made to Island Peak in Nepal and outlines the skills equipment and techniques used in mountain climbing Asian Environment, 1987 The Alpine
