Moving Pattern:

Pattern Recognition Michael Goesele, Stefan Roth, Arjan Kuijper, Bernt Schiele, Konrad Schindler, 2010-09-17 On behalf of the organizing committee we would like to welcome you to Darmstadt and DAGM 2010 the 32 Annual Symposium of the German Association for Pattern Recognition The technical program covered all aspects of pattern recognition and to name only a few areas ranged from 3D reconstruction to object recognition and medical applications The result is reflected in these proceedings which contain the papers presented at DAGM 2010 Our call for papers resulted in 134 submissions from institutions in 21 countries Each paper underwent a rigorous reviewing process and was assigned to at least three program committee members for review The reviewing phase was followed by a discussion phase among the respective program committee members in order to suggest papers for acceptance The final decision was taken during a program committee meeting held in Darmstadt based on all reviews the discussion results and if necessary additional reviewing Based on this rigorous process we selected a total of 57 papers corresponding to an acceptance rate of below 45% Out of all accepted papers 24 were chosen for oral and 33 for poster presentation All accepted papers have been published in these proceedings and given the same number of pages We would like to thank all members of the program committee as well as the external reviewers for their valuable and highly appreciated contribution to the community

Tutorials on Motion Perception Alexander H. Wertheim, 2012-12-06 From August 24-29 1980 the international Symposium on the Study of Motion Perception Recent Developments and Applications sponsored by NATO and organized by the editors of this book was held in Veldhoven the Netherlands The meeting was attended by about eighty scholars including psychologists neurologists physicists and other scientists from fourteen different countries During the symposium some fifty research papers were presented and a series of tutorial review papers were read and discussed The research presentations have been published in a special issue of the international journal of psychonomics Acta Psychologica Vol 48 1981 The present book is a compilation of the tutorial papers The tutorials were arranged around early versions of the chapters now appearing in this book The long discussions at the Veldhoven tutorial sessions resulted in extensive revisions of the texts prior to this publication Unfortunately this led to a delay in publication but we feel that this was justified by a greater depth of understanding which in our opinion has significantly increased the quality of the book As they now stand the chapters cover most of the issues relevant to the study of motion perception Also they clearly reflect the intensive exchange of knowledge that took place during the symposium As such we think that this book can be used both as an advanced text for students and scientists alike and as a comprehensive reference source

Spatio-Temporal Databases Marcos R. Vieira,Vassilis J. Tsotras,2013-10-15 This brief presents several new query processing techniques called complex motion pattern queries specifically designed for very large spatio temporal databases of moving objects The brief begins with the definition of flexible pattern queries which are powerful because of the integration of variables and motion patterns This is followed by a summary of the expressive power of patterns and flexibility of pattern queries The brief then present the Spatio Temporal Pattern System STPS and density based pattern queries STPS databases contain millions of records with information about mobile phone calls and are designed around cellular towers and places of interest Density based pattern queries capture the aggregate behavior of trajectories as groups Several evaluation algorithms are presented for finding groups of trajectories that move together in space and time i e within a predefined distance to each other Finally the brief describes a generic framework called DivDB for diversifying query results Two new evaluation methods as well as several existing ones are described and tested in the proposed DivDB framework The efficiency and effectiveness of all the proposed complex motion pattern queries are demonstrated through an extensive experimental evaluation using real and synthetic spatio temporal databases This clear evaluation of new query processing techniques makes Spatio Temporal Database a valuable resource for professionals and researchers studying databases data mining and pattern recognition Database and Expert Systems Applications Abdelkader Hameurlain, Rosine Cicchetti, Roland Traunmüller, 2003-08-02 th 2002 DEXA the 13 International Conference on Database and Expert Systems Applications was held on September 2 6 2002 at the Universit Aix Marseille II France The quickly growing field of information systems required the establishment of more specialized discussion platforms the DaWaK conference EC Web conference eGOV conference and DEXA workshops and there were held in parallel with DEXA also in Aix en Provence The resulting book was prepared with great effort Starting with the preparation of submitted papers the papers went through the reviewing process The accepted papers were revised to final versions by their authors and arranged to the conference program This year 241 papers were submitted and our thanks go to all who have contributed The program committee and the supporting reviewers produced altogether about 730 referee reports on average three reports per paper and selected 89 papers for presentation The papers presented here encompass the extensive domain of databases together with the other conferences and workshops of the DEXA event cluster a vast part of applied computer science was covered In this way DEXA has blazed the trail At this point we would like to acknowledge to all institutions which actively supported this conference and made it possible These are IUT Universit Aix Marseille II FAW DEXA Association the Austrian Computer Society and Microsoft Research

M. Anstis, 1998 Motion perception lies at the heart of the scientific study of vision The motion aftereffect MAE is the appearance of directional movement in a stationary object or scene after the viewer has been exposed to visual motion in the opposite direction For example after one has looked at a waterfall for a period of time the scene beside the waterfall may appear to move upward when one's gaze is transferred to it Although the phenomenon seems simple research has revealed complexities in the underlying mechanisms and offered general lessons about how the brain processes visual information In the 1990s alone more than 200 papers have been published on MAE largely inspired by improved techniques for examining brain electrophysiology and by emerging new theories of motion perception Higher-Order Processing in the Visual System Gregory R. Bock, Jamie A. Goode, 2008-04-30 Foremost neurophysiologists and psychophysicists provide pertinent information on the nature of representation at the earliest stages as this will constrain the disposition of all subsequent processing This processing is discussed in several different types of visual perception
