The town of Covington has had a unique and varied history due in large part to its location between the Bogue Falaya River and the pine forests of St Tammany Parish The city serves as the parish seat and something of a de facto capital of the Ozone Belt an area of South Louisiana characterized by clean air flowing streams and verdant woodlands Early settlers established themselves in the area producing pine products and bricks and Covington soon developed a reputation as a retreat from epidemics of disease as well as from the rigors of city life Covington has long shipped goods to the cities across Lake Ponchartrain and those cities in turn have sent their people to Covington to vacation relax and revel in its beauty good local history is an excellent and agreeable thing It pleases on two counts It satisfies the curiosity of the inhabitants of a region whether newcomers or old settlers especially if no adequate history had existed before It dispels myths corrects old wives tales And if the history is first rate it goes beyond a factual account of persons and places the particularities of a region and shows the significance of these human happenings in a larger scheme of things in this case the emergence of a new nation Ellis s history succeeds on both counts It is a delightful and authoritative account of lore which not even St Tammanyites may have heard of Did you know for example that there was once a flourishing wine industry in St Tammany Parish That local vineyards produced excellent red and white wines the red from Concord grapes the white from Herbemont Did you know that in 1891 a rice crop of 50 000 barrels was harvested half the entire output of South Carolina Ellis has rendered this pleasant and authoritative history in a graceful and lively style and with a genuine affection for the people he writes about Walker Percy From the Foreword      Directions , 1981      Tung World , 1952      The Literary Digest , 1916
