Anybody Home? Pierre Zoelly,1995-04-11 In Anybody home Pierre Zoelly takes a hard look at work he has done over the last three decades to ponder the question How well have his houses fulfilled the promise to be what they set out to be Has the architect in attempting to accomodate individual client wishes created spaces in which the residents can develop and thrive Or have these private spheres become constricting and prison like Did plans go sour once they were turned into built reality Drawing on 7 examples of single family dwellings built in Switzerland and the United States Zoelly confronts head on an architect s good intentions with the actual experiences of the people who were to live in his finished products The homeowners perception of life at home is juxtaposed with photographs that capture their lifestyles from the visitor s eye view The result is a finely tuned self critical account of the kind all too rarely carried out by architects today Architectural Record ,1914 Arena ,1923 John Dalton Elizabeth Musgrave,2023-08-10 This book addresses the work of architect John Dalton 1927 2007 an important voice in mid century modernism in Australia whose work despite his being exhibited and published internationally and also winning several awards for his designs is woefully little known Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects the book draws on previously unpublished archival documents including Dalton s drawings and paintings transcripts of lectures letters and articles plans and photographic images of built works to characterize the architect not only as a very talented designer but also as a pioneer of environmentalist thinking in Australia The book reveals how Dalton s architectural preoccupations parallel a transition in mid century modern architecture globally from functional efficiency and material rationalism to a concern with being in dialogue with the environment confirming a wider environmental turn that involved the integration of environmental with cultural considerations through relational thinking and which preceded and transcends the discipline s fascination with theoretical paradigms such as Critical Regionalism John Dalton Subtropical Modernism and the Turn to Environment in Australian Architecture is thus not only an important contribution to the existing scholarship on 20th century modernism but also to the current renewed interest in environmental design across the globe
