The Case against Death

Ingemar Patrick Linden,2022-02-01 A philosopher refutes our culturally embedded acceptance of death arguing instead for the desirability of anti aging science and radical life extension Ingemar Patrick Linden s central claim is that death is evil In this first comprehensive refutation of the most common arguments in favor of human mortality he writes passionately in favor of antiaging science and radical life extension We may be on the cusp of a new human condition where scientists seek to break through the arbitrarily set age limit of human existence to address aging as an illness that can be cured The book however is not about the science and technology of life extension but whether we should want more life For Linden the answer is a loud and clear yes The acceptance of death is deeply embedded in our culture Linden examines the views of major philosophical voices of the past whom he calls death s ardent advocates These include the Buddha Socrates Plato Lucretius and Montaigne All have taught what he calls the Wise View namely that we should not fear death After setting out his case against death Linden systematically examines each of the accepted arguments for death that aging and death are natural that death is harmless that life is overrated that living longer would be boring and that death saves us from overpopulation He concludes with a dialogue concerning the badness of human mortality Though Linden acknowledges that

The Case Against Death is a negative polemic he also defends it as optimistic in that the badness of death is a function of the goodness of life

New Methuselahs John K. Davis,2024-03-19 An examination of the ethical issues raised by the possibility of human life extension including its desirability unequal access and the threat of overpopulation Life extension slowing or halting human aging is now being taken seriously by many scientists Although no techniques to slow human aging yet exist researchers have successfully slowed aging in yeast mice and fruit flies and have determined that humans share aging related genes with these species In New Methuselahs John Davis offers a philosophical discussion of the ethical issues raised by the possibility of human life extension Why consider these issues now before human life extension is a reality Davis points out that even today we are making policy and funding decisions about human life extension research that have ethical implications With New Methuselahs he provides a comprehensive guide to these issues offering policy recommendations and a qualified defense of life extension After an overview of the ethics and science of life extension Davis considers such issues as the desirability of extended life whether refusing extended life is a form of suicide the Malthusian threat of overpopulation equal access to life extension and life extension and the right against harm In the end Davis sides neither with those who argue that there are no moral objections to life enhancement nor with those who argue that the moral objections are so strong that we should never develop it Davis argues that life extension is on balance a good thing and that we should fund life extension research aggressively and he proposes a feasible and just policy for preventing an overpopulation crisis Aging, Globalization, and Inequality Jan Baars,2006 Focuses on the variety of ways in which age and ageing are socially constructed and the extent to which growing old is being transformed through processes associated with globalisation This book provides the basis for a modern type of critical gerontology relevant to the twenty first century The Science and Technology of Growing Young Sergey Young,2021-08-24 Wall Street Journal USA Today and Publishers Weekly bestseller The prospect of living to 200 years old isn't science fiction anymore A leader in the emerging field of longevity offers his perspective on what cutting edge breakthroughs are on the horizon as well as the practical steps we can take now to live healthily to 100 and beyond In The Science and Technology of Growing Young industry investor and insider Sergey Young demystifies the longevity landscape cutting through the hype and showing readers what they can do now to live better for longer and offering a look into the exciting possibilities that await us By viewing aging as a condition that can be cured we can dramatically revolutionize the field of longevity and make it accessible for everyone Join Sergey as he gathers insights from world leading health entrepreneurs scientists doctors and inventors providing a comprehensive look into the future of longevity in two horizons The Near Horizon of Longevity identifies the technological developments that will allow us to live to 150 some of which are already in use from AI based diagnostics to gene editing and organ regeneration The Far Horizon of Longevity offers a tour of the future of age reversal and the exciting technologies that will allow us to live healthily to 200 from Internet of Bodies to digital avatars to AI brain integration In a bonus chapter Sergey also showcases 10 longevity choices that we already know and can easily implement to live to 100 distilling the science behind diet exercise sleep mental health and our environments into attainable habits and lifestyle hacks that anyone can adopt to vastly improve their lives and workplaces Combining practical advice with an incredible overview of the brave new world to come The Science and Technology of Growing Young redefines what it means to be human and to grow young The 60-Something Crisis Barbara L.
