Nothing Happens In Carmincross:

Nothing Happens in Carmincross Benedict Kiely, 1987-01 At the height of the Troubles Mervyn returns from America to his native Ulster only to find the specter of bombs and political murder hanging over his idyllic Carmincross This is the timely reissue of Benedict Kiely's novel about a land riven by terrorism Benedict Kiely was one of the most celebrated Irish writers of the twentieth century He died in February 2007 Nothing Happens in Carmincross Benedict Kiely, 1985 Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists Tim Woods, 2008-02-21 Taking in novelists from all over the globe from the beginning of the century to the present day this is the most comprehensive survey of the leading lights of twentieth century fiction Superb breadth of coverage and over 800 entries by an international team of contributors ensures that this fascinating and wide ranging work of reference will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in modern fiction Authors included range from Joseph Conrad to Albert Camus and Franz Kafka to Chinua Achebe Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists gives a superb insight into the richness and diversity of the twentieth century novel Riding the Yellow Trolley Car William Kennedy, 2017-01-03 The collected nonfiction of the Pulitzer Prize winning author of Ironweed A great pleasure to read no matter what the subject Library Journal When William Kennedy arrives in Barcelona his guidebook recommends taking the trolley around town but the trolleys haven't run in the city for years He's on his way to interview the novelist Gabriel Garc a M rquez when out of the corner of his eye he sees something impossible a yellow trolley running down the street M rquez however is not surprised like all great writers of both fiction and nonfiction he knows that impossible things happen every day A remarkable collection from one of America's greatest authors Riding the Yellow Trolley Car features work from all stages of Kennedy's career Through each piece runs the thread that ties together his greatest works a love and deep understanding of his hometown the city of Albany New York and the good and evil men who have made it what it is Featuring interviews and essays on some of the most prominent authors of the twentieth century from Saul Bellow and E L Doctorow to Norman Mailer and the legendary Garc a M rquez as well as insightful reflections on topics from baseball to the death of a prominent cat to Kennedy's wife's hiccups Riding the Yellow Trolley Car is an essential book for all those who love to read or live to write In a Harbour Green George O'Brien, 2019-07-29 Novelist short story writer critic memoirist broadcaster and journalist Benedict Kiely 1919-2007 was not only one of the best known but one of the most artistically and culturally distinctive men of letters of his day His fascination with the island of Ireland the myths and memories of its people and the many voiced quality of its traditions has secured for him a unique place in the country's literary history His substantial body of fiction and non fiction is a repository of lore and learning and amply rewards not only the interest shown in it over many years by his popularity among the general public but also that of Irish and international literary scholarship Strangely however despite his renowned reputation and canonical status Kiely remains a writer whose work has generated surprisingly little secondary literature academic or otherwise This charming collection of twelve essays by some of Ireland's foremost writers and esteemed international critics in this his centenary year will breathe new life into Kiely's work and place him back where he belongs at the heart of Irish literature

A History of the Irish Novel Derek Hand, 2011-03-10 Derek Hand's A History of the Irish Novel is a major work of criticism on some of the greatest and most globally recognisable writers of the novel form. Writers such as Laurence Sterne, James Joyce, Elizabeth Bowen, Samuel Beckett and John McGahern have demonstrated the extraordinary intellectual range, thematic complexity and stylistic innovation of Irish fiction. Derek Hand provides a remarkably detailed picture of the Irish novel's emergence in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. He shows the story of the genre is the story of Ireland's troubled relationship to modernisation. The first critical synthesis of the Irish novel from the seventeenth century to the present day, this is a major book for the field and the first to thematically, theoretically and contextually chart its development. It is an essential, entertaining and highly original guide to the history of the Irish novel.

Benedict Kiely Benedict Kiely, 2014-06-27 Selected Stories gathers together some of the best examples of Benedict Kiely's work: a true and gifted man of letters. Edited by Ben Forkner, founder of The Journal of the Short Story. From Soldier Red, Soldier and A Ball of Malt and Madame Butterfly to A Letter to Peachtree, these stories sing in the unforgettable voice of an Irish master who inspired and will continue to inspire generations of readers and writers alike. These stories have a great deal taken from Ben's own experiences both abroad and at home in Ireland. Kiely captures various moments in Irish and American culture, many heavily influenced by his time as a lecturer in Georgia, writer in residence in Virginia and as a reporter for the Irish Press.

Modern Irish Writers Alexander G. Gonzalez, 1997-08-26 While the Irish Literary Revival began around 1885 and ended somewhere between 1925 and 1940, the Irish Renaissance has continued to the present day and shows no sign of abating. The period has produced some of the most important and influential figures in Irish literature, some of whom are counted among the world's greatest authors. The Revival saw a reestablishment of Ireland's literary connections with its Celtic heritage and writers such as William Butler Yeats and Lady Gregory drew heavily on the myths and legends of the past. James Joyce boldly reshaped the novel and wrote short fiction of enduring value. Contemporary Irish writers continue to be leading figures and include such authors as Brian Friel, Seamus Heaney and Eavan Boland. Included in this reference book are alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 modern Irish writers, including Samuel Beckett, William Trevor, Patrick Kavanagh, Medbh McGuckian, Sean O'Casey, J.M. Synge and Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill. Entries are written by expert contributors and reflect a broad range of perspectives. Each entry contains a brief biography that summarizes the author's career, a discussion of major works and themes, an overview of the author's critical reception and a bibliography of primary and secondary works. An introductory essay reviews the large and growing body of scholarship on modern Irish literature, while an extensive bibliography concludes the volume.

Odd Jobs John Updike, 2012-12-04 To complement his work as a fiction writer, John Updike accepted any number of odd jobs: book reviews and introductions, speeches and tributes, a few paragraphs on baseball or beauty or Borges, and saw each as an opportunity to learn something or to extract from within some unsuspected wisdom In this his largest collection of assorted prose he brings generosity and insight to the works and lives of William Dean Howells George Bernard Shaw Philip Roth Muriel Spark and dozens more Novels from outposts of postmodernism like Turkey Albania Israel and Nigeria are reviewed as are biographies of Cleopatra and Dorothy Parker The more than a hundred considerations of books are flanked on one side by short stories a playlet and personal essays and on the other by essays on his own oeuvre Updike's odd jobs would be any other writer's chief work The Oxford Companion to Twentieth-century Literature in English Jenny Stringer,1996 Survey of twentieth century English language writers and writing from around the world celebrating all major genres with entries on literary movements periodicals more than 400 individual works and articles on approximately 2 400 authors New York Magazine ,1985-11-25 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. Conference,2006 The island of Ireland north and south has produced a great diversity of writing in both English and Irish for hundreds of years often using the memories embodied in its competing views of history as a fruitful source of literary inspiration Placing Irish literature in an international context these two volumes explore the connection between Irish history and literature in particular the Rebellion of 1798 in a more comprehensive diverse and multi faceted way than has often been the case in the past The fifty three authors bring their national and personal viewpoints as well as their critical judgements to bear on Irish literature in these stimulating articles The contributions also deal with topics such as Gothic literature ideology and identity as well as gender issues connections with the other arts regional Irish literature in particular that of the city of Limerick translations the works of Joyce and comparisons with the literature of other nations The contributors are all members of IASIL International Association for the Study of Irish Literatures Back to the Present Forward to the Past Irish Writing and History since 1798 will be of interest to both literary scholars and professional historians but also to the general student of Irish writing and Irish culture

Writing Irish James P. Myers, 1999 The 16 interviews with contemporary Irish writers collected here originally appeared in the pages of the Irish Literary Supplement ILS between the years 1984 and 1994 Among the most notable printed in ILS these interviews record the authors perceptions of their own works the process by which those writings came into being and commentary on other writers work Through the dialogue the interviews reveal the passion with which the authors regard literature and their own writing

A Memoir Tim Pat Coogan, 2008-09-23 From the personal to the political this is the much awaited memoir from Tim Pat Coogan Ireland's best known journalist broadcaster historian and bestselling biographer Tim Pat Coogan has not only reported the news he's been the news Through the Irish Press where he served as editor for twenty years he is renowned for bringing social and political change to Ireland He went on to play a vital role in bringing the IRA Sinn Féin to the peace talks table and has always been uniquely placed to comment authoritatively if not controversially on all aspects of Irish current affairs From personal to political his revelatory memoir gives genuine insight into the life and high profile career of a man at the centre of Irish politics and society

The Cambridge Companion to the Irish Novel John Wilson Foster, 2006-12-14 The Irish novel has had a distinguished history It spans such diverse authors as James Joyce George Moore Maria Edgeworth Bram Stoker Flann O'Brien Samuel Beckett Lady Morgan John Banville and others Yet it has until now received less critical attention than Irish poetry and drama This volume covers three hundred years of Irish achievement in fiction with essays on key genres themes and authors It provides critiques of individual works accounts of important novelists and histories of sub genres and allied narrative forms establishing significant social and political contexts for dozens of novels The varied perspectives and emphases by more than a dozen critics and literary historians ensure that the Irish novel receives due tribute for its colour variety and linguistic verve Each chapter features recommended further reading This is the perfect overview for students of the Irish novel from the romances of the seventeenth century to the present day

Storytelling on the Northern Irish Border Ray Cashman, 2011-09-23 A folklorist explores the storytelling traditions of a small Irish town where local character anecdotes build community across sectarian divides More than quaint local color folklore is a crucial part of life in Aghyaran a mixed Catholic Protestant border community in Northern Ireland Neighbors socialize during wakes and ceilis informal nighttime gatherings without regard to religious ethnic or political affiliation The witty sometimes raucous stories swapped on these occasions offer a window into Aghyaran residents views of self and other in the wake of decades of violent conflict Through anecdotes about local characters participants explore the nature of community and identity in ways that transcend Catholic or Protestant sectarian histories Ray Cashman analyzes local character anecdotes in detail and argues that while politicians may take credit for the peace process in Northern Ireland no political progress would be possible without ordinary people using shared resources of storytelling and socializing to imagine and maintain community Irish University Review ,2008 A journal of Irish studies Back to the Present: Forward to the Past, Volume II ,2006-01-01 The island of Ireland north and south has produced a great diversity of writing in both English and Irish for hundreds of years often using the memories embodied in its competing views of history as a fruitful source of literary inspiration Placing Irish literature in an international context these two volumes explore the connection between Irish history and literature in particular the Rebellion of 1798 in a more comprehensive diverse and multi faceted way than has often been the case in the past The fifty three authors bring their national and personal viewpoints as well as their critical judgements to bear on Irish literature in these stimulating articles The contributions also deal with topics such as Gothic literature ideology and identity as well as gender issues connections with the other arts regional Irish literature in particular that of the city of Limerick translations the works of Joyce and comparisons with the literature of other nations The contributors are all members of IASIL International Association for the Study of Irish Literatures Back to the Present Forward to the Past Irish Writing and History since 1798 will be of interest to both literary scholars and professional historians but also to the general student of Irish writing and Irish culture

The Top Books of the Year Nothing Happens In Carmincross The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
