November Violets:

Full of Hope and Fear Margaret Bonfiglioli, James Munson, 2014-07-24 The First World War has survived as part of our national memory in a way no previous war has ever done This collection of letters which lay untouched for almost ninety years allows a unique glimpse into the war as experienced by one family at the time transporting us back to an era which is now slipping tantalizingly out of living memory The Slaters the family at the heart of these letters lived in Oxford Like most families they were both typical and unique Gilbert the father of the family had been head of Ruskin College in Oxford and during the war found work as the first Professor of Indian Economics in Madras His wife Violet grew to detest the war and became an increasingly vocal pacifist as the slaughter continued Owen their eldest son a schoolboy in 1914 was fighting in France by war's end In the letters they wrote to each other and their friends at this time we see how the war increasingly impacted upon each of their lives and the life of the world around them rationing Violet's increasing involvement in radical politics the deaths of friends the fear of Zeppelin raids when in London the endless discussions between Violet and Gilbert about how to keep their son out of the trenches and the growth of Owen from schoolboy to soldier serving as a junior officer on the Western Front Above all in their privacy and immediacy their inconsistencies and false hopes these letters bring us as near as we can ever be to understanding what people thought feared and hoped for during these momentous years Love and Power in the Nineteenth Century Virginia Jeans Laas, 1998-01-01 This fascinating biography of a Gilded Age marriage closely examines the dynamic flow of power control and love between Washington blue blood Violet Blair and New Orleans attorney Albert Janin Based on their voluminous correspondence as well as Violet's extensive diaries it offers a thoroughly intimate portrait of a fifty four year union which in many ways conformed to societal norms yet always redefined itself in order to fit the needs and willfulness of both husband and wife With abundant documentary evidence to draw on Laas ties this compelling story to broader themes of courtship behavior domesticity gender roles extended family bonds elitism and societal stereotyping Deeply researched and beautifully written Love and Power in the Nineteenth Century has the dual virtue of making an important historical contribution while also appealing to a broad popular audience The Ottawa Naturalist ,1900 The Meteorological Record ,1882 A Violet Season Kathy Leonard Czepiel, 2012-07-10 Struggling to survive on a late nineteenth century Hudson Valley violet farm that provides their family little money wet nurse Ida and her beloved daughter Alice make painful sacrifices that set them against each other The Garden ,1906 African Violet Magazine ,2000 Sport and the Color Line Patrick B.
