ENDORSEMENTS Reading Christa Boske s The Time is Now is to find a profound sense of joy wholeness and energy to push out the borders of consciousness too tightly bound to the hyper-rationalism of the workday world grounded in materialism and business transactions. The collected authors in Christa's book give form to the spirit world and its proclivity to allow the whole human being to embrace it, put it in it, explore it, and find themselves in the journey. Artmaking is about self-discovery and emancipation. It's a must-read for anyone who wants to re-establish a belief in themselves and in humanity.

Fenwick W. English, Professor and Department Chair, Ball State University: Read this compelling new resource if you want to engage the next generation of youth activists in transforming our world. Truly, The Time is Now offers school leaders the most exciting creative avenues for generating justice we've seen in a long time. This book rises to the challenge of being real when so much is at stake.

Margaret Grogan, Professor of Educational Leadership Policy, Chapman University: The Time is Now is a profound title that encapsulates so much regarding what we need in today's world. Woven through the various narratives, we accept the invitation to hear the stories of artists and explorers in their respective communities. An authentic confrontation of the many tensions that exist in our quest to seek out equity in the areas of diversity, inclusivity, and lived experiences. Voices that ring of radical change, the reconceptualization of freedom, and the agentive stance we are called to take to realize a higher state of being and a more noble existence. The stories remind us that the dream of transformation is our most compelling force. This book gives us a map of all that is possible if we work together.

Lillian McEnery Benavente, Director and Professor, University of Houston: Christa Boske's edited book The Time is Now provides readers with a profound sense of what it means to live through injustice. The book, though, is not just a collection of heartbreaking stories but a chronicle of triumphs as the previously unheard are finally given a voice through artmaking. In chapter after deeply moving chapter, I was struck by the simultaneous vulnerability and bravery of the artists who shared their stories. What was clear was that artmaking was a form of awakening for the artmakers: awakening to social justice issues, awakening to their ability to connect to the community through art, and even awakening to their own value, which for so many had been wholly unrecognized prior to this experience. This book comes at a time of deep reflection on equity, diversity, and inclusion in our nation, and the stories remind us that our children are absorbing these conversations. They are living these experiences, and their voices are an essential part of the dialogue.

Habeebah R. Grimes, Chief Executive Officer: Because I Was a Girl Melissa de la Cruz, 2017-10-03. Edited by a New York Times bestselling author, this is an inspiring collection of true stories by girls and women ages 10 to 80 about the obstacles, challenges, and opportunities they've faced because of their gender.
