Nuclear Playground:

Nuclear Playground Stewart Firth, 2020-11-19 In the late 1980s it was felt that World War III could start in the Pacific Long regarded by the USA as an American lake the Pacific was now a focus of competition between the superpowers The USSR whose nuclear arms navy was limited to their north Pacific ports now had a major new naval base at Cam Ranh Bay in Vietnam In response to this new threat the Americans were planning more urgently for nuclear war in the Pacific adding to their own mighty arsenal in the region and taunting the Soviets with aggressive surveillance and military exercises The Soviets did the same For 40 years Pacific Islanders have had cause to resent the use of their ocean as a nuclear playground of the five nuclear powers three the USA USSR and China launched missiles into the Pacific for test purposes two the USA and Britain exploded nuclear devices there but had stopped and one France continued to test nuclear bombs in one of its colonies Pacific Islanders now have cause to fear that the ocean is becoming a nuclear battleground Originally published in 1987 this book tells the story of the nuclear men in the Pacific and of those people they displaced and irradiated It is also about what these people and their governments had begun to do in response The nuclear issue had transformed the political landscape of Micronesia and the South Pacific in the 1980s loosening the US grip and making the French increasingly unpopular The people of these remote communities largely forgotten or considered dispensable had a nuclear past made for them Now they want to make their own future Militarized Currents Setsu Shigematsu, Keith L. and many other witnesses to Britain's nuclear folly A Concise History of New Zealand Philippa Mein Smith, 2012-02-06 New Zealand was the last major landmass other than Antarctica to be settled by humans. The story of this rugged and dynamic land is beautifully narrated from its origins in Gondwana some 80 million years ago to the twenty-first century. Philippa Mein Smith highlights the effects of the country's smallness and isolation from its late settlement by Polynesian voyagers and colonisation by Europeans and the exchanges that made these people Maori and Pakeha to the dramatic struggles over land and recent efforts to manage global forces. A Concise History of New Zealand places New Zealand in its global and regional context. It unravels key moments: the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi, the Anzac landing at Gallipoli, the sinking of the Rainbow Warrior, showing their role as nation-building myths and connecting them with the less dramatic forces economic and social that have shaped contemporary New Zealand. Pathways to the Present Mansel G. Blackford, 2018-03-31 Ranging from the Hawaiian Archipelago to the Aleutian Islands from Silicon Valley to Guam, Pathways to the Present is a thoroughly researched and concisely argued account of economic and environmental change in the postwar American Pacific. Following a brief survey of the history of the Pacific, the author takes the Hawaiian Islands as the center of American activities in the region and looks at interactions among native Hawaiian, developmental, military, and environmental issues in the archipelago after World War II. He then turns to land and water use problems that have intersected with more nebulous quality of life concerns to generate policy controversies in the Seattle region and the San Francisco Bay area, especially Silicon Valley. Economic expansion and environmentalism in Alaska are examined through the lens of changes occurring along the Aleutians. From there, the study considers Hiroshima after its destruction by the atomic bomb in 1945, looking at residents' desire to combine urban planning concepts. The author investigates the effort to remake Hiroshima as a high-tech city in the 1990s, an attempt inspired by the perceived success of Silicon Valley and postwar planning on Okinawa, where American influences were particularly strong. The final chapter takes into account issues raised on Guam regarding the growth of tourism and the use of the island for military purposes and links these to developments in the Philippines to the west and American Samoa to the south. International Perspectives on Democratization and Peace Narayanan Ganesan, 2020-10-26 This book examines the concept of peace and the relevance of historical and contextual factors that contribute to peaceful coexistence of people and dives into a deep examination of how democracy furthers peace, especially in conflict-prone countries. Seven case studies illustrate the impact of democratization on transformation and prevention. Atoms and Ashes Serhii Plokhyy, 2022-05-17 A chilling account of more than half a century of nuclear catastrophes by the author of the definitive Economist Cold War history Nuclear Folly. Almost 145,000 Americans fled their homes in and around Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, in late March 1979, hoping to save themselves from an invisible enemy: radiation. The reactor at the nearby Three Mile Island nuclear power plant had gone into partial meltdown, and scientists feared an explosion that could spread radiation throughout the eastern United States. Thankfully, the explosion never took place but the accident left deep scars in the American psyche all but ending the nation's love affair with nuclear power In Atoms and Ashes Serhii Plokhyy recounts the dramatic history of Three Mile Island and five more accidents that have dogged the nuclear industry in its military and civil incarnations the disastrous fallout caused by the testing of the hydrogen bomb in the Bikini Atoll in 1954 the Kyshtym nuclear disaster in the USSR which polluted a good part of the Urals the Windscale fire the worst nuclear accident in the UK's history back to the USSR with Chernobyl the result of a flawed reactor design leading to the exodus of 350 000 people and most recently Fukushima in Japan triggered by an earthquake and a tsunami a disaster on a par with Chernobyl and whose clean up will not take place in our lifetime Through the stories of these six terrifying incidents Plokhyy explores the risks of nuclear power both for military and peaceful purposes while offering a vivid account of how individuals and governments make decisions under extraordinary circumstances Today there are 440 nuclear reactors operating throughout the world with nuclear power providing 10 percent of global electricity Yet as the world seeks to reduce carbon emissions to combat climate change the question arises Just how safe is nuclear energy

Framing the Islands Greg Fry, 2019-10-25 Since its origins in late eighteenth century European thought the idea of placing a regional frame around the Pacific islands has never been just an exercise in geographical mapping This framing has always been a political exercise Contending regional projects and visions have been part of a political struggle concerning how Pacific islanders should live their lives Framing the Islands tells the story of this political struggle and its impact on the regional governance of key issues for the Pacific such as regional development resource management security cultural identity political agency climate change and nuclear involvement It tells this story in the context of a changing world order since the colonial period and of changing politics within the post colonial states of the Pacific Framing the Islands argues that Pacific regionalism has been politically significant for Pacific island states and societies It demonstrates the power associated with the regional arena as a valued site for the negotiation of global ideas and processes around development security and climate change It also demonstrates the political significance associated with the role of Pacific regionalism as a diplomatic bloc in global affairs and as a producer of powerful policy norms attached to funded programs This study also challenges the expectation that Pacific regionalism largely serves hegemonic powers and that small islands states have little diplomatic agency in these contests Pacific islanders have successfully promoted their own powerful normative framings of Oceania in the face of the attempted hegemonic impositions from outside the region seen for example in the strong commitment to the Blue Pacific continent framing as a guiding ideology for the policy work of the Pacific Islands Forum in the face of pressures to become part of Washington's Indo Pacific strategy

Indigenous Transnationalism Lynda Ng, 2018-11-01 After Aboriginal author Alexis Wright's novel Carpentaria won the Miles Franklin Award in 2007 it rapidly achieved the status of a classic The novel is widely read and studied in Australia and overseas and valued for its imaginative power its epic reach and its remarkable use of language Indigenous Transnationalism brings together eight essays by critics from seven different countries each analysing Alexis Wright's novel Carpentaria from a distinct national perspective Taken together these diverse voices highlight themes from the novel that resonate across cultures and continents the primacy of the land the battles that indigenous peoples fight for their language culture and sovereignty a concern with the environment and the effects of pollution At the same time by comparing the Aboriginal experience to that of other indigenous peoples they demonstrate the means by which a transnational approach can highlight resistance to or subversion of national prejudices Confronting Margaret Mead Lenora Foerstel, 1994-07-28 The legendary Margaret Mead changed Americans' views of themselves by relating information collected from remote peoples to our society a society that she did not consider necessarily to be the pinnacle of human development However Mead and her followers have been criticized for promulgating sensationalized and inaccurate images of Melanesian societies including savagery cannibalism and wanton sexuality This book deals with the consequences of such Western condescension Destined to be highly controversial this book for the first time brings a multicultural outlook to bear on Margaret Mead scrutinizing her role and impact on Western anthropology colonialism and strategic and business interests in the South Pacific The contributors most of them avowedly activist supporters of the concept of a nuclear free and independent Pacific include Warilea Iamo Papua New Guinea's first anthropologist John D Waiko Director of the New Guinea Institute of Applied Social and Economic Research Nahau Rooney the daughter of one of Mead's informants and Susanna Ounei a leader of a New Caledonian independence front Author note Lenora Foerstel is an instructor in Ethnohistory at the Maryland College of Art She was a member of the 1953 American Museum of Natural History Expedition to Manus Island led by Dr Margaret Mead Angela Gilliam teaches at Evergreen State College in Olympia Washington She has served as adviser to the Papua New Guinea Permanent Mission to the United Nations on New Caledonia The Routledge Companion to Death and Literature W. Michelle Wang, Daniel Jernigan, Neil Murphy, 2020-12-07 The Routledge Companion to Death and Literature seeks to understand the ways in which literature has engaged deeply with the ever evolving relationship humanity has with its ultimate demise It is the most comprehensive collection in this growing field of study and includes essays by Brian McHale Catherine Belling Ronald Schleifer Helen Swift and Ira Nadel as well as the work of a generation of younger scholars from around the globe who bring valuable transnational insights Encompassing a diverse range of mediums and genres including biography and autobiography documentary drama elegy film the novel and graphic novel opera picturebooks poetry television and more the contributors offer a dynamic mix of approaches that range from expansive perspectives on particular periods and genres to extended analyses of select case studies Essays are included from every major Western period including Classical Middle Ages Renaissance and so on right up to the contemporary This collection provides a telling demonstration of the myriad ways that humanity has learned to live with the inevitability of death where live with itself might mean any number of things from consoling to memorializing to rationalizing to fending off to evading and perhaps most compellingly of all to escaping Engagingly written and drawing on examples from around the world this volume is indispensable to both students and scholars working in the fields of medical humanities thanatography death studies life writing Victorian studies modernist studies narrative contemporary fiction popular culture and more Moving Islands Diana Looser,2021-09-30 A pathbreaking exploration of the international and intercultural connections within Oceanian performance Suburban Empire Lauren Hirshberg,2022-03-15 Suburban Empire takes readers to the US missile base at Kwajalein Atoll in the Marshall Islands at the matrix of postwar US imperial expansion the Cold War nuclear arms race and the tide of anti colonial struggles rippling across the world Hirshberg shows that the displacement of indigenous Marshallese within Kwajalein Atoll mirrors the segregation and spatial politics of the mainland US as local and global iterations of US empire took hold Tracing how Marshall Islanders navigated US military control over their lands Suburban Empire reveals that Cold War era suburbanization was perfectly congruent with US colonization military testing and nuclear fallout The structures of suburban segregation cloaked the destructive history of control and militarism under a veil of small town innocence Food and War in Mid-Twentieth-Century East Asia Katarzyna J. Cwiertka,2016-04-15 War has been both an agent of destruction and a catalyst for innovation These two at first sight contradictory yet mutually constitutive outcomes of war waging are particularly pronounced in twentieth century Asia While 1945 marked the beginning of peaceful recovery for Europe military conflicts continued to play a critical role in the historical development of this part of the world In essence all wars in twentieth century Asia stemmed from the political vacuum that developed after the fall of the Japanese Wartime Empire intricately connecting one region with another Yet they have had often very diverse consequences shattering the homes of some and bringing about affluence to others Disarray of war may halt economic activities and render many aspects of life insignificant The need for food however cannot be ignored and the social action that it requires continues in all circumstances This book documents the effects of war on the lives of ordinary people through the investigation of a variety of connections that developed between war waging and the production distribution preparation and consumption of food throughout Asia since the 1930s The topics addressed range from issues at stake at the time of the conflicts such as provisioning the troops and food rationing and food relief for civilians to long term often surprising consequences of war waging and wartime mobilization of resources on the food systems diets and tastes of the societies involved The main argument of this volume is that war has not been a mere disruption but rather a central force in the social and cultural trajectories of twentieth century Asia Due to its close connection with human nourishment and comfort food stands central in the life of the individual On the other hand owing to its connection with profit and power food plays a critical role in the social and economic organization of a society What happens to food and eating is therefore an important index of change a privileged basis for the exploration of historical processes Spying on the Bomb: American Nuclear

Richelson, 2007-09-17 Spying on the Bomb is an engrossing Wall Street Journal global history of the American led effort to spy on every nation with nuclear ambitions A global history of U S nuclear espionage from its World War II origins to twenty first century threats from rogue states For more than sixty years the United States has monitored friends and foes who seek to develop the ultimate weapon Since 1952 the nuclear club has grown to at least nine nations while others are making serious attempts to join Each chapter of Spying on the Bomb chronologically focuses on the nuclear activities of one or more countries intermingling what the United States believed was happening with accounts of what actually occurred in each country s laboratories test sites and decision making councils Jeffrey T Richelson weaves recently declassified documents into his interviews with the scientists and spies involved in the nuclear espionage Spying on the Bomb reveals new information about U S intelligence work on the Soviet Russian French Chinese Indian Israeli and South African nuclear programs on the attempts to solve the mysterious Vela Incident and on current efforts to uncover the nuclear secrets of Iran and North Korea The book also includes spy satellite photographs never before extracted from the national archives

Ecocriticism of the Global South Scott Slovic, Swarnalatha Rangarajan, Vidya Sarveswaran, 2015-03-24 The vast majority of existing ecocritical studies even those which espouse the postcolonial ecocritical perspective operate within a first world sensibility speaking on behalf of subalternized human communities and degraded landscapes without actually eliciting the voices of the impacted communities Ecocriticism of the Global South seeks to allow scholars from or intimately familiar with underrepresented regions to write back to the world s centers of political and military and economic power expressing views of the intersections of nature and culture from the perspective of developing countries This approach highlights what activist and writer Vandana Shiva has described as the relationship between ecology and the politics of survival showing both commonalities and local idiosyncrasies by juxtaposing such countries as China and Northern Ireland New Zealand and Cameroon Much like Ecoambiguity Community and Development this new book is devoted to representing diverse and innovative ecocritical voices from throughout the world particularly from developing nations The two volumes complement each other by pointing out the need for further cultivation of the environmental humanities in regions of the world that are essentially the front line of the human struggle to invent sustainable and just civilizations on an imperiled planet

Imagining Disarmament, Enchanting International Relations Matthew Breay Bolton, 2019-06-25 This book explores the global politics of disarmament through emerging international relations IR theories of discourse and imagination Each chapter reflects on an aspect of contemporary activism on weapons through an analogous story from literary tradition Shahrazade convenor of the 1001 Nights offers a potent metaphor for the humanitarian advocacy seeking to moderate the behaviour of violent people The author reads Don Quixote in Cambodia s minefields reflects on Lysistrata at Greenham Common and considers how tropes in The Tempest were enrolled in both Pacific nuclear testing and efforts to resist it The book draws on ethnographic fieldwork in communities affected by weapons and disarmament advocacy at the UN and calls for a re enchantment of IR alive to affect ritual and myth
