Nuclear Weapons And Arms Control In South Asia After The Test Ban:

Nuclear Weapons and Arms Control in South Asia After the Test Ban Eric H. Arnett, 1998 As the nuclear weapon states continue to reduce their nuclear arsenals and international efforts to prevent the proliferation of nuclear weapons are reinvigorated South Asia remains a unique region almost entirely unencumbered by nuclear arms control Despite the recent popularity of the notion that nuclear deterrence is stabilizing the Indo Pakistani conflict there is good reason to believe that the risks of war and the use of nuclear weapons are not fully appreciated Nevertheless the prospects for negotiated measures to improve the situation are not good because of the domestic politics on both sides Nuclear Weapons and Arms Control in South Asia after the Test Ban sheds new light on the risks of the current stand off the hidden costs of the nuclear options and the domestic sources of the region's inertia bringing together Indian Pakistani and Chinese perspectives South Asian

Security and International Nuclear Order Mario Esteban Carranza, 2016-04-01 Mario Carranza studies in depth the linkages between Indo Pakistani nuclear relations and the International Nuclear Order He critically analyzes the de facto recognition by the United States of India and Pakistan as nuclear weapon states and looks at the impact of that recognition on the International Nuclear Order and its linchpin the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty NPT The book provides a critical analysis of the New International Nuclear Order sponsored by the United States after the September 11 terrorist attacks and the place of India and Pakistan in that order The author considers the survival of India and Pakistan in relation to a strategy of nuclear deterrence and debates the possibility of establishing a robust nuclear arms control regime in South Asia as part of a broader effort to revive global nuclear arms control and disarmament negotiations Nuclear Deterrence in Southern Asia Arpit Rajain, 2005-05 This important and topical book examines the triangular relationship of China India and Pakistan through the prism of nuclear deterrence The author highlights the interplay and role of strategic culture nuclear weaponisation and deployment command and control arms control non state actors and foreign policy issues which affect relations between the three countries With two main purposes a conceptual investigation into the notion of deterrence and a study of the theory and practice of limited war this book addresses the strategic political and military dimensions of the role of nuclear weapons through examples of the only cases of nuclear weapon states having gone into armed conflict the Cuban missile crisis the Ussuri river clashes and the Kargil conflict discusses the various pressures exerted on decision makers in the context of the notions of deterrence the rational deterrence model and a limited war under a nuclear umbrella evaluates all three countries with regard to their strategic culture the role of nuclear weapons in their military strategy the nature of public opinion and political rhetoric responses to the various arms control treaties and foreign policy choices Based on a variety of sources including interviews with key individuals in various sectors this is the first book length study of the triangular relationship between China India and Pakistan Nuclear Risk Reduction in South Asia Michael

Krepon, 2004-11-26 The essays in this collection explore and analyze how to reduce the risk of nuclear war in South Asia

Contributors work to introduce the theory and methodology of nuclear risk reduction to provide specific measures that might work best in the region and to consider the consequences of missile defense options for stability in Asia. Much work is needed to reduce nuclear dangers between India and Pakistan. While the fact that both countries possess nuclear weapons may prevent a full blown conventional or nuclear war, the presence of these weapons in the region may also encourage the use of violence at lower levels, expecting escalation to be contained by a mutual desire to avoid the nuclear threshold. One only needs to look at the Kashmir conflict for confirmation of this paradox, with serious crises coming more frequently with more severity since the nuclear tests of 1998. Sustained efforts along the line suggested by the contributors of this volume are a crucial step toward reducing nuclear risk on the Subcontinent. Historical Dictionary of Arms Control and Disarmament Jeffrey A. Larsen, James M. Smith, 2005-03-25. Historical Dictionary of Arms Control and Disarmament also provides information that is comprehensible to all readers. Jeffrey A. Larsen and James M. Smith present a context for the broader range of international relations at a given point in time, extending the utility of the dictionary beyond just a narrow examination of arms control. BOOK JACKET India's Nuclear Diplomacy After Pokhran II Ajai K. Rai, 2009. India's emergence as a confident and responsible nuclear nation has required careful crafting of its nuclear policies. After Pokhran II and the Chagai Hills tests, the South Asian security architecture and with it the whole matrix of nuclear diplomacy had undergone a paradigmatic shift. India's nuclear diplomacy too acquired a new prominence after these events. It was important for India to improve its bilateral relations with major powers for strategic reasons. At the same time, it needed to address the challenge of its burgeoning energy needs at home. India's Nuclear Diplomacy After Pokhran II presents an analytical perspective based on narrative exposition of the facts and issues involved in international nuclear gamesmanship, taking every care to maintain objectivity and balance. Flowing from years of intensive research and reflection, this book breaks new ground by focusing on India's nuclear diplomacy with the major global and regional powers and the rationale of its stand vis-à-vis the NPT and CTBT. To reach out to the general reader in addition to scholars of the subject, this book unravels the intricacies and technicalities of the post-Pokhran II diplomacy in lucid and comprehensible phraseology. India's Emerging Nuclear Posture Ashley J. Tellis, 2001. This book brings together the many pieces of India's nuclear puzzle and the ramifications for South Asia. The author examines the choices facing India from New Delhi's point of view in order to discern which future courses of action appear most appealing to Indian security managers. He details how such choices, if acted upon, would affect U.S. strategic interests, India's neighbors, and the world. BOOK JACKET The India-Pakistan Nuclear Relationship E. Sridharan, 2020-11-29. Conflict resolution and promotion of regional cooperation in South Asia has assumed a new urgency in the aftermath of the nuclear tests by India and Pakistan in 1998 and underlined by the outbreak of fighting in Kargil in 1999, full mobilization on the border during most of 2002, and continued low intensity warfare and terrorism in Jammu and Kashmir. The stability of nuclear deterrence between the two countries is therefore a matter of great urgency and has found a place on the scholarly agenda of security studies in South Asia. Several books have been written on India's nuclear programme but these have been mostly analytical histories. The India Pakistan Nuclear Relationship is a new departure in that it is the first time that a group of scholars from the South Asian subcontinent have collectively tried to apply deterrence theory and international relations theory to South Asia. Perception, Politics and Security in South Asia P R Chari, Pervaiz Iqbal Cheema, Stephen P Cohen, 2003-09-02. This book provides a detailed examination of the compound crisis between India and Pakistan that brought the region to the brink of a nuclear war in 1990. Placing the crisis in the context of concurrent international events such as the fall of the Soviet Union, the authors draw out the lesson for present day South Asian affairs. The book also makes a significant contribution to the debates on the role of nuclear weapons confidence and security building strategies and the place of ethnicity in contemporary international relations. India's Nuclear Bomb and National Security Karsten Frey, 2007-01-24. Karsten Frey gives an analytic account of the dynamics of India's nuclear build up putting forward a new comprehensive model which goes beyond the classic strategic model of accepting motives of arming behaviour and incorporates the dynamics in India's nuclear programme. Asian Yearbook of International Law, Volume 8 (1998-1999) B.S. Chimni, Sik Ko Swan, Masahiro Miyoshi, M.C.W. Pinto, Surya Subedi, 2020-01-29. The Asian Yearbook of International Law is a major refereed publication dedicated to international law issues as seen primarily from an Asian perspective. This is the first publication of its kind edited by a team of leading international law scholars from across Asia. The Asian Yearbook of International Law provides a forum for the publication of articles in the field of international law and other Asian international law topics written by experts from the region and elsewhere. Its aim is twofold: to promote international law in Asia and to provide an intellectual platform for the discussion and dissemination of Asian views and practices on contemporary international legal issues. As a rule, each volume of the Asian Yearbook normally contains articles, notes, a section on State practice, an overview of the participation of Asian countries in multilateral treaties, a chronicle of events and incidents, surveys of the activities of international organizations which have special relevance to Asia, such as a survey of the activities of the Asian African Legal Consultative Committee, and book review, bibliography and documents sections. India's Nuclear Diplomacy: Rai, 2009. India's Nuclear Diplomacy After Pokhran II presents an analytical perspective based on a narrative exposition of the facts and issues involved in international nuclear gamesmanship, taking every care to maintain objectivity and balance. This book breaks new ground by focusing on India's nuclear diplomacy with the major global and regional powers and the rationale of its stand vis-à-vis the NPT and CTBT. It unravels the intricacies and technicalities of the post Pokhran II diplomacy in lucid and comprehensible phraseology. Shaping the Emerging World Waheguru Pal Singh Sidhu, Pratap Bhanu Mehta, Bruce D. Jones, 2013-08-01. India faces a defining period. Its status as a global power is not only recognized but increasingly institutionalized even as geopolitical shifts create both opportunities and challenges. With critical interests in almost every multilateral regime and vital stakes in emerging ones India has no choice but to influence the evolving multilateral order If India seeks to affect the multilateral order how will it do so In the past it had little choice but to be content with rule taking adhering to existing international norms and institutions Will it now focus on rule breaking challenging the present order primarily for effect and seeking greater accommodation in existing institutions Or will it focus on rule shaping contributing in partnership with others to shape emerging norms and regimes particularly on energy food climate oceans and cyber security And how do India s troubled neighborhood complex domestic politics and limited capacity inhibit its rule shaping ability Despite limitations India increasingly has the ideas people and tools to shape the global order in the words of Jawaharlal Nehru not wholly or in full measure but very substantially Will India emerge as one of the shapers of the emerging international order This volume seeks to answer that question Engaging India Gary K. Bertsch, Seema Gahlaut, Anupam Srivastava, 1999-07-12 Recent nuclear tests in India and Pakistan make it clear that the US can no longer continue a policy of benign neglect toward India This book engages the key issues for nonproliferation and foreign policy that affect Indo American relations It addresses under explored areas such as missile control and space cooperation chemical and biological weapons and the use of sanctions versus incentives This book goes beyond historical analysis to offer practical recommendations for policymakers in both countries Security Community in South Asia Muhammad Shoaib Pervez, 2013 The security relationship between India and Pakistan is generally viewed through a neo realist lens This book explains the rivalry of these countries by looking at the socio cultural norms at two levels and discusses a hypothetical security community that could result in peace in the region
