Nuclear Terrorism Rethinking The Unthinkable:

Nuclear Terrorism Robert W. Marrs, 2004-09 Many policymakers and scholars contend that nuclear weapons remain inaccessible to terrorists and that nuclear means are inconsistent with or disproportionate to their goals Nevertheless the historical pattern of nuclear proliferation suggests a trend toward nonstate actor acquisition a notion supported by recent developments in the black market Additional evidence suggests that some specific groups have expressed an interest in nuclear weapons This thesis proposes that there is a terrorist demand for nuclear weapons Further its findings suggest that the possibility of terrorist acquisition has grown and that these nonstate adversaries will enjoy significant advantage over states during nuclear crisis Terrorists like states pursue political objectives and have similar concerns regarding power and security Lacking state resources terrorists employ instrumental targeting in pursuit of those objectives while remaining relatively invulnerable to retaliation This dynamic will encourage terrorists to acquire and exploit nuclear potential thereby overturning traditional theories of deterrence Wishful thinking about nuclear terrorism has discouraged thoughtful analysis of this dilemma The prospect is sufficiently dire that a preventive campaign must be launched to stop terrorist acquisition of nuclear capabilities Policymakers must also prepare for the possible failure of preventive efforts and search for options that may mitigate nuclear terrorism

Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA.,1995 Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1997 The Logic of Nuclear Terror Roman Kolkowicz,2020-11-19 Originally published in 1987 The Logic of Nuclear Terror presented a much needed critical review of the premises concepts and policy prescriptions of deterrence theories and doctrines at the time In particular authors address the historical validity theoretical vitality and policy relevance of nuclear deterrence theories and doctrines the ways in which technological and political change have affected the original concepts of nuclear war and deterrence strategies and the ways in which such changes have affected policy and doctrine and realistic alternative ways of thinking about strategy in the changing context of new military technologies and international politics The outstanding group of international contributors to this volume include both proponents and critics of current doctrine The result is an unusually well balanced and unique contribution to our understanding of nuclear deterrence theory and practice As such it will be of interest to students policymakers and teachers of international relations defense and foreign policy US Soviet relations and arms control and disarmament Fatal Future? Richard M. Pearlstein,2009-06-03 The nature and goals of terrorist organizations have changed profoundly since the Cold War standoff among the U S Soviet and Chinese superpowers gave way to the current polyplex global system in which the old rules of international engagement have been shattered by a new struggle for power among established states non state actors and emerging nations In this confusing state of global disorder terrorist organizations that are privately funded and highly flexible have become capable of carrying out incredibly destructive attacks anywhere in the world in support of a wide array of political religious and ethnic causes This groundbreaking book examines the evolution of terrorism in the context of the new global disorder Richard M Pearlstein categorizes three generations of terrorist organizations and shows how each arose in response to the global conditions of its time Focusing extensively on today's transnational i e privately funded and internationally operating terrorist organizations he devotes thorough attention to the two most virulent types ethnoterrorism and radical Islamic terrorism He also discusses the terrorist race for weapons of mass destruction and the types of attacks including cyberterrorism that are likely to occur in coming years Pearlstein concludes with a thought provoking assessment of the many efforts to combat transnational terrorism in the post September 11 period India and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Regime A. War Scare Peter Pry, 1999-09-30 Why do some American intelligence officials maintain fallout shelters and private contingency plans to evacuate their families in the event of a Russian nuclear strike even in today's post Cold War era of U S Russian partnership The frightening answer lies within the pages of War Scare a terrifying assessment of the prospect for nuclear holocaust in our day Written by Peter Vincent Pry a former CIA military analyst War Scare provides a history of our country's little known brushes with nuclear war and warns that contrary to popular opinion and the assurances of our political leaders the possibility of a Russian attack still exists Nuclear deterrence has been the foundation of Western security for the last 50 years but since the end of the Cold War Russian military doctrine has become more destabilizing and much more dangerous than is commonly believed By making use of a wealth of declassified and unclassified material Dr Pry illustrates how Russia's brutal past continues to shape the consciousness and decision making of its leaders many of whom are unreconstructed ideologues from the old Soviet regime Gripped by a perpetual perception of imminent threat a war scare the Russian General Staff which controls the technical capability of launching a nuclear strike has shown itself to be unstable at best The author explores recent history and near disasters such as the Bosnian crisis the Norway missile incident and U S air strikes on Iraq from the perspective of the Russian General Staff believing that only by understanding their viewpoint can we minimize the risk of unintentionally provoking a deadly attack Wary of NATO expansion and reeling from the Russian economy's descent into chaos the General Staff may interpret Western military exercises and operations in the Middle East and elsewhere as concealing surprise aggression against Russia This is a grave situation indeed as even after the START I II and III agreements Russia will retain enough nuclear weapons to destroy the world not to mention significantly expanded chemical and biological warfare capability War Scare convincingly shows that we ignore these facts at our peril

Rethinking Global Security Andrew Martin, Patrice Petro, 2006 In Rethinking Global Security Andrew Martin and Patrice Petro bring together ten path breaking essays that explore the ways that our notions of fear insecurity and danger are fostered by intermediary sources such as television radio film satellite imaging and the Internet The contributors who represent a wide variety of disciplines including communications art history media studies women's studies and literature show how both fictional and fact based threats to global security have helped to create and sustain a culture that is deeply distrustful of images stories reports and policy decisions Topics range from the Patriot Act to the censorship of media personalities such as Howard Stern to the role that Buffy the Vampire Slayer and other television programming play as an interpretative frame for current events The Future of the Jews Stuart E. Eizenstat, 2012-05-03 In The Future of the Jews Stuart E Eizenstat a senior diplomat of international reputation surveys the major geopolitical economic and security challenges facing the world in general and the Jewish world and the United States in particular These forces include the shift of power and influence from the United States and Europe to the emerging powers in Asia and Latin America globalization and the new information age the battle for the direction of the Muslim world nontraditional security threats changing demographics which pose a particular challenge for Jews worldwide and the rise of a new anti-Semitism that seeks to delegitimize Israel as a Jewish state He also discusses the enduring nature of and challenges to the strategic alliance between the United States and Israel Eizenstat's provocative analysis will be of interest to everyone concerned about the future of Jews worldwide and in Israel and the United States role in a world that is confronting unprecedented simultaneous cataclysmic changes

The Future of the Jews Stuart Eizenstat, 2014-07-02 In The Future of the Jews Stuart E. Seeking Truth in a Country of Lies Edward Curtin, 2020-10-01 Seeking Truth in a Country of Lies is a dazzling journey into the heart of many issues political philosophical and personal that should concern us all Ed Curtin has the touch of the poet and the eye of an eagle ROBERT F. KENNEDY JR. A powerful exposé of the CIA and our secret state Curtin is a passionate long-time reform advocate his stories will rouse your heart OLIVER STONE filmmaker writer and director Seeking Truth in A Country of Lies is a collection of lyrical and critical essays offering keen insight into a very wide range of topics from probing analyses related to work the digital revolution propaganda the attacks of September 11 2001 the CIA government assassinations and wars to spellbinding reflections on poetry nature time and even silence Following in the path of such earlier celebrated essayists as Thoreau and John Berger Curtin's critique is at once political social cultural and deeply personal Constructed over a broad swath of time these essays address some of the most significant events in world history shining shafts of brilliant light on abhorrent matters long unspeakable Reading Curtin is akin to taking a walk in the woods with a good friend who gradually unrolls a stunning life-changing revelation where having started out with a particular destination in mind one is then lured ever onwards into diverging paths another after another until as the compass finally turns one gently back toward home that sanctuary no longer looks the same A restless wonderment has been aroused dots are connected and a comprehensive picture emerges Here s but a taste The morning star welcomed me The sun rose majestically And across my window three early flies jitterbug in the first light The whole earth is conspiring to explode with life and seeking our assent Most suicides die of natural causes slowly and in silence Rub Lucifer the Prince of Darkness the right way and the CIA emerges into the light and his acerbic twist updating Robert Frost to contemporary context Two roads diverged in a yellow wood and I took the one to the mall The power of Curtin s essays lies in their capacity to evoke in the reader the exhilaration and passion for truth that the writer felt when writing them that the writer hoped would be carried into the world as rebellion against propaganda war and injustice Air University Review ,1990
