Playhouse Creatures A Play:

Playhouse Creatures April De Angelis, 1994 Playhouse Creatures April De Angelis, 2013 Playhouse Creatures is set in the 1660s when theatres have just reopened and focuses on the precarious lives of five famous restoration actresses. It was first performed at the Old Vic Theatre London in September 1997.

Lives in Play Ryan Claycomb, 2012-08-08 Lives in Play explores the centrality of life narratives to women's drama and performance from the 1970s to the present moment. In the early days of second wave feminism the slogan was 'The personal is the political'. These autobiographical and biographical true stories have the political impact of the real and have also helped a range of feminists tease out the more complicated aspects of gender, sex and sexuality in a Western culture that now imagines itself to be postfeminist. The book covers a broad range of texts and performances from performance artists like Karen Finley, Holly Hughes and Bobby Baker to playwrights like Suzan Lori Parks, Maria Irene Fornes and Sarah Kane. The book examines biography and autobiography together to link their narrative tactics and theatrical approaches and show the persistent and important uses of life writing strategies for theater artists committed to advancing women's rights and remaking women's representations. Lives in Play argues that these writers and artists have not only responded to the vibrant conversations in feminist theory but also have anticipated and advanced these ideas, theorizing gender onstage for specific ends. Ryan Claycomb demonstrates how these performances work through tensions between performative identity and the essentialized body, between the truth value of life stories and the constructed nature of gender and narrative alike, and between writing and performing as modes of feminist representation. The book will appeal to scholars in performance studies, women's studies and literature, including those in the growing field of auto biography studies.

Our Betty Liz Smith, 2008-09-04 Liz Smith once called the nation's favourite fictional grandmother a familiar face to all TV and cinema viewers. She is most often recognised for her role of Nana in The Royle Family and has appeared in numerous productions over the years. OUR BETTY is Liz's life story from her cosseted yet lonely childhood with her beloved grandparents, her mother died giving birth to Liz's stillborn sibling through the war, with the WRENS marriage and children divorce and poverty, long years working in dead end jobs such as in a plastic bag factory until her heavenly escape of evening acting classes provided the chance for a career. While working at Hamley's one Christmas I was one of those tiresome people who stop you and beg you to try samples of this and that, she received a phone call from a young director who wanted to make an improvised film. His name was Mike Leigh and the film Bleak Moments. From that point when Liz was 50 her career took off and she has worked with some of the most famous names in the entertainment business. OUR BETTY is like its author, original, amusing and fascinating, on the struggles, hopes and successes endemic of a life in front of the camera.
