Donovan

Pledge Of Hatred:

Pledge of Hatred André, Alix, 1981 Hatred Berit Brogaard, 2020-10-20 Hatred is often considered the opposite of love but in many ways is much more complicated It also may be considered one of the dominant emotions of our time as individuals groups and even nations express or enact hatred to varying degrees What is hatred Where does it come from and what does it reveal about the hater And is hatred always a bad thing Brogaard makes a deep dive into the moral psychology of one of our most complex and vivid emotions She explores how hatred arises between people and among groups She also shows how hate like anger can sometimes be appropriate and fitting Other other questions she addresses are how does hate differ from anger disgust fear and other related emotions Is fear an essential part of hatred How does hatred affect what happens inside the brain How did hate evolve in human history Is hatred ever morally justified Can you hate and love at the same time Can one hate oneself How do implicit biases trigger hatred of groups This accessible timely and novel look at an underexplored emotion will employ examples from current events as well as art and literature and popular culture

Landscapes of Hate Edward Hall, John Clayton, Catherine Donovan, 2024-03-12 Providing a much needed perspective on exclusion and discrimination this book offers a distinct spatial approach to the topic of hate studies Of interest to academics and students of human geography criminology sociology and beyond the book highlights enduring diverse and uneven experiences of hate in contemporary society The collection explores the intersecting experiences of those targeted on the basis of assumed and historically marginalized identities It illustrates the role of specific spaces and places in shaping hate why space matters for how hate is encountered and the importance of space in challenging cultures of hate This analysis of who is able to use or abuse space offers a novel insight into discourses of hate and lived experiences of victimization

Killing Enmity Thomas R. Yoder Neufeld, 2011-06-01 Is the New Testament inherently violent In this book a well regarded New Testament scholar offers a balanced critical assessment of charges and claims that the Christian scriptures encode instigate or justify violence Thomas Yoder Neufeld provides a useful introduction to the language of violence in current theological discourse and surveys a wide range of key ethical New Testament texts through the lens of violence nonviolence He makes the case that contrary to much scholarly opinion the New Testament is not in itself inherently violent or supportive of violence instead it rejects and overcomes violence Published in the UK by SPCK as Jesus and the Subversion of Violence Wrestling with the New Testament Evidence Saint Genet Jean-Paul Sartre, 2012-02-01 The remarkable and controversial study of the mind life and legend of Jean Genet The Politics of Hate Speech Laws Alexander

Brown, Adriana Sinclair, 2019-09-18 This book examines the complex relationship between politics and hate speech laws domestic and international How do political contexts shape understandings of what hate speech is and how to deal with it Why do particular states enact hate speech laws and then apply extend or reform them in the ways they do What part does hate speech play in international affairs Why do some but not all states negotiate agree and ratify international hate speech frameworks or instruments What are some of the best and worst political arguments for and against hate speech laws Do political figures have special moral duties to refrain from hate speech Should the use of hate speech by political figures be protected by parliamentary privilege Should this sort of hyperpolitical hate speech be subject to the laws of the land civil and criminal Or should it instead be handled by parliamentary codes of conduct and procedures or even by political parties themselves What should the codes of conduct look like Brown and Sinclair answer these important and overlooked questions on the politics of hate speech laws providing a substantial body of new evidence insights arguments theories and practical recommendations The primary focus is on the UK and the US but several other country contexts are also explored and compared in detail including Nigeria Kenya South Africa India China Japan Turkey Germany Hungary and Italy Methodologically the two authors draw on approaches and concepts from a range of academic disciplines including law and legal theory political theory applied ethics political science and sociology international relations theory and international law

Hate Crimes Barbara Krasner, 2017-07-15 Few would argue that a violent attack motivated by negative feelings towards the victim's race ethnicity religion or sexual orientation is a hate crime But should a hate motivated crime be punished differently than the same crime committed for a different motive What if the crime is verbal a slur or a ranting blog post or a graffiti scrawl These may be hateful but are they hate crimes And how should they be punished Are hate crimes on the rise or are media attention and greater sensitivity to the issue making it appear so These and other questions are at the center of this thought provoking collection of articles drawn from across the political spectrum and the globe Spaces of Hate Colin Flint, 2013-10-18 While much has been written about hate groups and extreme right political movements this book will be the first that addresses the crucial role that place and context play in generating and shaping them Ranging across geographical scales the essays start with the home and then move from the local to the regional to the national to finally the global In this collection much of the focus is on the U S as the contributors consider a variety of hate activity and hate groups across the country including rural white supremacist and neo Nazi movements anti black sentiment directed towards cities anti gay activity in cities and rural areas and the resurgent Southern nationalist movement Closing with pieces from those who combat hate activity the intention of Spaces of Hate is to recognize specific geographic settings likely to foster hate activity
