M.

Hutchinson, 2018-04-26 Plotinus is the first Greek philosopher to hold a systematic theory of consciousness The key feature of his theory is that it involves multiple layers of experience different layers of consciousness occur in different levels of self This layering of higher modes of consciousness on lower ones provides human beings with a rich experiential world and enables human beings to draw on their own experience to investigate their true self and the nature of reality This involves a robust notion of subjectivity However it is a notion of subjectivity that is unique to Plotinus and remarkably different from the Post Cartesian tradition Behind the plurality of terms Plotinus uses to express consciousness and behind the plurality of entities to which Plotinus attributes consciousness such as the divine souls and the hypostases lies a theory of human consciousness It is a Platonist theory shaped by engagement with rival schools of ancient thought The Concept of Body in

Judaism, Christianity and Islam Christoph Böttigheimer, Konstantin Kamp, 2023-12-18 This volume of the series Key Concepts in Interreligious Discourses investigates the roots of the concept of body in Judaism Christianity and Islam The Body and being a created being stands in the focus of all the three major monotheistic faiths It is not just by the Christian idea of man's likeness to God that indicates that the human body is a central object of religious thinking both culturally and theologically charged Here the body stands in the crossfire of terms like pure and unpure sacred and profane male and female And besides the theological controversies everyday experiences like sexuality gender equality and how to dispose of the own body and that of others are undoubtedly recent and highly contentious discussion points in the debate of a peaceful living together of different religions and cultures The volume presents the concept of body in its different aspects as anchored in the traditions of Judaism Christianity and Islam It unfolds commonalities and differences between the three monotheistic religions as well as the manifold discourses about peace within these three traditions The book offers fundamental knowledge about the specific understanding of the body in each one of these traditions their interdependencies and their relationship to secular world views

The Spirit in Romans 8 Marcin Kowalski, 2023-12-04 Kowalski addresses the Pauline understanding of the Spirit in Romans 8 as compared to the Stoic idea of pneuma The author first analyzes the Stoic views on pneuma perceived in a variety of life giving cognitive ethical unifying reproductive and inspiring functions The aforementioned features are taken as a starting point for the comparison with Paul to which however the third element is added the Jewish texts of the Second Temple period These include the Old Testament but also The Book of Enoch The Book of Jubilees Qumran The Testaments of the Twelve Patriarchs The Psalms of Solomon Philo of Alexandria Flavius Josephus LAB Joseph and Aseneth 4 Book of Ezra and 2 Book of Baruch Such a rich comparative material contributes to the novelty of the book and enables the reader to discover both the similarities and differences between Paul Greco Roman and Jewish authors The study analyzes Romans 8 in its rhetorical context and brings to light the novelty of the Pauline view of the Spirit The apostle portrays it in its primary cognitive ethical and communitarian function of making the believers similar to Christ and inculcating in them the Lord's mindset and attitudes Paul presents the Spirit as dwelling within a person similarly to God inhabiting the Jerusalem temple and as the mediator of the resurrected life In the original Pauline take the Spirit enables a close union between God and human beings in which the latter keep their freedom and distinctive personal traits

Phantasmatic Shakespeare Suparna Roychoudhury, 2018-10-15 Representations of the mind have a central place in Shakespeare's artistic imagination as we see in Bottom struggling to articulate his dream Macbeth reaching for a dagger that is not there and Prospero humbling his enemies with spectacular illusions Phantasmatic Shakespeare examines the intersection between early modern literature and early modern understandings of the mind's ability to perceive and imagine Suparna Roychoudhury argues that Shakespeare's portrayal of the imagination participates in sixteenth century psychological discourse and reflects also how fields of anatomy medicine mathematics and natural history jolted and reshaped conceptions of mentality Although the new sciences did not displace the older psychology of phantasms they inflected how Renaissance natural philosophers and physicians thought and wrote about the brain's image making faculty The many hallucinations illusions and dreams scattered throughout Shakespeare's works exploit this epistemological ferment deriving their complexity from the ambiguities raised by early modern science Phantasmatic Shakespeare considers aspects of imagination that were destabilized during Shakespeare's period its place in the brain its legitimacy as a form of knowledge its pathologies its relation to matter light and nature reading these in concert with canonical works such as King Lear Macbeth and The Tempest Shakespeare Roychoudhury shows was influenced by paradigmatic epistemic shifts of his time and he in turn demonstrated how the mysteries of cognition could be the subject of powerful art     The Word Made Self Thomas J. Seifrid, 2018-07-05 When Osip Mandelstam wrote that the Russian word was sentient and breathing flesh he voiced one of the most powerful themes in his culture In The Word Made Self Thomas Seifrid explores this Russian fascination with the power of the word as expressed in the work of philosophers theologians and artists of the Silver Age and early Soviet period He shows that their diverse works poems novels philosophical and religious tracts share an attempt to articulate a model of selfhood within the phenomenon of language The thinkers included in this book among them Pavel Florenskii Roman Jakobson Aleksei Losev and Gustav Shpet frequently responded to the work of contemporary European philosophers even as they drew upon and revitalized powerful elements of early Russian religious thought On Seifrid's view this highly original body of writing about language was the essential context for the development of Russian Futurism Formalism and the work of Mikhail Bakhtin and the Soviet structuralists movements and ideas whose influence has extended far beyond Russia and long past their years of efflorescence This book will have a lasting impact among readers who will be fascinated to discover the richness of this long suppressed chapter in the history of Russian culture     The Word Made Self Thomas Seifrid, 2005 When Osip Mandelstam wrote that the Russian word was sentient and breathing flesh he voiced one of the most powerful themes in his culture In The Word Made Self Thomas Seifrid explores this Russian fascination with the power of the word as expressed in the work of philosophers theologians and artists of the Silver Age and early Soviet period He shows that their diverse works poems novels philosophical and religious tracts share an attempt to articulate a model of selfhood within the phenomenon of language The thinkers included in this book among them Pavel Florenskii Roman Jakobson Aleksei Losev and Gustav Shpet frequently responded to the work of contemporary European philosophers even as they drew upon and revitalized powerful elements of early Russian religious thought On Seifrid's view this highly original body of writing about language was the essential context for the development of Russian Futurism Formalism and the work of Mikhail Bakhtin and the Soviet structuralists movements and ideas whose influence has extended far beyond Russia and long past their years of efflorescence This book will have a lasting impact among readers who will be fascinated to discover the richness of this long suppressed chapter in the history of Russian culture      Cusanus Today David Albertson, 2024-06 At the end of the nineteenth century German theologians and philosophers rediscovered the Renaissance cardinal Nicholas of Cusa 1401 1464 Immediately they hailed Cusanus as the first modern thinker a brilliant German rival to the French Descartes But since the founding of the Cusanus critical edition in 1927 up to its conclusion in 2005 historians have gradually learned that Nicholas was more of a medieval preacher and contemplative than a modern philosopher Yet over the same century modern German and French readers were already digging into Nicholas's many works There they encountered an exciting voice with fresh perspectives about God's immanence in the cosmos and the awesome capacities of the human mind Leading philosophers and theologians from Erich Przywara to Karl Jaspers to Hans Georg Gadamer and from Gilles Deleuze to Jacques Lacan to Michel de Certeau found their own thinking stimulated by the cardinal's innovative concepts and interdisciplinary style Even as Nicholas shifted from modern to medieval among historians he was emerging as a contemporary interlocutor for moderns and postmoderns Who could have guessed that the first debate between Jean Luc Marion and Emmanuel Falque would take place over the fifteenth century mystical dialogue De visione dei If Meister Eckhart found his moment amidst Deconstruction in prior decades Nicholas of Cusa is our thinker for today His interests anticipate themes in continental philosophy of religion whether alterity invisibility the fold or the icon His habit of interweaving philosophy and theology anticipates current debates on the thresholds of phenomenology Our volume first maps the contours of modern receptions of Nicholas of Cusa in French and German spheres and then beyond Europe to the Americas and Japan It also hosts the next round of engagement by some of today's most original Christian thinkers Emmanuel Falque John Milbank and David Bentley Hart      After Taste.

Critique of insufficient reason Slavko Kacunko, 2021-06-02 After Taste is an inquiry into a field of study dedicated to the reconsideration reconstruction and rehabilitation of the concept of Taste Taste is the category whose systematic historical and actual dimensions have traditionally been located in a variety of disciplines The actuality and potential of the study is based on a variety of collected facts from readings and experiences which materialize in the following features One concept figurative Taste two thinking traditions analytic and synthetic continental and three interrelated dimensions systematic historic and actual are presented in three volumes As such the study presents a salient comprehensive companion for wider readership of humanities approaching conceptions of Taste for the first time Moreover After Taste is intended for anyone who hopes to make a further contribution to the subject Since its appearance and apparently short triumph some 250 years ago the concept of non literary Taste remained the linchpin of aesthetic theory and practice but also a category outreaching aesthetics Taste as the personal unity of the production theory and criticism of art and literature which was still largely taken as a given in the eighteenth century has meanwhile given way to a highly differentiated art world in which aesthetic discourse is placed in such a way that it can seemingly no longer have a conceptual or linguistic effect on general opinion making The critical role of Taste judges ratings and rankings in the feuilleton politics and social media on the one hand and the responding search for new canons on the other have had a huge impact on the academic and popular discourse today. However, Taste's impact on society is in fact all encompassing and yet without getting even close to the magnetic North of the academic compass. After Taste fills the gaps of systematic research by a comprehensive tracing of the emergence of the doctrines, discourses and disciplinary dimensions of Taste up to the peak of its systematic and historical trajectory in the eighteenth century and onwards into the present day. The guiding goal is a post disciplinary rehabilitation of the contested category as a preparation for its productive usage in emerging academic and popular contexts. Three intertwined research hypotheses form the guiding goal of an overall study of the agencies of Taste, its institutionalizations and expert cultures. The 1. first part provides a missing systematic perspective on the concept of Taste as a key factor for understanding the human faculties, value theories and practices of valuating. The 2. second part traces the events at the peak of Taste's systematic and historical trajectories up until the late eighteenth century and verifies the historiographical hypothesis about the instrumentality of Taste for the production, reception and distribution of culture. The 3. third part reconstructs the major moments in which the contested concept of Taste experiences its post disciplinary rehabilitation in preparation for its future productive usage in the academic and popular discourses and practices. It shows how the category of Taste became the foundation, legitimation and the catalyst for the emerging division of labour, faculties and disciplines, confirming the hypothesis of the immense impact and actuality of Taste in the contemporary world.
