Plow Naked Selected Writings On Poetry:

Plow Naked Fred Chappell, 1993 A collection of practical criticism on the relationship between poetry and society Six Poets from the Mountain South John Lang, 2010-04-20 In the most extensive work to date on major poets from the mountain South John Lang explores the pervasive religious and spiritual concerns of many of the mountain South's finest writers including Fred Chappell Robert Morgan Jeff Daniel Marion Kathryn Stripling Byer Jim Wayne Miller and Charles Wright He employs close readings of the poets work and relates it to British and American Romanticism as well as contemporary eco theology and eco criticism creating the most ambitious and searching foray yet into the worlds of these renowned post World War II Appalachian poets Understanding Fred Chappell John Lang, 2000 Lang evaluates Chappell's major works including the four novels preceding Midquest the first five volumes of poetry the remarkably different books of poems published between Castle Tzingal and Spring Garden New and Selected Poems and the two collections of short stories An investigation of the varied connections between and achievements of the Kirkman tetralogy and Midquest concludes this analysis BOOK JACKET Going to See the Elephant George Garrett, 2024-02-27 Going to See the Elephant is a safari into the wilds of the mind of George Garrett and a more interesting place to explore is hard to imagine Whether he or his beleaguered alter ego John Towne is examining the writing life tipping his hat to other writers or fulminating about the sorry state of the world we live in he is well worth a listen both for the sheer pleasure of it and for the wisdom to be found in it R H W Dillard author of Understanding George Garrett The Gaudy Place Fred Chappell, 1994-03-01 Fred Chappell's The Gaudy Place is perhaps the first novel to depict the society of the street people of the New South and their relationship to the middle class For its wry portrayal of displacement and injustice this novel was awarded the Sir Walter Raleigh Prize The street smart teenager Arkie triggers the events of the story with his ambition to rise in economic status He proposes business deals to the prostitute Clemmie and the successful con man Oxie a hustler who aspires to political office When the prank of a middle class teenager Linn Harper offers Oxie the surprising opportunity to gain a foothold in respectable society an unexpected climax reveals the interdependence of all social levels in a culture too quickly changing from a rural to an urban character Here is a small world in which quick wits and wily survival skills are necessary and admirable even though the race is not always to the swift Originally published in 1973 The Gaudy Place is drily humorous darkly ironic fast moving and entertaining Its best strength is its gallery of sharply drawn fondly observed characters unknowingly at odds with one another Fable in the Blood Byron Herbert Reece, 2019-03-01 Collected here are poems by one of Georgia's most intriguing and talented poets of the twentieth century Byron Herbert Reece was born in Union County Georgia in 1917 and authored four volumes of poems and two novels during his short lifetime Until now many of his poems originally published in the 1940s and 1950s have been out of print Reece who faithfully assumed responsibility for his family's farm when his parents became ill was never a poet of the academic ivory tower Indeed he rebelled against the rising New Criticism associated with the Vanderbilt Fugitives the elite of southern poetry at that time Reece's work reflects both the devastating impact of his parents' death from tuberculosis and his own affliction with the disease which caused him to distance himself from others. A solitary thing am I Upon the roads of rust and flame That thin at sunset to the air. Reece was also preoccupied with his ambivalence toward the farm which sustained his solitude yet took time away from his writing. In the far dark woods go roving And find there to match your mood A kindred spirit moving Where the wild winds blow in the wood. Reece's poetry is resonant and contemplative and Jim Clark has included here works that speak for the true grace of Reece's talent. In addition Clark's attentive introduction should bring increased interest to this notable southern poet. Ancestors and Others

Folks, James A.

Perkins, 2021-12-14 Since the end of World War II the South has experienced a greater awareness of growth and of its accompanying tensions than other regions of the United States. The rapid change that climaxed with the war in Vietnam, the Cold War, civil rights demonstrations, and Watergate has forced the traditional South to come to terms with social upheaval. As the essays collected in Southern Writers at Century's End point out, southern writing since 1975 reflects the confusion and violence that have characterized late twentieth-century public culture. These essays consider the work of twenty-one of the foremost southern writers whose most important fiction has appeared in the last quarter of this century. As the region's contemporary writers have begun to gain a wide audience, critics have begun to distinguish what Hugh Holman has called the fresh, the vital, and the new in southern literary culture. Southern Writers at Century's End is the first volume to take an extensive look at the current generation of southern writers. Authors considered include James Lee Burke, Fred Chappell, Robert Drake, Andre Dubus, Clyde Edgerton, Richard Ford, Kaye Gibbons, John Grisham, Barry Hannah, Mary Hood, Josephine Humphreys, Randall Kenan, Richard Marius, Bobbie Ann Mason, Cormac McCarthy, Tim McLaurin, T. R. Pearson, Lee Smith, Anne

Tyler Alice Walker and James Wilcox The Oxford Handbook of the Literature of the U.S. South Fred Hobson, Barbara Ladd, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of the Literature of the U S South brings together contemporary views of the literature of the region in a series of chapters employing critical tools not traditionally used in approaching Southern literature It assumes ideas of the South global multicultural plural more Souths than South that would not have been embraced two or three decades ago and it similarly expands the idea of literature itself Representative of the current range of activity in the field of Southern literary studies it challenges earlier views of antebellum Southern literature as well as in its discussions of twentieth century writing questions the assumption that the Southern Renaissance of the 1920s 1930s and 1940s was the supreme epoch of Southern expression that writing to which all that had come before had led and by which all that came afterward was judged As well as canonical Southern writers it examines Native American literature Latina o literature Asian American as well as African American literatures Caribbean studies sexuality studies the relationship of literature to film and a number of other topics which are relatively new to the field Written in Water, Written in Stone Martin Lammon, 1996 Celebrates the twentieth anniversary of this important and influential book series A Companion to the Regional Literatures of America Charles L. Crow, 2008-04-15 The Blackwell Companion to American Regional Literature is the most comprehensive resource yet published for study of this popular field The most inclusive survey yet published of American regional literature Represents a wide variety of theoretical and historical approaches Surveys the literature of specific regions from California to New England and from Alaska to Hawaii Discusses authors and groups who have been important in defining regional American literature The Children of Africa in the Colonies Fred Chappell, 1996-10-01

Backsass Fred Chappell, 2004 This collection of humorous and satiric verse takes its title from that thoroughly southern term meaning irreverent retort ironic remark or scoffing observation The ancient Roman poet Juvenal noted that his world made it hard not to write satire Fred Chappell finding his contemporary era analogous to that of imperial Rome has in Backsass given in to the impulse for invective and mockery The aim of satirists is to improve the moral tenor of society and they approach this goal by first causing us to laugh at ourselves Brandishing his lexical sword Chappell ribs our shortcomings offers tonic advice and occasionally sheds a tear for our fallen ideals Some poetry is fine wine Backsass is the driest of martinis Vale of Humility George Hovis, 2007 This is an inviting look at the influence of the yeoman s small farm on six modern southern writers In a deft analysis of works by Doris Betts Reynolds Price Fred Chappell Lee Smith Clyde Edgerton and Randall Kenan Vale of Humility explores the lives of the plain folk white and black who populate the worlds of contemporary North Carolina fiction Hovis explains that a wealthy planter elite was significantly less prominent in North Carolina than in neighboring regions and as such the state s plain folk did not develop a class identity based as deeply in relation to a superior planter class Instead the identification of the yeoman s small farm rather than the plantation as necessary to the ideal life has been a distinguishing feature of the state s literature In this first full length study of North

Carolina's contemporary fiction Hovis examines the work of six representative writers from the state's three geographic regions Lee Smith and Fred Chappell from the mountains Doris Betts and Clyde Edgerton from the Piedmont and Reynolds Price and Randall Kenan from the coastal plain The work of these six writers is explored within the broader southern literary tradition with attention to how they have revised such modes as pastoral family saga and southwestern humor in order to portray their own regional experiences Although these writers celebrate the egalitarianism at the heart of the yeoman ideal they also expose the forms of racism sexism and classism that have also marked the state's history

Dream Garden Patrick Bizzaro, 1997-08-01 Dream Garden provides the first inclusive appreciation and evaluation of the poetry of one of the South's indeed America's premier writers Fred Chappell The selections range from a poignant prologue by George Garrett to appreciations by R T Smith and R H W Dillard from critical pieces by Henry Taylor and Dabney Stuart among others to a description of the Chappell papers at Duke University by Alex Albright In addition Dream Garden includes a recent interview with Chappell by Resa Crane and James W Kirkland Dream Garden is essential reading for those interested in the writing of Fred Chappell one of the finest voices in the South

Appalachia and Beyond John Lang, 2006 The last quarter century has seen a remarkable outpouring of fiction and poetry from southern Appalachia a surge of creativity that has formed an integral part of a larger and still growing regional self consciousness This book charts the course of this literary renaissance through twenty one interviews with contemporary Appalachian writers conversations conducted between 1983 and 2003 at Emory Loyal Jones interviews Jim Wayne Miller Richard Marius interviews Wilma Dykeman George Garrett interviews David Huddle and Michael Chitwood interviews Michael McFee These wide ranging conversations address such topics as formative experiences in the author s childhood major literary influences the author s educational background and mentors the writing process the limitations imposed by such labels as Appalachian writer and the broadening scope of literature originating in the Appalachian region Collectively these interviews confirm the judgment of some observers that writers from the mountain South are now playing a much larger role in southern letters than in previous periods thus constituting a renaissance within a renaissance
