May,2009-12-07 Past Imperfect Peter Charles Hoffer,2007-07-03 Woodrow Wilson a practicing academic historian before he took to politics defined the importance of history A nation which does not know what it was yesterday does not know what it is today He like many men of his generation wanted to impose a version of America s founding identity it was a land of the free and a home of the brave But not the braves Or the slaves Or the disenfranchised women So the history of Wilson s generation omitted a significant proportion of the population in favor of a perspective that was predominantly white male and Protestant That flaw would become a fissure and eventually a schism A new history arose which written in part by radicals and liberals had little use for the noble and the heroic and that rankled many who wanted a celebratory rather than a critical history To this combustible mixture of elements was added the flame of public debate History in the 1990s was a minefield of competing passions political views and prejudices It was dangerous ground and at the end of the decade four of the nation s most respected and popular historians were almost destroyed by it Michael Bellesiles Doris Kearns Goodwin Stephen Ambrose and Joseph Ellis This is their story set against the wider narrative of the writing of America s history It may be as Flaubert put it that Our ignorance of history makes us libel our own times To which he could have added falsify plagiarize and politicize because that s the other story of America s history
