Practical Building Conservation Alison Henry, John Stewart, 2012 Mortars Renders and Plasters provides a broad perspective of contemporary conservation theory and practice not otherwise found in one publication describing the history physical properties and deterioration of these important materials Methods of assessing condition and evaluating options for treatment and repair are discussed together with a range of practical conservation techniques and maintenance strategies

The Engineering Index, 1929 Ceramics Monthly, 2004

The Conservation of Glass and Ceramics Norman H. Tennent, 1999 This book is the first to bring together in one comprehensive volume a wide range of key topics in glass and ceramics conservation Scientific research in deterioration mechanisms and in the methods and materials of conservation processes are dealt with extensively by twenty authors each internationally respected in their subject The training available for glass and ceramics conservation is covered in contributions by five course directors at colleges in the USA and Europe The book is designed for conservators curators conservation scientists and ceramics and glass technologists

Training and Practice for Modern Day Archaeologists John H. Jameson, James Eogan, 2012-12-09 In recent years an important and encouraging development in the practice of archaeology and historical preservation has been the markedly increased number of collaborations among archaeologists educators preservation planners and government managers to explore new approaches to archaeological and heritage education and training to accommodate globalization and the realities of the 21st century worldwide But what is the collective experience of archaeologists and cultural heritage specialists in these arenas Should we be encouraged or discouraged by national and international trends In an attempt to answer these questions this volume examines and gives representational examples of the respective approaches and roles of government universities and the private sector in meeting the educational training needs and challenges of practicing archaeologists today Conservation and Restoration of Ceramics Susan Buys, Victoria Oakley, 2014-01-23 The Conservation and Restoration of Ceramics brings together the wide range of current information relevant to the practising conservator The book opens with a discussion of the fundamental nature of the ceramic medium information which is of primary importance when selecting treatments or considering preventive conservation measures Details on techniques are given in a series of chapters covering the restoration and conservation processes but the emphasis is on the basic principles involved in the choice of materials and methods The nature and properties of materials commonly in use are fully discussed and guidance is given on the facilities and equipment needed Also covered in the book are old restoration materials and methods the ethics of ceramics conservation examination and recording display treatments and emergency procedures Now in paperback this book will be invaluable to practising conservators and readers of conservation as well as of interest to museum curators and collectors Collection Care/Sammlungspflege Gabriela Krist, 2015-05-21 Prevention is an attempt to look into the future and have a positive influence on it therefore it is one of the most important aspects in the area of collection care the central current field of applied research in conservation and restoration With sustainability damage and loss are avoided dangers averted and research conducted Collection care is only successful if the theory is appropriately implemented in museum practice
