Water and African American Memory
Anissa J. Wardi,2025-03-25 While there is no lack of scholarship on the trans Atlantic voyage and the Middle Passage as tropes in African diasporic writing to date there has not been a comprehensive analysis of bodies of water in African American literature and culture In Water and African American Memory Anissa Wardi offers the first sustained treatise on watercourses in the African American expressive tradition Her holistic approach especially highlights the ways that water acts not only as a metaphorical site of trauma memory and healing but also as a material site Using the trans Atlantic voyage as a starting point and ending with a discussion of Hurricane Katrina this pioneering ecocritical study delves deeply into the environmental dimension of African American writing Beyond proposing a new theoretical map for conceptualizing the African Diaspora Wardi offers a series of engaging and original close readings of major literary filmic and blues texts including the works of Toni Morrison Ntozake Shange Julie Dash Henry Dumas and Kasi Lemmons

The First Mapping of America Alex Johnson,2017-08-23 The First Mapping of America tells the story of the General Survey At the heart of the story lie the remarkable maps and the men who made them the commanding and highly professional Samuel Holland Surveyor General in the North and the brilliant but mercurial William Gerard De Brahm Surveyor General in the South Battling both physical and political obstacles Holland and De Brahm sought to establish their place in the firmament of the British hierarchy Yet the reality in which they had to operate was largely controlled from afar by Crown administrators in London and the colonies and by wealthy speculators whose approval or opposition could make or break the best laid plans as they sought to use the Survey for their own ends
