Lost in Familiar Places Edward R. Shapiro,A. Wesley Carr,2011 Lost in Familiar Places Edward R. Shapiro,A. Wesley Carr,1993-07-01 We live in a world of accelerating change marked by the decline of traditional forms of family community and professional life Both within families and in work places individuals feel increasingly lost unsure of the roles required of them In this book a psychoanalyst and an Anglican priest using a combination of psychoanalysis and social systems theory offer tools that allow people to create meaningful connections with one another and with the institutions within which they work and live The authors begin by discussing how life in a family prefigures and prepares the individual to participate in groups offering detailed case studies of families in therapy as illustrations They then turn to organizations describing how their consultations with an academic conference a mental hospital a law firm and a church parish helped members of these institutions to relate to one another by becoming aware of wider contexts for their experiences All the people within a group have their own subjectively felt perceptions of the environment According to Shapiro and Carr when individuals can negotiate a shared interpretation of the experience and of the purposes for which the group exists they can further their own development and that of their organizations The authors suggest how this can be accomplished They conclude with some broad speculations about the continuing importance of institutions for connecting the individual and society Working with Trauma Marilyn Charles,2011-11-03 Working with Trauma Lessons from Bion and Lacan by Marilyn Charles takes concepts from the psychoanalytic literature and translates them into user friendly language In this book Charles focuses on clinical work with more severely disturbed patients for whom trauma has impeded their psychosocial development Introducing ideas from Bion and Lacan such as empty speech and attacks on linking she shows the reader their clinical utility Her use of clinical moments rather than more lengthy vignettes invites readers to recognize that type of dilemma and imagine how they might use the concept in their own work I Love a Cop Ellen Kirschman,2018-04-16 Police families are brave resilient and proud and they face remarkable challenges sometimes on a daily basis Now thoroughly updated for today s turbulent times this is the resource that cops and their loved ones have relied on for decades Trusted expert Ellen Kirschman gives you practical ways to manage the stress of the job and create a healthy supportive home environment The third edition features the latest information new stories from police families two new chapters and fully updated resources Dr Kirschman acknowledges the tough realities of life on the force and offers frank realistic suggestions for handling everyday relationship dilemmas as well as serious issues like trauma domestic violence and alcohol abuse Whether you read this book cover to cover or reach for it when problems arise you will find no nonsense guidance to help your family thrive Mental health professionals see also Counseling Cops What Clinicians Need to Know by Ellen Kirschman Mark Kamena and Joel Fay Management Consulting in the Era of the Digital Organization David Brian Szabla,2023-07-01 The 4th Industrial Revolution is well underway Our lives are changing at an exponential rate resulting in a multi faceted deeply interconnected world The digital revolution is integrating multiple technologies which is leading to unprecedented paradigm shifts in the economy management and society Entire systems across countries industries and societies are being transformed triggering a transformation that is unlike anything humankind has ever experienced Given the confluence of dramatic changes in organizational life triggering emerging technology breakthroughs such as robotics the internet of things biotechnology materials science data science and big data and quantum computing this volume of the Research in Management Consulting series explores how the research and practice of management consulting is unfolding in a new era of profound shifts in the way researchers and consultants sense think and act The authors of this volume bring both to scholars and practitioners the latest discussions of efforts to understand consulting in organizations amplified by the fusion of technologies across physical digital and biological worlds They also bring to light a movement from human supervised artificial intelligence systems to fully autonomous artificial intelligence systems that have the potential to demonstrate intelligence beyond human capabilities

Heroine Abuse Thomas Gaiton Marullo, 2015-10-15

Fyodor Dostoevsky's first novel Netochka Nezvanova written in 1849 remains the least studied and understood of the writer's long fiction but it was a seedbed for many topics and themes that became hallmarks of his major works Specifically Netochka Nezvanova was the first in Dostoevsky's corpus to focus on the psychology of children and the first to feature a woman in a leading and narrative role It was also the first work in Russian literature to deal with problems of the family In Heroine Abuse Thomas Marullo contends that Netochka Nezvanova also provides a striking example of what psychologists today call codependency the ways often deviant and destructive in which individuals bond with people places and things as well as with images and ideas to cope with the vicissitudes of life Marullo shows how at age twenty eight Dostoevsky intuited and illustrated the workings of relationship addiction almost a century and a half before it became the scholarly focus of practitioners of mental health The moral monsters infernal women children adults and adult children who populate Netochka Nezvanova seek codependence in people places and things and in images ideas and ideals to satiate cravings for love dominance and control as well as to indulge in narcissism sexual perversion and other aberrant or alternative behaviors Indeed in no other work would Dostoevsky examine such phenomena as pedophilia and lesbianism with such abandon Racing from tie to tie bond to bond and caught in a debilitating loop that they claim to detest but sadomasochistically enjoy the characters in Netochka Nezvanova wreak havoc on themselves and the world They do so moreover with impunity their addictions moving them from momentary exultation as self styled extraordinary men and women through prolonged darkness and despair and once again to old and new addictions for physical and emotional release

Readers of Heroine Abuse will see Netochka Nezvanova as a timeless model in depicting codependency in the world of the twenty first century as it did in St Petersburg in 1849 Marullo's original work will appeal to scholars and students of Russian and comparative fiction to doctors psychologists and therapists to laymen and women interested in relationship addiction and finally to codependents and relationship addicts of all types

The Parables of Jesus Richard Q. Ford, In this startling new way to read the parables Ford unlocks seven of the longer parables attributed to Jesus He focuses on the two major characters in each parable who are separated by social inequality and he entirely bypasses the common approach that assumes that the superior character represents God and the subordinate character the Christian believer Drawing on his own therapeutic training Ford offers unique insight into the psychodynamics at work in the parables He proposes that the two characters are equally balanced in their multiple misperceptions of each other and shows how Jesus stories invite listeners to advert to issues of conflict and power and to struggle toward reconciliation

The authors argue that the dynamics that restrain the efforts of leaders transcend personal attributes and leadership styles. They are rooted in the nature of work and institutions and the histories and cultures of the organizations themselves. Often seen as the central constraint and the core limiting factor in organizational effectiveness and learning, reductionism is defined as oversimplification and a failure to comprehend the nature of life in organizations by concentrating too fully on discrete and disconnected aspects of reality. The other constraints of hierarchy and institutional knowledge are activated and driven by reductionism. After reading Beyond Reductionism: Gateways for Learning and Change, leaders at all organizational levels will understand why low levels of organizational learning persist and change efforts fail. They will also be equipped to recognize and reject overly simplistic and superficial interventions, helping them to create non-reductionist strategies for creating and sustaining change. Actual project designs, experiences, techniques, and results are described in the book within an overall framework that emphasizes the roles and interconnectedness of individuals, leaders, and groups all operating within the
