Louise Bourgeois The Space Of Memory:

Louise Bourgeois' Spider Mieke Bal, 2001-06-29 The sculptor Louise Bourgeois is best known for her monumental abstract sculptures one of the most striking of which is the installation Spider 1997 Too vast in scale to be viewed all at once this elusive structure resists simple narration It fits both no genre and all of them architecture sculpture installation Its contents and associations evoke social issues without being reducible to any one of them Here literary critic and theorist Mieke Bal presents the work as a theoretical object one that can teach us how to think speak and write about art Known for her commentary on the issue of temporality in art Bal argues that art must be understood in relationship to the present time of viewing as opposed to the less immediate contexts of what has preceded the viewing such as the historical past of influences and art movements biography and interpretation In ten short chapters or takes Bal demonstrates that the closer the engagement with the work of art the more adequate the result of the analysis She also confronts issues of biography and autobiography key themes in Bourgeois's work and evaluates the consequences of ahistorical experiences for art criticism drawing on diverse sources such as Bernini and Benjamin Homer and Eisenstein This short beautiful book offers both a theoretical model for analyzing art out of context and a meditation on a key work by one of the most engaging artists of our era

Anamnesia Peter Collier, Anna Magdalena Elsner, Olga Smith, 2009 Memory has always been crucial to French literature and culture as a means of mediating the relationship between perception and knowledge of the individual coming to terms with his identity in time Relatively recently memory has also emerged as the key force in the creation of a collective consciousness in the wider perspective of French cultural history This collection of essays selected from the proceedings of a seminar on Memory given by Dr Emma Wilson at the University of Cambridge offers a fresh evaluation of memory as both a cultural and an individual phenomenon in modern and contemporary French culture including literature cinema and the visual arts Anamnesia the book's title develops the Aristotelian concept of anamnesis recollection as a dynamic and creative process which includes forgetting as much as remembering concealment as much as imagination Memory in this extremely diverse range of essays is therefore far from being presented as a straightforward process of recalling the past but emerges as the site of research and renegotiation of contradictions and even aporia

Louise Bourgeois Louise Bourgeois, Museo Nacional Centro de Arte Reina Sofía, 1999 Louise Bourgeois has been on a journey inspired by architecture for six decades from the early realistic drawings of interiors she made upon her arrival in New York in the late 1930s to the plaster Lairs of the 1960s to the Cells and recent commissioned works of the 1990s In her figurative work she has drawn painted printed and sculpted everything from skyscrapers courthouses and greenhouses to labyrinths sanatoriums towers nests and of course the many different houses and buildings she has lived in over the years Throughout her career Bourgeois work has always had a strong and essential autobiographical element and this book illuminates an area of her life that has heavily informed her work in addition to exploring the relationship of her sculpture to architectural forms

Childhood as Memory, Myth and Metaphor Catherine Crimp, 2017-12-02 A fascination with childhood unites the artist Louise Bourgeois 1911 2010 and the writers Samuel Beckett 1906 89 and Marcel Proust 1871 1922 But while many commentators have traced their childhood images back to memories of lived experiences there is more to their mythologies of childhood that waits to be explored They invite us to move away from familiar ideas whether psychological or biographical about what a child can represent and even what a child is The haunting child figures of Bourgeois Beckett and Proust echo each other as they show how imagining origins for a life for a work of art involves paradoxes that test the limits of our forms of expression Art meets literature profusion meets concision French meets English and images of childhood reveal new insights in this encounter between three great figures of twentieth and twenty first century culture Catherine Crimp holds a PhD from the University of Cambridge and is currently Lectrice d'anglais at the Ecole Normale Supérieure de Lyon Louise Bourgeois Louise Bourgeois, Patrick Amsellem, Wana's Foundation, 2007 Maman the largest of Louise Bourgeois spiders was
