Words in Air Elizabeth Bishop,Robert Lowell,2010-03-16 Robert Lowell once remarked in a letter to Elizabeth Bishop that you ha ve always been my favorite poet and favorite friend The feeling was mutual Bishop said that conversation with Lowell left her feeling picked up again to the proper table land of poetry and she once begged him Please never stop writing me letters they always manage to make me feel like my higher self I ve been re reading Emerson for several days Neither ever stopped writing letters from their first meeting in 1947 when both were young newly launched poets until Lowell s death in 1977 Presented in Words in Air is the complete correspondence between Bishop and Lowell The substantial revealing and often very funny interchange that they produced stands as a remarkable collective achievement notable for its sustained conversational brilliance of style its wealth of literary history its incisive snapshots and portraits of people and places and its delicious literary gossip as well as for the window it opens into the unfolding human and artistic drama of two of America s most beloved and influential poets

In Love and Struggle Stephen M. Ward,2016-09-12 James Boggs 1919 1993 and Grace Lee Boggs 1915 2015 were two largely unsung but critically important figures in the black freedom struggle Born and raised in Alabama James Boggs came to Detroit during the Great Migration becoming an automobile worker and a union activist Grace Lee was a Chinese American scholar who studied Hegel worked with Caribbean political theorist C L R James and moved to Detroit to work toward a new American revolution As husband and wife the couple was influential in the early stages of what would become the Black Power movement laying the intellectual foundation for racial and urban struggles during one of the most active social movement periods in recent U S history Stephen Ward details both the personal and the political dimensions of the Boggses lives highlighting the vital contributions these two figures made to black activist thinking At once a dual biography of two crucial figures and a vivid portrait of Detroit as a center of activism Ward s book restores the Boggses and the intellectual strain of black radicalism they shaped to their rightful place in postwar American history

Spencer,2000-08 Most Americans remain oblivious of a new racial phenomenon that may radically alter the political landscape of the United States In recent years dramatic increases in racial intermarriage have given birth to a generation of mixed race children whose interracially married parents refuse to allow them to be shoehorned into neat pre existing racial categories The parents through organizations they have founded or joined have lobbied aggressively for the category multiracial to be added to official racial classifications at the state and federal levels including the United States census Since a nonracial society is one of the stated goals of the multiracialists Spencer suggests that the undoing of racial classification will come not by initiating a new classification which will only give Americans the impression that mixed race people can be neatly classified but by our increased recognition that there are millions of people who simply defy classification
