

A Walk with You

By 365PoetryDays.com

I use to call you my knight in shining armor,
For you have rescued my weeping heart in bitter fervor,
My hero in the darkest hours of my loneliness,
And broke the shackles of my melancholic distress.

I've been walking this road for several years,
Passed the curves in the shadow of my fears,
Then you held my hand as I took a step,
And together we danced for a blissful leap.

You held me in your arms like there's no tomorrow,
Your smiles have been the antidote of my sorrows,
No longer afraid to surpass a crossroad's uncertainties,
You taught me to drop off my insecurities.

There must've been someone else better for you,
But you define "ME" as the best one for "You",
No longer "I" but "We" is the promise we formulated,
A perpetual journey together is what we have created.

I look behind not with bitter regrets,
For my feet landed me to your memoirs I dare not forget,
We have reached this point with this love so true,
I'd be glad to walk an extra mile with you.

Arabic and Hebrew Love Poems in Al-Andalus Shari Lowin, 2013-11-20 Arabic and Hebrew Love Poems in al Andalus investigates a largely overlooked subset of Muslim and Jewish love poetry in medieval Spain hetero and homo erotic love poems written by Muslim and Jewish religious scholars in which the lover and his sensual experience of the beloved are compared to scriptural characters and storylines This book examines the ways in which the scriptural referents fit in with or differ from the traditional Andalusian poetic conventions The study then proceeds to compare the scriptural stories and characters as presented in the poems with their scriptural and exegetical sources This new intertextual analysis reveals that the Jewish and Muslim scholar poets utilized their sacred literature in their poems of desire as more than poetic ornamentation in employing Qur'anic heroes in their secular verses the Muslim poets presented a justification of profane love and sanctification of erotic human passions In the Hebrew lust poems which utilize biblical heroes we can detect subtle subversive and surprisingly placed interpretations of biblical accounts Moving beyond the concern with literary history to challenge the traditional boundaries between secular and religious poetry this book provides a new multidisciplinary approach to existing materials and will be of interest to students scholars and researchers of Islamic and Jewish Studies as well as to those with an interest in Hebrew and Arabic poetry of Islamic Spain
