By Means of Performance Richard Schechner, Willa Appel, 1990-05-25 The field of performance studies embraces performance behaviour of all kinds and in all contexts from everyday life to high ceremony This volume investigates a wide range of performance behaviour dance ritual conflict situation sports storytelling and display behaviour in a variety of circumstances and cultures It considers such issues as the relationship between training and the finished performance whether performance behaviour is universal or culturally specific and the relationships between ritual aesthetics popular entertainment and religion and sports and theatre and dance The volume brings together essays from leading anthropologists artists and performance theorists to provide a definitive introduction to the burgeoning field of performance studies It will be of value to scholars teachers and students of anthropology theatre folklore semiotics and performance studies

Waste Forms Technology and Performance National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board, Committee on Waste Forms Technology and Performance, 2011-09-05 The Department of Energy's Office of Environmental Management DOE EM is responsible for cleaning up radioactive waste and environmental contamination resulting from five decades of nuclear weapons production and testing A major focus of this program involves the retrieval processing and immobilization of waste into stable solid waste forms for disposal Waste Forms Technology and Performance a report requested by DOE EM examines requirements for waste form technology and performance in the cleanup program The report provides information to DOE EM to support improvements in methods for processing waste and selecting and fabricating waste forms Waste Forms Technology and Performance places particular emphasis on processing technologies for high level radioactive waste DOE's most expensive and arguably most difficult cleanup challenge The report's key messages are presented in ten findings and one recommendation

Myth, Meaning and Performance Ronald Eyerman, Lisa McCormick, 2015-12-03 The cultural and performative turns in social theory have enlivened sociology For the first time these new developments are fully integrated into new approaches to the sociology of the arts in this important new book Building on the established research into art worlds what is interesting for the new sociology of the arts understood in the broad sense to include popular culture as well the classical focus on music painting and literature is the relationship between art works and meaning myth and performance Also reflected in these rich essays which range from Beethoven to John Lennon to Chinese avant garde artists is the lived experience of the artist and its impact on the process of creation and innovation

Music, Performance, Meaning Nicholas Cook, 2017-07-05 This selection of sixteen of Nicholas Cook's essays covers the period from 1987 to 2004 and brings out the development of the author's ideas over these years In particular the two keywords of the title Meaning and Performance represent critical directions that expand to the point that by the end of the book they become coextensive music is seen as social action and meaning as created by that action Within this overall direction a wide variety of topics is explored ranging from Beethoven to Schenker

from Chinese qin music to jazz and rock from perceptual psychology to sketch studies and analysis of record sleeves A substantial introduction draws out the links and differences between the essays sometimes critiquing them and always setting them into the developing context of the author's work as a whole

Interlingual Processes Hans-Wilhelm Dechert, Manfred Raupach, 1989

Metalinguistic Performance and Interlinguistic Competence David Birdsong, 2012-12-06 It is often assumed that metalinguistic performance e.g. detection of ambiguity judgments of grammaticality straightforwardly reflects linguistic knowledge The inadequacies of such an assumption are explored in this volume which documents the subtleties of the relationship between metalinguistic performance and knowledge of a second language interlinguistic competence from the perspectives of language acquisition theory and cognitive and developmental psychology This thorough and up to date examination of metalinguistic phenomena offers insight to those involved in designing elicitation materials analyzing and interpreting metalinguistic performance data and applying such evidence to descriptions of interlanguage grammars and to second language acquisition theory The book also contributes constructively to the current debate concerning the role of metalinguistic variables in second language acquisition that is how they ultimately affect success or failure in learning a second language

Ritual, Performance, Media Felicia Hughes-Freeland, 2003-12-16 Ritual Performance and Media are significant areas of study which are essential to anthropology and are often surprisingly overlooked This book brings a more anthropological perspective to debates about media consumption performativity and the characteristics of spectacle which have transformed cultural studies over the past decade

Mapping Multimodal Performance Studies Maria Grazia Sindoni, Janina Wildfeuer, Kay O'Halloran, 2016-12-01 This book is a first attempt to map the broad context of performance studies from a multimodal perspective It collects original research on traditional performing arts theatre dance opera live durational performance and mediated recorded performances films television shows as well as performative discursive practices on social media by adopting several theories and methodologies all dealing with the notion of multimodality As a mostly dynamic and also interactive environment for various text types and genres the context of performance studies provides many opportunities to produce meaning verbally and non verbally All chapters in this book develop frameworks for the analysis of performance related events and activities and explore empirical case studies in a range of different ages and cultures A further focus lies on the communicative strategies deployed by different communities of practice taking into account processes of production distribution and consumption of such texts in diverse spatial and temporal contexts

Debating Authenticity Thomas Fillitz, A. Jamie Saris, 2012-12-01 The longing for authenticity on an individual or collective level connects the search for external expressions to internal orientations What is largely referred to as production of authenticity is a reformulation of cultural values and norms within the ongoing process of modernity impacted by globalization and contemporary transnational cultural flows This collection interrogates the notion of authenticity from an anthropological point of view and considers authenticity in terms of how meaning is produced in and through discourses about authenticity Incorporating case studies from four continents the topics reach from art and colonialism to exoticism primitivism film ritual and wilderness Some contributors emphasise the dichotomy between the academic use of the term and the one deployed in public spaces and political projects All however consider authenticity as something that can only be understood ethnographically and not as a simple characteristic or category used to distinguish some behaviors experiences or material things from other less authentic versions

Planning and Task Performance in a Second Language Rod Ellis, 2005-03-11 The last decade has seen a growing body of research investigating various aspects of L2 learners performance of tasks This book focuses on one task implementation variable planning It considers theories of how opportunities to plan a task affect performance and tests claims derived from these theories in a series of empirical studies The book examines different types of planning i e task rehearsal pre task planning and within task planning addressing both what learners do when they plan and the effects of the different types of planning on L2 production The choice of planning as the variable for investigation in this book is motivated both by its importance for current theorizing about L2 acquisition in particular with regard to cognitive theories that view acquisition in terms of information processing and its utility to language teachers and language testers for unlike many other constructs in SLA planning lends itself to external manipulation The study of planning then provides a suitable forum for demonstrating the interconnectedness of theory research and pedagogy in SLA
