Moving In Cities:

Writing Bodies, Moving Cities J. E. Henneberg, 2013-04-04 This book explores the dialogue between city and self through a series of short texts Analytical argumentative creative and poetic writing styles converge and contrast to imitate the various ways in which a person comes to know a city In many ways cities represent and respond to identity making processes Its geographical map can serve as an allegory for a place in time and a version of selfhood Cities are themselves real and active entities with personalities and traits Like people they have their merits faults habits and quirks The texts of this book attempt to locate the intersection of portraits of cities and portraits of human character The Moving City Rashmi Sadana, 2021-12-07 The Moving City is a rich and intimate account of urban transformation told through the story of Delhi's Metro a massive infrastructure project that is reshaping the city's social and urban landscapes Ethnographic vignettes introduce the feel and form of the Metro and let readers experience the city scene by scene stop by stop as if they too have come along for the ride Laying bare the radical possibilities and concretized inequalities of the Metro and how people live with and through its built environment this is a story of women and men on the move the nature of Indian aspiration and what it takes morally and materially to sustain urban life Through exquisite prose Rashmi Sadana transports the reader to a city shaped by both its Metro and those who depend on it revealing a perspective on Delhi unlike any other Moving Cities - Contested Views on Urban Life Lígia Ferro, Marta Smagacz-Poziemska, M. Victoria Gómez, Sebastian Kurtenbach, Patrícia Pereira, Juan José Villalón, 2017-08-03 The texts of the book focus on the problems and challenges of urban change especially in Europe in the contemporary context of intense mobility The main topics are mobility urban social structure migrations urban inequalities urban activism community neighbourhood life uses of public spaces and methodological approaches to urban life such as ethnography The Moving City Ida Ostenberg, Simon Malmberg, Jonas Bjørnebye, 2015-08-27 The Moving City Processions Passages and Promenades in Ancient Rome focusses on movements in the ancient city of Rome exploring the interaction between people and monuments Representing a novel approach to the Roman cityscape and culture and reflecting the shift away from the traditional study of single monuments into broader analyses of context and space the volume reveals both how movement adds to our understanding of ancient society and how the movement of people and goods shaped urban development Covering a wide range of people places sources and times the volume includes a survey of Republican imperial and late antique movement triumphal processions of conquering generals seditious violent movement of riots and rebellion religious processions and rituals and the everyday movements of individual strolls or household errands By way of its longue durée dense location and the variety of available sources the city of ancient Rome offers a unique possibility to study movements as expressions of power ritual writing communication mentalities trade and also as a result of a massed populace violent outbreaks and attempts to keep order The emerging picture is of a bustling lively society where cityscape and movements are closely interactive and entwined Intelligent Moving Cities: Technological Leap and
