Moving Animals:

Aristotle on How Animals Move Andrea Falcon, Stasinou Stavrianeas, 2021-06-24 The De incesu animalium forms an integral part of Aristotle's biological corpus but is one of the least studied Aristotelian works both by ancient and modern interpreters Yet it is a treatise where we can see with some clarity and detail Aristotle's methodology at work This volume contains a new critical edition of the Greek text an English translation and nine in depth interpretative essays A general introduction that focuses on the explanatory strategies adopted by Aristotle in the De incesu animalium plus a historical essay on the reception of this work in antiquity and beyond open the volume No other work of this kind has been published in any modern language

How Animals Move James Gray, 2013-08-08 In this book originally published in 1953 zoologist Sir James Gray explores the development of different kinds of animal movement from swimming to crawling to jumping and then examines the mechanics of the variety of possible movements made by different creatures The text is amply illustrated by both illustrations and photographs and is aimed primarily at a younger audience This book will be of value to anyone with an interest in zoology and the physics and biology of motion

How Animals Move Jack Harvey Prince, 1981 Explains the basic principles of movement of vertebrates and insects swimming running and walking flying and gliding and undulating or wriggling

Animal Movement Across Scales Lars-Anders Hansson, Susanne Akesson, 2014-08-21 Movement dispersal and migration on land in the air and in water are pervading features of animal life They are performed by a huge variety of organisms from the smallest protozoans to the largest whales and can extend over widely different distance scales from the microscopic to global Integrating the study of movement dispersal and migration is crucial for a detailed understanding of the spatial scale of adaptation and for analysing the consequences of landscape and climate change as well as of invasive species This novel book adopts a broad cross taxonomic approach to animal movement across both temporal and spatial scales addressing how and why animals move and in what ways they differ in their locomotion and navigation performance Written by an integrated team of leading researchers the book synthesizes our current knowledge of the genetics of movement including gene flow and local adaptations whilst providing a future perspective on how patterns of animal migration may change over time together with their potential evolutionary consequences Novel technologies for tracking the movement of organisms across scales are also discussed ranging from satellite devices for tracking global migrations to nanotechnology that can follow animals only a millimetre in size Animal Movement Across Scales is particularly suitable for graduate level students taking courses in spatial animal ecology animal migration and movement ecology as well as providing a source of fresh ideas and opinions for those already active within the field It will also be of interest and use to a broader audience of professional biologists interested in animal movements and migrations

Animal Life and the Moving Image Michael Lawrence, Laura McMahon, 2019-07-25 From the proto cinematic sequencing of animal motion in the nineteenth century to the ubiquity of animal videos online the histories of animal life and the moving image are enigmatically interlocked

Animal Life and the Moving Image is the first collection of essays to offer a sustained focus on the relations between screen cultures and non human animals The volume brings together some of the most important and influential writers working on the non human animal s significance for cultures and theories of the moving image It offers innovative analyses of the representation of animals across a wide range of documentary fiction mainstream and avant garde practices from early cinema to contemporary user generated media Individual chapters consider King Kong The Birds The Misfits The Cove Grizzly Man and Microcosmos the work of Sergei Eisenstein Robert Bresson Malcolm Le Grice Peter Greenaway Carolee Schneemann and Isabella Rossellini and YouTube stars Christian the lion and Maru the cat
