Sharing the Experiences of Immigrants

Moving Stories is a tool for sharing migration narratives. We seek written contributions, images, artwork, oral accounts, and other forms of storytelling that cover any aspect of migration. This project helps us to understand how narratives foster connections between different communities and how they work to influence policy.

Histories of the Self Penny Summerfield, 2018-07-04 Histories of the Self interrogates historians' work with personal narratives It introduces students and researchers to scholarly approaches to diaries letters oral history and memoirs as sources that give access to intimate aspects of the past Historians are interested as never before in how people thought and felt about their lives This turn to the personal has focused attention on the capacity of subjective records to illuminate both individual experiences and the wider world within which narrators lived However sources such as letters diaries memoirs and oral history have been the subject of intense debate over the last forty years concerning both their value and the uses to which they can be put This book traces the engagement of historians of the personal with notions of historical reliability and with the issue of representativeness and it explores the ways in which they have overcome the scepticism of earlier practitioners It celebrates their adventures with the meanings of the past buried in personal narratives and applauds their transformation of historical practice Supported by case studies from across the globe and spanning the fifteenth to twenty-first centuries Histories of the Self is essential reading for students and researchers interested in the ways personal testimony has been and can be used by historians
