A Companion to British Literature, Volume 4 Robert DeMaria, Jr., Heesok Chang, Samantha Zacher, 2013-12-13 A Companion to British Literature Victorian and Twentieth Century Literature 1837 2000 Fictions of Home Martin Mülheim, 2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right wing discourses of belonging It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home focusing in particular on Marxist feminist postcolonial and psychoanalytic contributions The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home In detailed readings of one film and six novels a view is developed according to which home as a spatio temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics Collaborations with the Past Diana E. Henderson, 2018-09-05 Like the artists studied here we pick and choose our Shakespeares and through that labor another story emerges Frozen in time on the page or screen some of those collaborations continue to speak but denuded of their immediate moment and surroundings we are left to supplement the traces In recovering that past the present takes on greater clarity and contrast But the proof must be in the telling A writer lifts a pen Enter the multiple forces political and economic psychological formal and technical that serendipitously transform imagination into memory Let the collaborative play begin from the Introduction Focusing on key writers actors theater directors and filmmakers who have kept Shakespeare at the center of their endeavors over the past two hundred years Collaborations with the Past illuminates not only the playwright's work but also the choices and responsibilities involved in re-creating culture and the ingenuity and peril of the artistic process By concentrating on rich yet problematic instances of Shakespeare's reanimation in such quintessentially modern forms as the novel and film from Sir Walter Scott's Kenilworth to Kenneth Branagh's Henry V Diana E Henderson sketches a complex history of the pleasures and difficulties that ensue when Shakespeare and modern artists collaborate Working with texts across the entire range of Shakespeare's career Henderson demonstrates through detailed analyses of novels including Jane Eyre and Mrs Dalloway as well as filmed televised and staged performances that art even in the newest media cannot avoid collaborating with the past Only by studying that collaborative process can we comprehend Shakespeare and Anglo American culture Cheap Modernism Lise Jaillant, 2017-04-17 We often think of Mrs Dalloway or A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man as difficult books originally published in small print runs for a handful of readers But from the mid 1920s these texts and others were available in cheap format across Europe Uniform series of reprints such as the Travellers Library the Phoenix Library Tauchnitz and Albatross sold modernism to a wide audience thus transforming a little read highbrow movement into a popular phenomenon The expansion of the readership for modernism was not only vertical from high to low but also spatial since publisher's series were distributed within and outside metropolitan centres in Britain continental Europe and elsewhere Many non English native speakers discovered texts by Joyce Woolf and others in the original language a fact that has rarely been mentioned in histories of modernism Drawing on extensive work in neglected archives Cheap Modernism will be of interest to all those who want to know how the new literature became a global commercial hit Virginia Woolf's Late Cultural Criticism Alice Wood, 2013-10-03 Draws on unpublished historical archives to investigate the writing and thinking processes behind Woolf's inter war cultural criticism Befriending the Queer Nineteenth Century Michael Borgstrom, 2020-12-14 Befriending the Queer Nineteenth Century Curious Attachments addresses a longstanding question in literary and cultural studies how can a case be made for the ongoing value of the humanities without an articulation of that field's social effects In response this book examines how readers befriend works of literature overtures that are based in a curiosity about the world that help those readers to appreciate the world anew As an instance of this dynamic it examines how the contemporary social interest in queerness can be contextualized through encounters with texts produced during an earlier era of queer flux the U S nineteenth century The book offers first hand accounts of such meetings weaving within its analysis reports on readers engagements with literature and the consequences of those connections It frames such dynamics as central to a new politics or to finding a vocabulary for a familiar politics that has not received its due The Nation, 1925
