Mt Fuji A Changing Landscape:

Mt. Fuji, 1986 A breathtaking photographic tour of Japan Mountain Landscapes in Transition Udo Schickhoff, R.B. Singh, Suraj Mal, 2021-11-02 This book compiles available knowledge of the response of mountain ecosystems to recent climate and land use change and intends to bridge the gap between science policy and the community concerned. The chapters present key concepts, major drivers, and key processes of mountain response, providing transdisciplinary orientation to mountain studies, incorporating experiences of academics, community leaders, and policy makers from developed and less developed countries. The book chapters are arranged in two sections. The first section concerns the response processes of mountain environments to climate change. This section addresses climate change itself, past, current, and future changes of temperature and precipitation, and its impacts on the cryosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere, and human environment systems. The second section focuses on the response processes of mountain environments to land use, land cover change. The case studies address effects of changing agriculture and pastoralism, forest water resources management, and urbanization processes, landscape management, and biodiversity conservation. The book is designed as an interdisciplinary publication which critically evaluates developments in mountains of the world, with contributions from both social and natural sciences.

Mount Fuji H. Byron Earhart, 2015-07-15 Illustrated with color and black and white images of the mountain and its associated religious practices. H. Byron Earhart's study utilizes his decades of fieldwork, including climbing Fuji with three pilgrimage groups, and his research into Japanese and Western sources to offer a comprehensive overview of the evolving imagery of Mount Fuji from ancient times to the present day. Included in the book is a link to his twenty-eight minute streaming video documentary of Fuji pilgrimage and practice, Fuji Sacred Mountain of Japan. Beginning with early reflections on the beauty and power associated with the mountain in medieval Japanese literature, Earhart examines how these qualities fostered spiritual practices such as Shugendō, which established rituals and a temple complex at the mountain as a portal to an ascetic otherworld. As a focus of worship, the mountain became a source of spiritual insight, rebirth, and prophecy through the practitioners Kakugyō and Jikigyō, whose teachings led to social movements such as Fujido, the way of Fuji, and to a variety of pilgrimage confraternities making images and replicas of the mountain for use in local rituals. Earhart shows how the seventeenth-century commodification of Mount Fuji inspired powerful interpretive renderings of the peerless mountain of Japan, such as those of the nineteenth-century print masters Hiroshige and Hokusai, which were largely responsible for creating the international reputation of Mount Fuji. In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, images of Fuji served as an expression of a unique and superior Japanese culture. With its distinctive shape firmly embedded in Japanese culture, but its ethical, ritual, and spiritual associations made malleable over time, Mount Fuji came to symbolize ultranationalistic ambitions in the 1930s and early 1940s, peacetime democracy as early as 1946, and a host of artistic, naturalistic, and commercial causes, even the exotic and erotic, in the decades since.

Global Change and Mountain Regions Uli M. Huber, Harald K.M.

Bugmann, Mel A. Reasoner, 2006-03-09 Mountain regions occupy about a quarter of the global terrestrial land surface and provide goods and services to more than half the humanity Global environmental change threatens the integrity of these systems and their ability to provide the goods and services upon which humanity has come to depend This book gives an overview of the state of research in fields pertaining to the detection understanding and prediction of global change impacts in mountain regions More than 60 contributions from paleoclimatology cryospheric research hydrology ecology and development studies are compiled in this volume each with an outlook on future research directions The Changing Land, 2004 Holy Pilgrimages Saffron Valentine, 2025-02-14 Holy Pilgrimages explores the profound significance of religious pilgrimage across diverse faiths revealing what makes a place sacred and how these journeys shape identities Pilgrimages serve as powerful expressions of faith catalysts for spiritual growth and connections to the divine The book highlights that pilgrimage is not an archaic practice but a vital and evolving aspect of religious life reflecting contemporary social and political realities The book begins by defining pilgrimage and sacred space then progresses through thematic chapters It examines the historical evolution of pilgrimage in major religions explores the social and cultural dimensions of these journeys and investigates the personal experiences of pilgrims Drawing on historical texts religious scriptures and ethnographic studies Holy Pilgrimages utilizes a multidisciplinary approach to offer a holistic understanding of pilgrimage It reveals the complex interplay of religious social cultural and personal factors that drive these spiritual journeys The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2018-09-03 This new edition of The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies contains an updated and expanded selection of original chapters which explore research directions in an array of disciplines sharing a concern for landscape a term which has many uses and meanings It features 33 revised and or updated chapters and 14 entirely new chapters on topics such as the Anthropocene Indigenous landscapes challenging landscape Eurocentrism photography and green infrastructure planning The volume is divided into four parts Experiencing landscape Landscape heritage and culture Landscape society and justice and Design and planning for landscape Collectively the book provides a critical review of the various fields related to the study of landscapes including the future development of conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as current empirical knowledge and understanding It encourages dialogue across disciplinary barriers and between academics and practitioners and reflects upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape The Companion provides a comprehensive and up to date guide to current thinking about landscapes and serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike Re: Action Hani Rashid, 2023-05-08 Portrait of Studio Hani Rashid Building on the previous volume Re Futures 2017 Re Action presents a selection of innovative designs by Studio Hani Rashid at the University of Applied Arts Vienna's Institute of Architecture The selected projects address architectural strategies for ensuring vitality in cities and ecosystems as well as sustainable urban growth In his studio Hani

Rashid co founder of the visionary New York firm Asymptote Architecture focuses on architecture that responds to current and future ecological changes Bringing together projects texts and conversations the book highlights creative ways in which architecture can contribute to the development of a sustainable progressive and livable urban future Innovative experimental architectural designs for vibrant cities and ecosystems Explores how architecture can respond to ecological changes With contributions by Hani Rashid Anab Jain Greg Lynn Timothy Morton Claudia Pasquero and others Long-Term Ecosystem Changes in Riparian Forests Hitoshi Sakio,2020-05-19 This open access book presents and analyzes the results of more than 30 years of long term ecological research in riparian forest ecosystems with the aim of casting light on changes in the dynamics of riparian forests over time The research focusing on the Ooyamazawa riparian forest one of the remaining old growth forests in Japan has yielded a number of interesting outcomes First it shows that large scale disturbances afford various trees opportunities for regeneration and are thus the driving force for the coexistence of canopy trees in riparian forests Second it identifies changes in reproductive patterns highlighting that seed production has in fact quantitatively increased over the past two decades Third it describes the decline in forest floor vegetation caused by deer grazing and reveals how this decline has affected bird and insect populations The book illustrates the interconnectedness of phenomena within an ecosystem and the resultant potential for cascade effects and also stresses the need for long term ecological studies of climate change impacts on forests It will be of interest to both professionals and academics in the field of forest science

Sacred Landscapes in Antiquity Ralph Haussler, Gian Franco Chia, 2020-07-31 From generation to generation people experience their landscapes differently Humans depend on their natural environment it shapes their behavior while it is often felt that deities responsible for both natural benefits and natural calamities such as droughts famines floods and landslides need to be appeased We presume that in many societies lakes rivers rocks mountains caves and groves were considered sacred Individual sites and entire landscapes are often associated with divine actions mythical heroes and etiological myths Throughout human history people have also felt the need to monumentalize their sacred landscape But this is where the similarities end as different societies had very different understandings beliefs and practices The aim of this new thematic appraisal is to scrutinize carefully our evidence and rethink our methodologies in a multi disciplinary approach More than 30 papers investigate diverse sacred landscapes from the Iberian peninsula and Britain in the west to China in the east They discuss how to interpret the intricate web of ciphers and symbols in the landscape and how people might have experienced it We see the role of performance ritual orality textuality and memory in people's sacred landscapes A diachronic view allows us to study how landscapes were rewritten adapted and redefined in the course of time to suit new cultural political and religious understandings not to mention the impact of urbanism on people's understandings A key question is how was the landscape manipulated transformed and monumentalized especially the colossal investments in monumental architecture we see in certain socio historic contexts or the creation of an alternative humanmade seemingly non natural landscape with perfectly astronomically aligned buildings that define a cosmological order Sacred Landscapes therefore aims to analyze the complex links between landscape religiosity and society developing a dialectic framework that explores sacred landscapes across the ancient world in a dynamic holistic contextual and historical perspective

Visual and Spatial Structure of Landscapes Tadahiko Higuchi,1988-07-06 In this imaginative and generously illustrated book Tadahiko Higuchi applies a methodology to landscape that is similar to that developed by Kevin Lynch for investigating the extent to which urban settings are legible and imageable to their inhabitants He identifies features such as landmarks boundaries paths and nodes that enable people moving through a landscape to piece together a reliable mental map of their surroundings beginning with major structural elements and filling in with successively finer detail

Global Change and Terrestrial Ecosystems in Monsoon Asia T. Hirose,B.H. Walker,2012-12-06 Forest vegetation is distributed in monsoon Asia continuously from boreal forests through temperate to tropical rain forests This vegetation the richest in the world is being subjected to global change on an unprecedented scale It has been predicted that boreal forests will experience the most significant change in response to global warming while tropical forests are endangered by rapid changes in land use due to high population pressure An increase in atmospheric CO2 concentration will severely affect ecosystem function in this area This volume presents a review of terrestrial ecosystems in monsoon Asia and assesses possible effects of global change on the structure and function of forest ecosystems and feedback routes to the global carbon cycle Audience Vital reading for plant ecologists vegetation scientists environmental managers and government decision makers

Ecological Responses to the 1980 Eruption of Mount St. Helens Virginia H. Dale,Frederick J. Swanson,Charles M. Crisafulli,2006-01-16 Recon guring Disturbance Succession and Forest Management The Science of Mount St Helens When Mount St Helens erupted on May 18 1980 it did more than just recon gure a large piece of Cascadian landscape It also led to dramatic revisions in our perspectives on disturbances secondary succession and forestry practices The Mount St Helens landscape turned out to be a far more complex place than the moonscape that it initially appeared to be Granted a large area was literally scoured and sterilized and that vast expanse of newly formed rock mud ows and avalanche debris up and down the mountain made the Mount St Helens landscape unique But I still remember my surprise when as I stepped out of the helicopter on rst landing within the extensive devastated zone I saw hundreds of plants pushing their way up through the mantel of tephra Surviving organisms were stunning in their diversity abundance and the mechanisms by which they survived They persisted as whole organisms living below ground encased within late persisting snowbanks and buried in lake and stream sediments They survived as rhizomes transported along with the massive landslide that accompanied the eruption and as stems that suffered the abrasion of mud ows Mud ows oated nurse logs covered with tree seedlings and then redeposited them on the oor of a forested river terrace Millions perhaps billions of plants survived as rootstocks and rhizomes that pushed their way up through the tephra and others survived on the bases of uprooted trees Pursuing
