Dillon J Carroll s Invisible Wounds examines the effects of military service particularly combat on the psyches and emotional well being of Civil War soldiers Black and white North and South Soldiers faced harsh military discipline arduous marches poor rations debilitating diseases and the terror of battle all of which took a severe psychological toll While mental collapses sometimes occurred during the war the emotional damage soldiers incurred more often became apparent in the postwar years when it manifested itself in disturbing and self destructive behavior Carroll explores the dynamic between the families of mentally ill veterans and the superintendents of insane asylums as well as between those superintendents and doctors in the nascent field of neurology who increasingly believed the central nervous system or cultural and social factors caused mental illness Invisible Wounds is a sweeping reevaluation of the mental damage inflicted by the nation s most tragic conflict

The Publishers Weekly ,1916 For Hire, Messenger of God Art Burton,Burton Art Burton,2010-05 Well known and wealthy Matthew Lane drives his cherry red Cadillac like he owns the road Some would describe his compulsive driving as maniac So when Lane s speeding car collides with a power pole killing him instantly it s likely that the incident is just another fatal traffic accident Detective Sergeant Jim McDonald a sixteen year veteran policeman is on the same road as Lane that day The accident comes within a coat of paint of including him on the casualty list As an eyewitness and first on the scene McDonald senses there is something strange about the accident These suspicions dominate his waking life in ways he doesn t believe possible McDonald s misgivings are further confirmed with two subsequent car accidents The first involves a victim intoxicated to the point that driving a car seems almost impossible The second event shocks the detective with a case of now you see me now you don t McDonald must discover the evidence that links the three accidents before anyone else loses their life Adjustment Andrew A.
