individual dies the species becomes extinct These last individuals are poignant characters in the stories that humans tell themselves about today's Anthropocene In this evocative work Lydia Pyne explores how discussion about endlings how we tell their histories draws on deep traditions of storytelling across a variety of narrative types that go well beyond the science of these species biology or their evolutionary history Endlings provides a useful and thoughtful discussion of species concepts how species start and how and why they end what it means to be a charismatic species the effects of rewilding and what makes species extinction different in this era From Benjamin the thylacine to Celia the ibex to Lonesome George the Galapagos tortoise endlings Pyne shows have the power to shape how we think about grief mourning and loss amid the world's sixth mass extinction

Money and Banking, 1897 Colorado College Studies, 1890 Colorado College Studies Colorado College, 1890 Fear and Nature Christy Tidwell, Carter Soles, 2021-05-10 Ecohorror represents human fears about the natural world killer plants and animals catastrophic weather events and disquieting encounters with the nonhuman Its portrayals of animals the environment and even scientists build on popular conceptions of zoology ecology and the scientific process As such ecohorror is a genre uniquely situated to address life art and the dangers of scientific knowledge in the Anthropocene Featuring new readings of the genre Fear and Nature brings ecohorror texts and theories into conversation with other critical discourses The chapters cover a variety of media forms from literature and short fiction to manga poetry television and film The chronological range is equally varied beginning in the nineteenth century with the work of Edgar Allan Poe and finishing in the twenty first with Stephen King and Guillermo del Toro This range highlights the significance of ecohorror as a mode In their analyses the contributors make explicit connections across chapters question the limits of the genre and address the ways in which our fears about nature intersect with those we hold about the racial animal and bodily other A foundational text this volume will appeal to specialists in horror studies Gothic studies the environmental humanities and ecocriticism In addition to the editors the contributors include Kristen Angierski Bridgitte Barclay Marisol Cortez Chelsea Davis Joseph K Heumann Dawn Keetley Ashley Kniss Robin L Murray Brittany R Roberts Sharon Sharp and Keri Stevenson

Extinct Birds Julian P. Hume, 2017-08-24 A comprehensive review of the hundreds of bird species that have become extinct over the last 1 000 years of habitat degradation over hunting and rat introduction Extinct Birds has become the standard text on this subject covering both familiar icons of extinction as well as more obscure birds some known from just one specimen or from travellers tales This second edition is expanded to include dozens of new species as more are constantly added to the list either through extinction or through new subfossil discoveries The book is the result of decades of research into literature and museum drawers as well as caves and subfossil deposits which often reveal birds long gone that disappeared without ever being recorded by scientists while they lived From Great Auks Carolina Parakeets and Dodos to the amazing yet almost completely vanished bird radiations of Hawaii and New Zealand via rafts of extinction in the Pacific and elsewhere this book is both a sumptuous reference and astounding testament to humanity's devastating impact on wildlife Absorption and Scattering of Light by Small Particles Craig F. Bohren, Donald R. Huffman, 2008-09-26 Absorption and Scattering of Light by Small Particles Treating absorption and scattering in equal measure this self contained interdisciplinary study examines and illustrates how small particles absorb and scatter light The authors emphasize that any discussion of the optical behavior of small particles is inseparable from a full understanding of the optical behavior of the parent material bulk matter To divorce one concept from the other is to render any study on scattering theory seriously incomplete Special features and important topics covered in this book include Classical theories of optical properties based on idealized models Measurements for three representative materials magnesium oxide aluminum and water An extensive discussion of electromagnetic theory Numerous exact and approximate solutions to various scattering problems Examples and applications from physics astrophysics atmospheric physics and biophysics Some 500 references emphasizing work done since Kerker's 1969 work on scattering theory Computer programs for calculating scattering by spheres coated spheres and infinite cylinders
