Realism, Form, and Representation in the Edwardian Novel Charlotte Jones,2021-01-07 The real represents to my perception the things that we cannot possibly not know sooner or later in one way or another wrote Henry James in 1907 This description riven with double negatives hesitation and uncertainty encapsulates the epistemological difficulties of realism for underlying its narrative and descriptive apparatus as an aesthetic mode lies a philosophical quandary What grounds the real of the realist novel What kind of perception is required to validate the experience of reality How does the realist novel represent the difficulty of knowing What comes to the fore in James s account as in so many is how the forms of realism are constituted by a relation to unknowing absence and ineffability Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel recovers a neglected literary history centred on the intricate relationship between fictional representation and philosophical commitment It asks how or if we can conceptualize realist novels when the objects of their representational intentions are realities that might exist beyond what is empirically verifiable by sense data or analytically verifiable by logic and are thus irreducible to conceptual schemes or linguistic practices a formulation Charlotte Jones refers to as synthetic realism In new readings of Edwardian novels including Conrad's Nostromo and The Secret Agent Wells's Tono Bungay and Ford's The Good Soldier this volume revises and reconsiders key elements of realist novel theory metaphor and metonymy character interiority the insignificant detail omniscient narration and free indirect discourse causal linearity to uncover the representational strategies by which realist writers grapple with the recalcitrance of reality as a referential anchor and seek to give form to the force opacity and uncertain scope of realities that may lie beyond the material In restoring a metaphysical dimension to the realist novel's imaginary Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel offers a new conceptualization of realism both within early twentieth century literary culture and as a transhistorical mode of representation

Ann Veronica H. G. Wells, 2005-03-31 Twenty one passionate and headstrong Ann Veronica Stanley is determined to live her own life When her father forbids her from attending a fashionable Ball she decides she has no choice but to leave her family home and make a fresh start in London There she finds a world of intellectuals socialists and suffragettes a place where as a student in Biology at Imperial College she can be truly free But when she meets the brilliant Capes a married academic and quickly falls in love she soon finds that freedom comes at a price

Lean Logic David Fleming, 2016 Lean Logic is David Fleming's masterpiece the product of more than thirty years work and a testament to the creative brilliance of one of Britain's most important intellectuals A dictionary unlike any other it leads readers through Fleming's stimulating exploration of fields as diverse as culture history science art logic ethics myth economics and anthropology being made up of four hundred and four engaging essay entries covering topics such as Boredom Community Debt Growth Harmless Lunatics Land Lean Thinking Nanotechnology Play Religion Spirit Trust and Utopia The threads running through every entry are Fleming's deft and original analysis of how our present market based economy is destroying the very foundations ecological economic and cultural on which it depends and his core focus a compelling grounded vision for a cohesive society that might weather the consequences A society that provides a satisfying culturally rich context for lives well lived in an economy not reliant on the impossible promise of eternal economic growth A society worth living in Worth fighting for Worth contributing to The beauty of the dictionary format is that it allows Fleming to draw connections without detracting from his in depth exploration of each topic Each entry carries intriguing links to other entries inviting the enchanted reader to break free of the imposed order of a conventional book starting where she will and following the links in the order of her choosing In combination with Fleming's refreshing writing style and good natured humor it also creates a book perfectly suited to dipping in and out The decades Fleming spent honing his life's work are evident in the lightness and mastery with which Lean Logic draws on an incredible wealth of cultural and historical learning from Whitman to Whitefield

Dickens to Daly Kropotkin to Kafka Keats to Kuhn Oakeshott to Ostrom Jung to Jensen Machiavelli to Mumford Mauss to Mandelbrot Leopold to Lakatos Polanyi to Putnam Nietzsche to Nass Keynes to Kumar Scruton to Shiva Thoreau to Toynbee Rabelais to Rogers Shakespeare to Schumacher Locke to Lovelock Homer to Homer Dixon in demonstrating that many of the principles it commends have a track record of success long pre dating our current society Fleming acknowledges with honesty the challenges ahead but rather than inducing despair Lean Logic is rare in its ability to inspire optimism in the creativity and intelligence of humans to nurse our ecology back to health to rediscover the importance of place and play of reciprocity and resilience and of community and culture Recognizing that Lean Logic's sheer size and unusual structure could be daunting Fleming's long time collaborator Shaun Chamberlin has also selected and edited one of the potential pathways through the dictionary to create a second stand alone volume Surviving the Future Culture Carnival and Capital in the Aftermath of the Market Economy The content rare insights and uniquely enjoyable writing style remain Fleming's but presented at a more accessible paperback length and in conventional read it front to back format

The Country of the Blind and other Selected Stories H. G. Wells, 2007-05-31 Herbert George Wells was perhaps best known as the author of such classic works of science fiction as The Time Machine and War of the Worlds But it was in his short stories written when he was a young man embarking on a literary career that he first explored the enormous potential of the scientific discoveries of the day He described his stories as a miscellany of inventions yet his enthusiasm for science was tempered by an awareness of its horrifying destructive powers and the threat it could pose to the human race A consummate storyteller he made fantastic creatures and machines entirely believable and by placing ordinary men and women in extraordinary situations he explored with humor what it means to be alive in a century of rapid scientific progress

The Time Machine H. G. Wells, 2007-11-29 The father of science fiction Guardian The Time Machine is the first and greatest modern portrayal of time travel It sees a Victorian scientist propel himself into the year 802 701 AD when he is initially delighted to find that suffering has been replaced by beauty contentment and peace Entranced at first by the Eloi an elfin species descended from humans he soon realizes that they are simply remnants of a once great culture now weak and childish afraid of the dark They have every reason to be afraid in deep tunnels beneath their paradise lurks another race the sinister Morlocks Edited by PATRIC K PARRINDER with an Introduction by MARINA WARNER and notes by STEVEN MCLEAN

Film Noir Reader 2 Alain Silver, James Ursini, 1999 In the wake of the remarkable success of Film Noir Reader this new collection further explores a genre of limitless fascination and one that continues to inspire and galvanise the latest generation of film makers Again heavily illustrated with close to 150 stills Film Noir Reader 2 is organised much like the earlier volume

British Historical Cinema Claire Monk, Amy Sargeant, 2015-01-28 Films recreating or addressing the past recent or distant actual or imagined have been a mainstay of British cinema since the silent era From Elizabeth to Carry On Up The Khyber and from the heritage film debate to issues of authenticity and questions of genre British Historical Cinema explores the ways in which British films have represented the past on screen the issues they raise and the debates they have provoked Discussing films from biopics to literary adaptations and from depictions of Britain's colonial past to the re-imagining of recent decades in retro films such as Velvet Goldmine a range of contributors ask whose history is being represented from whose perspective and why
