Identity Politics and Ethnic Conflicts in Rwanda and Burundi Godfrey Mwakikagile,2012 This work looks at conflicts between the Hutu and the Tutsi in Rwanda and Burundi The conflicts between the two groups have sometimes been characterised as ethnic although neither group has fundamental attributes of ethnicity or ethnic identity which separate one from the other They have the same culture They speak the same language And they have had a common history during the past 400 years They have intermingled and have intermarried for so long since the Tutsi arrived in the region about 400 years ago that whatever differences existed between them in the past in terms of culture identity and biology have been erased Yet they do exist as distinct social groups They maintain separate group identities as Hutus and as Tutsis mainly because of the asymmetrical relationship between them Inequity of power has solidified those identities Historically the Tutsi minority have been the rulers Their status as the dominant group was enhanced during colonial rule when the Belgians favoured and recognised them as the traditional rulers superior to the Hutu thus legitimising inequalities between the two groups The differences between them were even given official sanction And the subordinate status of the Hutu majority was used by the Belgians to justify discrimination against them in terms of employment and educational opportunities while favouring the Tutsi The conflict between the two groups is rooted in inequity of power fuelled by stereotypes against the Hutu majority Domination of the Hutu majority by the Tutsi minority which started before the advent of colonial rule has also solidified ethnic identities of the two groups through the years A shared consciousness among the members of each group and their distinctiveness each seeing themselves as different from the other have also played a major role in the evolution and consolidation of these separate identities

Betrayed S. Kaplan,2013-11-26 Betrayed takes a new approach to the subject of global poverty one that doesn t blame the West but also doesn t rely on the West for solutions Betrayed puts the poor themselves at center stage and shows how their entrepreneurial energies are shackled by political and social discrimination When these shackles are removed as is happening in places such as China and Vietnam the poor are able to seize opportunities and drive wealth creation Combining the latest research into poverty and state building with the author s personal observations drawn from years running businesses in the developing world Betrayed explains how leaders in the developing world can build more inclusive societies and more equitable governments thereby creating dynamic national economies and giving the poor the opportunity to accumulate the means and skills to control their own destinies This refreshing new approach will appeal to business people who are fed up with reading critiques of global poverty that see capitalism as the problem not the solution people in both the global North and South who want to see attention focused not on Western aid but on what developing countries and their citizens can do to help themselves scholars and practitioners in the development field who are looking for new practicable ideas and general readers who want accessible and engaging accounts of ordinary people struggling to overcome poverty

Nigeria: an Experiment in Nation Building Charles Akujieze,2019-05-08 In this painstakingly updated and comprehensive political masterpiece Charles Nnaemeka Akujieze explores Nigeria s pre colonial colonial and postcolonial history and current affairs in Nigeria politics and administration and presents a nuanced explanation of events and circumstances that have dangerously flung this complex dynamic and troubled giant to the brink It is one of the most updated and comprehensive analysis of Africa s most important and populous nation that has been undermined in recent decades by ethnic and religious conflict political instability rampant corruption and an ailing economy

Underdevelopment, Development and the Future of Africa Munyaradzi Mawere,2017-02-10 In view of the resilience of Africas underdevelopment what do Africans make of their determined aspirations for development The continent of Africa has constantly drawn global attention most especially for both human and natural evils Underdevelopment it appears is one of the most eminent threatening evils It has plunged and promises to maintain the majority of Africa in abject poverty insecurity and vulnerability What perpetuates the ghost and gory of underdevelopment in Africa despite a proliferation of development rhetoric and initiatives How do ordinary Africans react to repeated talk and claims of development with little evidence of transformation for the better in their material circumstances This book interrogates the tenacity of underdevelopment amid calls for Africa to rise from its slumber and reclaim its position in global affairs as the mother continent of humankind It contributes to the ongoing debates on why Africa remains trapped in the clutch of underdevelopment many decades after the purported end of colonialism The book comes at a critical time in human history a time when the talk on Africas under development is louder due to the ravages of economic downturns and dysfunctional conflicts It poses a challenge to development practitioners civil society activists statesmen economists political scientists and theorists to rethink and reconsider their role as technocrats experts and ambassadors of positive change in Africa and the world beyond

Indigenous Systems, Colonialism, Colonial Legacies, and Africa's Economic Challenges Stephen Onyango Ouma,2025-09-21 This book is an exploration of Africa s enduring struggles and immense potential It examines the historical roots of Africa s socio economic challenges from the disruption of

Charles R. Larson, 2025-06-25 Spanning a wide geographical range this collection features many of the now prominent first generation of African writers and draws attention to a new generation of writers Powerful intriguing and essentially non Western these stories will be welcome by an audience truly ready for multicultural voices Mrs. Pargeter's Pound of

Flesh Simon Brett, 2011-12-12 While she has never felt the need to change her figure Mrs Pargeter is happy enough to accompany her friend Kim to a health farm Until in the night she sees a body being wheeled out What Mrs Pargeter doesn t realise is that this suspicious death will set her on a trail of detection which will bring her into direct conflict with her late husband s business associates Civil Wars in Rwanda and Burundi Godfrey Mwakikagile, 2013 This is a historical survey and analysis of some of the bloodiest conflicts in modern times The civil wars in Rwanda and Burundi twin states in the Great Lakes region of East Africa are often explained in simplistic terms even by some political pundits as mere tribal wars rooted in ancient hatred between the Hutu and the Tutsi Ethnicity is indeed a factor But of paramount importance in this conflict between the Hutu and the Tutsi in both countries is the struggle for power although with racial overtones and the exclusion of the Hutu majority from meaningful participation in the political process Therefore the conflicts are not tribal wars but political statements as well probably more than anything else what Tanzanian President Benjamin Mkapa aptly described as military expressions of political intent In this comprehensive study the author also addresses one of the most controversial subjects today conflict resolution in Africa There are no easy answers but the author attempts to provide some of them He covers as much ground as possible trying to come up with solutions not only to the wars in Africa s Great Lakes region but in other parts of the continent as well Juneau Consolidated Facility, Additional Information, University of Alaska Fairbanks

Space, Possible Site Lena Point, Fisheries Management Operation, 'vision for 2005' , 1997 Militocracy vs. Democracy in West Africa 1960s – 1990s Godfrey Mwakikagile, This is a historical narrative and analysis of the unconstitutional changes of government in most West African countries where military rule became institutionalised more than in any other part of the continent from the sixties to the nineties There is no specific reason why the region has suffered from usurpation of power by soldiers more than any other part of the continent besides the desire by soldiers to rule recently demonstrated by coups in Mali in 2020 and 2021 Guinea in 2021 and Burkina Faso in 2022 Governments in West Africa are no more unstable or weaker than their counterparts in other parts of the continent Overthrowing governments became a continental phenomenon when military rulers went on to legitimise their seizure of power through rigged elections by turning themselves into civilian rulers. They civilianised themselves not only to claim that they were no longer military rulers but were democratically elected leaders, a manipulation of power that triggered counter coups by their opponents to end their rule, resulting in many deaths in many countries where this violent change took place. Military rule in Africa started soon after independence in the sixties. The most ambitious goals in the postcolonial era were consolidation of the state and nation building with varying degrees of success in different parts of the continent. Military rulers proved to be no better than their civilian counterparts they had replaced. In most cases they were even worse and used coercive power of the state to perpetuate themselves in office just as their civilian counterparts did. The result was consolidation of the state as an instrument of oppression, the most oppressive apparatus being the executive branch itself invested with all the powers which evolved into the imperial presidency, a phenomenon that persists in some African countries legitimised through rigged elections enabling leaders to remain in office under the guise of democracy in the name of the people.

Chinua Achebe and the Igbo-African World Chima J. Korieh, Ijeoma C. Nwajiaku, 2022-04-12. Chinua Achebe and the Igbo African World: Between Fiction, Fact and Historical Representation explores Chinua Achebe's literary works and how they communicated the Igbo African world to readers. Engaging in the politics of representation, Achebe sought to demystify deterministic views of race and cultural ethnocentrism. While his books and commentaries have been very influential in shaping a unique and multifaceted view of the African world, some scholars have challenged Achebe's representations of historical reality. Through in-depth analyses of his writing, contributors examine the interpretations Achebe imposed on African culture and history in his texts. The chapters cover Achebe's engagement with critical issues like historical representation, gender relations and indigenous political institutions in a changing society. Throughout, contributors present new ways for understanding Achebe's literary works and show how his work draws from African historical reality and identity while challenging Western epistemological hegemony.

Leadership in Independent Africa, Six Decades On Kofi Anani, 2024-02-22. In this open access book, Kofi Anani finds ways forward through the Blended Representation Principle (BRP) which stipulates that power be shared between leaders selected on the basis of Western democratic ideals and leaders chosen on the basis of traditional African norms and conventions. Drawing on his research and professional experience, Anani shows how incorporating the BRP into African leadership and governance thinking would encourage more voluntary public participation in politics, guarantee transparency and accountability in decision making, particularly when it comes to the use of public resources, and ultimately encourage more public confidence in leaders. Anani also provides concrete suggestions for how to achieve all this, not through quick fixes but rather through educational campaigns directed at public officials and through new communities of learning and practice designed to champion the BRP in villages, schools, workplaces, places of worship and other social organizations. This book is a must read for all scholars and students of postcolonial governance and leadership, and it is of keen interest to anyone.

Martha Brill Olcott, 2010-09 At the outset of independence 18 years ago Kazakhstan's leaders promised that the country's rich natural resources with oil and gas reserves among the largest in the world would soon bring economic prosperity It appeared that democracy was beginning to take hold in this newly independent state Nearly two decades later Kazakhstan has achieved the World Bank's ranking of a middle economic country but its economy is straining from the global economic crisis The country's political system still needs fundamental reform before Kazakhstan can be considered a democracy

Kazakhstan Unfulfilled Promise examines the development of this ethnically diverse and strategically vital nation which seeks to play an influential role on the international stage Praise for the previous edition of Kazakhstan This detailed but accessible work will be the definitive work on the newly independent state of Kazakhstan Choice Olcott knows more about Kazakhstan than anyone else in the West New York Review of Books Not only shares the lucid insights and depth of a seasoned observer it greatly enriches the literature on post Soviet transitions Foreign Affairs
