Nothing Ever Happens To The Brave The Story Of Martha Gellhorn:

Nothing Ever Happens to the Brave Carl Edmund Rollyson, 1990-01-01 The first full scale study of the life of Martha Gellhorn captures her life as a war correspondent who vividly wrote about wars from the Spanish Revolution to Vietnam and Nicaragua as the wife of Hemingway and as an indomitable spirit Confessions of a Serial Biographer Carl Rollyson, 2016-03-09 Some critics rank biographers just above serial murderers The author of this book a self described member of the Samuel Johnson school doesn't share this view An account of a life he believes should adhere to the truth as the biographer sees it not to the sentiments of others This memoir of a professional biographer's life tells the inside story of how he became interested in his subjects and reveals the mechanics of the trade how to assemble proposals for publishers conduct interviews and archival research and joust with editors subjects and their literary estates Other biographers have described their process but remained discrete not wishing to offend their sources and supporters This author has forgone such caution The Literature of Extreme Poverty in the Great Depression Robert Dale Parker, 2025 The Literature of Extreme Poverty in the Great Depression uncovers a forgotten side of modernism the literature of unemployment and poverty in the 1930s particularly fiction and poetry about people starving on the street or struggling on welfare people who often don't know where they'll find their next meal or whether they'll find someplace to sleep They spend the night on park benches or in filthy flophouses or they trade sex for food and shelter or they starve Time itself changes For the starving poor standing for hours and hours in a breadline the speed of modern culture slows down Parker expands on previous studies of the 1930s by recovering the fiction and poetry of dozens of forgotten writers and reading them together with political cartoons and with underknown writing by such acclaimed or understudied writers as Langston Hughes Tom Kromer Dorothy West and Martha Gellhorn From an age so immersed in despair and suffering that many writers came to doubt the very idea of literary aesthetics this book rescues a vast archive of literary analogues to the famous documentary photographs that burned the Depression into American visual memory It shapes a collective portrait and interpretation of a nearly lost literary history that represents a nation its crisis and its literature of crisis from the bottom up rather than from the top down Literary St. Louis Lorin Cuoco, William H. Gass, 2000 A descriptive and informative guide to more than 100 sites of literary significance in the greater St Louis area Literary St Louis A Guide includes historical and biographical information maps literary anecdotes and photographs Edited by William H Gass and Lorin Cuoco the volume includes selections by T S Eliot Mark Twain Sara Teasdale Fannie Hurst William S Burroughs Tennessee Williams Kate Chopin Thomas Wolfe and many others who have helped define American literature over the past 150 years This book is indispensable for understanding the region's rich literary landscape Rebecca West and the God That Failed Carl Rollyson, 2005-07-13 After completing his biography of Rebecca West in 1995 Carl Rollyson felt bereft As his wife said Rebecca was such good company He had already embarked on another biography but Rebecca kept beckoning him He felt there was more to say about her politics a misunderstood part of her repertoire as reporter and novelist And had he done justice to her enormous sense of fun and humor He regretted excising the portrait of her he wanted to put at the beginning of his biography His editor kept cutting away at what he called Rollyson s doorstep of a book And then after years of waiting Rollyson received her FBI file He kept running into Rebecca so to speak when he was working on his biographies of Martha Gellhorn and Jill Craigie Interviews in London often turned up people who had known West as well Thus piece by piece Rollyson accumulated what is now another book about Rebecca West This new collection tells the story of how his biography got written of what it means to think like a biographer and why West s vision remains relevant She is one of the great personalities and writers of the modern age and one that we are just beginning to comprehend

Killing the Messenger Herbert N. Foerstel, 2006-03-30 Killing the Messenger reveals the dangerous new face of war and journalism Covering armed conflicts has always been dangerous business but in the past press heroes like Ernie Pyle and Edward R Murrow faced only the danger of random bullets or bombs Today s war correspondent is actually in the cross hairs a target of combatants on all sides of conflicts In their own words correspondents describe the new dangers they face and attempt to explain why they are targeted Killing the Messenger reveals the dangerous new face of war and journalism Covering armed conflicts has always been dangerous business but in the past press heroes like Ernie Pyle and Edward R Murrow faced only the danger of random bullets or bombs Today s war correspondent is actually in the cross hairs a target of combatants on all sides of conflicts In this book correspondents describe the new dangers they face and attempt to explain why they are targeted Is it simply that modern combatants are more brutal than in the past or has journalism changed making correspondents players rather than observers in modern warfare Extended interviews with correspondents who have been abducted and tortured during Middle East conflicts shed chilling light on this new face of war These journalists who have paid dearly to bring first hand images of war to the public offer some surprising insights into the nature and motivation of their kidnappers and the reasons why reporters are targeted They display no self pity and little inclination to blame anyone other than themselves At the same time they are candid in describing the violence within Iraq and without Ways to reduce the risks for reporters are discussed but these editors and correspondents suggest that short of withdrawing into isolated and protected enclaves they may be facing an indefinite escalation of violence against journalists

The Women Who Wrote the War Nancy Caldwell Sorel, 2011-05-15 They came from Boston New York Milwaukee San Francisco and St Louis from Yakima Washington Austin Texas and Sioux City Iowa They left comfortable homes and safe surroundings for combat zone duty As women war correspondents they brought a fresh view to the battlefields of World War II Their experience was at once wide ranging and intimate devastating at one moment heartwarming the next In their ranks we encounter world famous photojournalist Margaret Bourke White the only Western photographer to cover the Nazi invasion of the USSR Martha Gellhorn writer and wife of Ernest Hemingway who presciently reported on the menace of fascism the New Yorker s Janet Flanner recording the bleak realities of life in post liberation

France and Marguerite Higgins who dared enter the concentration camp at Dachau just ahead of the American army Nancy Sorel weaves together the lives and times of these fearless daring and eccentric women assuring them their rightful place in history Page 4 of cover

Prospects for the Study of American Literature Richard Kopley,1997-08 What can there possibly be left to say about This common litany resonant both in and outside of academia reflects a growing sense that the number of subjects and authors appropriate for literary study is rapidly becoming exhausted Take heart admonishes Richard Kopley in this dynamic new anthology for this is decidedly not the case While generations of literary study have unquestionably covered much ground in analyzing canonical writers many aspects of even the most well known authors both their lives and their work remain underexamined Among the authors discussed are T S Eliot Ralph Waldo Emerson William Faulkner Harriet Beecher Stowe Walt Whitman Ernest Hemingway Richard Wright Edith Wharton Nathaniel Hawthorne Zora Neale Hurston Henry James Willa Cather Herman Melville Edgar Allan Poe Henry David Thoreau and Mark Twain

Reading Biography Carl Rollyson,2004-11-25 Most book reviewers know very little about the history or the art of biography Indeed if there is any art in biography it is the rare reviewer that acknowledges it or knows how to discuss it Usually the reviewer regards biography as an occasion to wax eloquent about what he or she thinks of the subject Little space if any is devoted to the biography's structure or style to the biographer's peculiar problems or to how the biography relates to others about the same subject Carl Rollyson a professional biographer and weekly columnist On Biography for The New York Sun explores the ramifications of authorized and unauthorized biographies investigates the relationship between biography and history biography and fiction biography and autobiography as well commenting on certain perennial biographical subjects such as Napoleon on sub genres such as children's biography and on the most recent developments in life writing Rollyson's aim is to reach not merely scholars but that vast general audience addicted to reading biography enhancing their pleasure by providing insight or you might say the inside word on how biographies are put together
