

Another Time

For us like any other fugitive,
Like the numberless flowers that cannot number
And all the beasts that need not remember,
It is to-day in which we live.

So many try to say Not Now,
So many have forgotten how
To say I Am, and would be Lost, if they could, in history.

Bowing, for instance, with such old-world grace
To a proper flag in a proper place,
Muttering like ancients as they stump upstairs
Of Mine and His or Ours and Theirs.

Just as if time were what they used to will
When it was gifted with possession still,
Just as if they were wrong
In no more wishing to belong.

No wonder then so many die of grief,
So many are so lonely as they die;
No one has yet believed or liked a lie:
Another time has other lives to live.

which universities grapple with the challenges involved in the selection processes administration teaching and learning and student support associated with an increasingly large student population drawn from a broad range of socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds including many students who will be returning to live overseas Some of the specific challenges of these developments have included those of selection academic literacy independent learning student support and student engagement A second dimension is the traditional role of the universities as sources of independent intellectual and ethical critique of social institutions both in terms of research and public intellectual contribution to political and social policy debates and in terms of the formation of students in their capacities as critical ethical citizens and professionals This social ethical critique has traditionally been built into the humanities and the social science disciplines and the helping professions but has now found its way into other disciplines and professional areas such as business and engineering As well broader social policy and political discourse has more explicitly embraced social ethical agendas of inclusiveness and marginalisation of social groups recognition of the damage to the overall society of enduring and increasing social inequality BOOK JACKET

The Cure of Poetry in an Age of Prose Mary Kinzie, 1993-07-15 The role of the poet Mary Kinzie writes is to engage the most profound subjects with the utmost in expressive clarity The role of the critic is to follow the poet word for word into the arena where the creative struggle occurs How this mutual purpose is served ideally and practically is the subject of this bracingly polemical collection of essays A distinguished poet and critic Kinzie assesses poetry's situation during the past twenty five years Ours she contends is literally a prosaic age not only in the popularity of prose genres but in the resultant compromises with truth and elegance in literature In essays on the rhapsodic fallacy confessionalism and the romance of perceptual response Kinzie diagnoses some of the trends that diminish the poet's flexibility Conversely she also considers individual poets Randall Jarrell Elizabeth Bishop Howard Nemerov Seamus Heaney and John Ashbery who have found ingenious ways of averting the risks of prosaism and preserving the special character of poetry Focusing on poet Louise Bogan and novelist J M Coetzee Kinzie identifies a crucial and curative overlap between the practices of great prose writing and great poetry In conclusion she suggests a new approach for teaching writers of poetry and fiction Forcefully argued these essays will be widely read and debated among critics and poets alike The Heritage Series of Black Poetry,

The Life and Poetry of Frank Stanford James McWilliams, 2025-07-01

The full throated biography fans have been yearning for Kirkus Starred Review April 2025 When twenty nine year old Frank Stanford put three bullets in his chest on June 3 1978 he ended a life that had been inextricably linked with poetry since childhood Deeply influential but largely unknown outside his corner of the poetry world this prodigy of the American South inspired a cult following that has kept his reputation and work flickering on the periphery of the American literary tradition ever since The Life and Poetry of Frank Stanford offers for the first time a comprehensive study of Stanford's life and work introducing to a broad readership poetry that remains both captivating to poets and in its celebration of everyday experience over academic erudition accessible to those who rarely read poetry Stanford's poems range from one line to his 15 283 line epic The Battlefield Where the Moon Says I Love You The vital thread running through all of his poetry is an ear for language that vies with Walt Whitman in its expansiveness and generosity Stanford's omnivorous attraction to vernacular particularly Black and rural vernacular centered on an admiration for the marginalized and eccentric Blending the Southern Gothic of Faulkner and O'Connor with a racially egalitarian vision his poetry thrives on the stories and traditions of the oppressed and forgotten The themes that preoccupied Stanford's prolific output language sex death class geography commercialism surrealism film race also preoccupied the poet in his daily life which was marked by heavy drinking philandering mental instability emotional abuse and through it all an inveterate desire for beauty Constantly attentive to this tension biographer James McWilliams traces the short and painfully complicated life of this hidden talent who left a lifetime's worth of poetry that through its grounding in the mundane achieved a vision of the transcendent Harlow's Weekly, 1926 Classics of Western Philosophy Steven M. Cahn, 2012-10-01 The Eighth Edition of Steven M Cahn's Classics of Western Philosophy offers the same exacting standard of editing and translation that made earlier editions of this anthology the most highly valued and widely used volume of its kind But the Eighth Edition offers exciting new content as well Plato's Laches complete new selections from Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics on courage Descartes' Discourse on Method complete all previously omitted sections of Berkeley's A Treatise Concerning the Principles of Human Knowledge Kant's Prolegomena to Any Future Metaphysics complete These additions with no offsetting deletion of content of the Seventh Edition yield an anthology of unrivaled versatility the only one to offer the complete texts of both Descartes' Discourse on Method and Meditations on First Philosophy both Berkeley's A Treatise Concerning the Principles of Human Knowledge and Three Dialogues between Hylas and Philonous Kant's Prolegomena to Any Future Metaphysics and selections from the Critique of Pure Reason [The Poems of T.
