Nuclear Nativity Rituals Of Renewal And Employment In The Marshall Islands:

Filling the Hole in the Nuclear Future Robert Jacobs, 2010-04-12 From the dawn of the atomic age art and popular culture have played an essential role interpreting nuclear issues to the public and investigating the implications of nuclear weapons to the future of human civilization Political and social forces often seemed paralyzed in thinking beyond the advent of nuclear weapons and articulating a creative response to the dilemma posed by this apocalyptic technology Art and popular culture are uniquely suited to grapple with the implications of the bomb and the disruptions in the continuity of traditional narratives about the human future endemic to the atomic age Filling the Hole in the Nuclear Future explores the diversity of visions evoked in American and Japanese society by the mushroom cloud hanging over the future of humanity during the last half of the twentieth century It presents historical scholarship on art and popular culture alongside the work of artists responding to the bomb as well as artists discussing their own work From the effect of nuclear testing on sci fi movies during the mid fifties in both the U S and Japan to the socially engaged visual discussion about power embodied in Japanese manga Filling the Hole in the Nuclear Future takes readers into unexpected territory Mimesis and Pacific Transcultural Encounters Jeannette Mageo, Elfriede Hermann, 2017-10-01 How do images circulating in Pacific cultures and exchanged between them and their many visitors transform meanings for all involved This fascinating collection explores how through mimesis wayfarers and locales alike borrow images from one another to expand their cultural repertoire of meanings or borrow images from their own past to validate their identities Diseases of Globalization Christine McMurray, Roy Smith, 2013-10-11 The emergence of a global economy has led to the erosion of local autonomy and national sovereignty with an associated emphasis on the spread of liberal free market economics A clear divide is appearing between those benefiting from and those disadvantaged by this process Among the most important consequences are changes in the patterns of health and the prevalence of disease While infant mortality is declining in most countries and many formerly prevalent diseases are being successfully tackled the move from subsistence to cash economies brings with it changes in diet alcohol consumption and high levels of smoking with the result that non communicable lifestyle illnesses such as heart disease and diabetes are spreading rapidly Similarly growing divisions of wealth add to the problem bringing diseases relating to poverty and malnourishment as well as those caused by affluence and over consumption Issues covered in this book include equitable and sustainable modernization the determinants of health the process of marginalization and survival strategies on the periphery The authors draw on primary case study material largely from societies in the Pacific region undergoing modernization to provide invaluable information for tracking and assessing the full impacts of these changes Transcending the Culture-Nature Divide in Cultural Heritage Sally Brockwell, Sue O'Connor, Denis Byrne, 2013-12-13 While considerable research and on ground project work focuses on the interface between Indigenous local people and nature conservation in the Asia Pacific region the interface between these people and cultural heritage conservation has not received the same attention This collection brings together papers on the current mechanisms in place in the region to conserve cultural heritage values It will provide an overview of the extent to which local communities have been engaged in assessing the significance of this heritage and conserving it It will address the extent to which management regimes have variously allowed facilitated or obstructed continuing cultural engagement with heritage places and landscapes and discuss the problems agencies experience with protection and management of cultural heritage places

Cultural Memory Jeannette Marie Mageo, 2001-02-01 How do foreign schemas and objects enter into indigenous ways of understanding the world How are the cultural self and the cultural other constructed in acts of remembering What is memory's role in the generation or degeneration of cultural meanings In contemporary Pacific societies these questions are not merely the subject of scholarly debate but speak to pressing life concerns This volume offers fruitful responses to such questions providing insights into colonial memory and its limitations and proposing explanations that illumine cultural memory processes These processes in turn elucidate ways of authoring cultural history and shed light on cultural identity which like other forms of identity is built from a remembered self Contributors explore valorizations of certain aspects of the remembered past amnesias about other aspects Both are part of the rhetoric of colonizing cultures and of cultural identity and nationhood in many contemporary Pacific societies The provocative analyses and responses offered here are both academic and personal close engagement with individuals and their ways of life is evident These are at once intellectual journeys through the colonial landscapes of Pacific memory and attempts to understand the problems of politics and personhood cultural identity and meaning for real people in real places Cultural Memory confronts many of the most central anthropological issues of our time

The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean: Volume 2, The Pacific Ocean since 1800 Anne Perez Hattori, Jane Samson, 2023-01-05 Volume II of The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean focuses on the latest era of Pacific history examining the period from 1800 to the present day This volume discusses advances and emerging trends in the historiography of the colonial era before outlining the main themes of the twentieth century when the idea of a Pacific centred century emerged It concludes by exploring how history and the past inform preparations for the emerging challenges of the future These essays emphasise the importance of understanding how the postcolonial period shaped the modern Pacific and its historians

Coral and Concrete Greg Dvorak, 2018-11-30 Coral and Concrete Greg Dvorak's cross cultural history of Kwajalein Atoll Marshall Islands explores intersections of environment identity empire and memory in the largest inhabited coral atoll on earth Approaching the multiple atollscapes of Kwajalein's past and present as Marshallese ancestral land Japanese colonial outpost Pacific War battlefield American weapons testing base and an enduring home for many Dvorak delves into personal narratives and collective mythologies from contradictory vantage points He navigates the tensions between little stories of ordinary human actors and big stories of global politics drawing upon the little metaphor of the coral organisms that colonize and build atolls and the big metaphor of the all encompassing concrete that buries and co opts the past Building upon the growing body of literature about militarism and decolonization in Oceania this book advocates a layered nuanced approach that emphasizes the multiplicity and contradictions of Pacific Islands histories as an antidote to American hegemony and globalization within and beyond the region It also brings Japanese Korean Okinawan and American perspectives into conversation with Micronesians recollections of colonialism and war This transnational history built upon a combination of reflective personal narrative ethnography cultural studies and postcolonial studies thus resituates Kwajalein Atoll as a pivotal site where Islanders have not only thrived for thousands of years but also mediated between East and West shaping crucial world events Based on multi sited ethnographic and archival research as well as Dvorak s own experiences growing up between Kwajalein the United States and Japan Coral and Concrete integrates narrative and imagery with semiotic analysis of photographs maps films and music traversing colonial tropical fantasies tales of victory and defeat missile testing fisheries war bereavement rituals and landowner resistance movements from the twentieth century through the present day Representing history as a perennial struggle between coral and concrete the book offers an Oceanian paradigm for decolonization resistance solidarity and optimism that should appeal to all readers far beyond the Marshall Islands

Illness in the Academy Kimberly Rena Myers, 2007 Illness in the Academy investigates the deep seated widespread belief among academics and medical professionals that lived experiences outside the workplace should not be sacrificed to the ideal of objectivity those academic and medical professions so highly value The 47 selections in this collection illuminate how academics bring their intellectual and creative tools skills and perspectives to bear on experiences of illness The selections cross genres as well as bridge disciplines and cultures The Pacific Islands Moshe Rapaport, 2013-05-31 The Pacific is the last major world region to be discovered by humans Although small in total land area its numerous islands and archipelagoes with their startlingly diverse habitats and biotas extend across a third of the globe This revised edition of a popular text explores the diverse landforms climates and ecosystems of the Pacific island region Multiple chapters written by leading specialists cover the environment history culture population and economy The work includes new or completely revised chapters on gender music logging development education urbanization health ocean resources and tourism Throughout two key issues are addressed the exceptional environmental challenges and the demographic economic political challenges facing the region Although modern technology and media and waves of continental tourists are fast eroding island cultures the continuing resilience of Pacific island populations is apparent This is the only contemporary text on the Pacific Islands that covers both environment and sociocultural issues and will thus be indispensable for any serious student of the region Unlike other reviews it treats the entirety of Oceania with the exception of Australia and is well illustrated with numerous photos and maps including a regional atlas Contributors David Abbott Dennis A Ahlburg Glenn Banks John Barker Geoffrey Bertram David A Chappell William C Clarke John Connell Ron Crocombe Julie Cupples Derrick Depledge Colin Filer Gerard J Fryer Patricia Fryer Brenden S Holland E Alison Kay David M Kennedy Lamont Lindstrom Rick Lumpkin Harley I
