Nuclear Peninsula:

The Peninsula Question Yoichi Funabashi, 2008-09-01 In October 2002 the United States confronted North Korea with suspicions that Pyongyang was enriching uranium in violation of the Agreed Framework that the nations had worked out during the Clinton administration North Korea subsequently evicted international monitors and resumed its nuclear weapons program The Peninsula Question chronicles the resulting second Korean nuclear crisis Japanese journalist Yoichi Funabashi informed by interviews with more than 160 diplomats and decision makers from China Japan Russia South Korea and the United States provides a behind the scenes look at the negotiations to denuclearize the peninsula Between 2002 and 2006 a series of top level diplomats including the prime minister of Japan attempted to engage with North Korea Funabashi illustrates how the individual efforts of these major powers laid the groundwork for multilateral negotiations first as the trilateral meeting and then as the Six Party Talks The first four rounds of talks 2003 2005 resulted in significant progress Unfortunately a lack of implementation after that breakthrough ultimately led to North Korea's missile tests in July and subsequent nuclear tests in October 2006 The Peninsula Question provides a window of understanding on the historical geopolitical and security concerns at play on the Korean peninsula since 2002 Offering multiple perspectives on the second Korean nuclear crisis it describes more than just the U S and North Korean points of view It pays special attention to China's dealings with North Korea providing rare insights into the decision making processes of Beijing This is an important authoritative resource for understanding the crisis in Korea and diplomacy in Northeast Asia

The Future of North Korea Tsuneo Akaha, 2013-04-15 This volume explores the possibility of North Korea's soft landing as the most desirable outcome on the Korean Peninsula The collection of essays by noted students of Asian security examines the perspectives and interests of North and South Korea the United States China Russia and Japan regarding North Korea's future including the possibility of its neutrality

Security at a Price Nicholas Khoo, Reuben Steff, 2017-10-26 This volume in the Weapons of Mass Destruction series makes the case that the United States expansive missile defence policy has eroded both its own security and that of its allies These findings are based on an examination of the response of a number of key states to U S policy including Russia China North Korea and Iran Situating their argument in the theoretical debate on balancing in unipolarity the authors contrast their view to influential perspectives that see little evidence of hard balancing against the U S in the post Cold War era Adopting a neorealist perspective the authors demonstrate the clear presence of this inter state practice providing insight into the international politics of unipolarity showing how hard balancing and security dilemma related dynamics operate in the contemporary strategic environment

Defense White Paper, 1989

North Korea's Foreign Policy under Kim Jong Il Seung-Ho Joo, 2016-12-05 The Democratic People's Republic of Korea North Korea joined the rank of nuclear powers in October 2006 after exploding its first nuclear device The test was not fully successful yet it unequivocally demonstrated North Korea's nuclear weapons capability North Korea under the leadership of Kim Jong il remains as unpredictable and mysterious as ever This comprehensive study brings together leading scholars in the field to examine the country s current foreign policy under Kim Jong il as well as its bilateral relations with the USA China Russia Japan and South Korea
