Kasperson, 1987-01-01     The Social Contours of Risk: Risk analysis, corporations and the globalization of risk Jeanne X. Kasperson, Roger E. Kasperson, 2005 The Social Contours of Risk Volume I Publics Risk Communication and the Social Amplification of Risk We live in a risk society where the identification distribution and management of risks from new technology environmental factors or other sources are crucial to our individual and social existence In The Social Contours of Risk Volumes I and II two of the world s leading and most influential analysts of the social dimensions of risk bring together their most important contributions to this fundamental and wide ranging field Volume I collects their fundamental work on how risks are communicated among different publics and stakeholders including local communities corporations and the larger society It analyses the problems of lack of transparency and trust and explores how even minor effects can be amplified and distorted through media and social responses preventing effective management The final section investigates the difficult ethical issues raised by the unequal distribution of risk depending on factors such as wealth location and genetic inheritance with examples from worker and public protection facility siting conflicts transporting hazardous waste and widespread impacts such as climate change

Social Contours of Risk Roger E Kasperson, 2014-07-30 We live in a risk society where the identification distribution and management of risks from new technology environmental factors or other sources are crucial to our individual and social existence In The Social Contours of Risk Volumes I and II two of the world s leading and most influential analysts of the social dimensions of risk bring together their most important contributions to this fundamental and wide ranging field Volume II centres on the analysis and management of risk in society in international business and multinationals and globally The acceptability of risk to an individual depends on the context whether the larger society or in for example a corporate framework Their work clarifies the structures and processes for managing risks in the private sector and the factors that produce or impede effective decisions The authors demonstrate that corporate culture is crucial in determining risk management They analyse the transfer of corporate risk management systems from industrial to developing countries and how globalization is spreading and creating new kinds of risk the combination of traditional and modern hazards presented by climate change technology transfer and economic growth They describe the new priorities and capacities needed to deal with these enhanced vulnerabilities around the globe     Cross-Cultural Risk Perception Ortwin Renn, Bernd

Rohrmann, 2013-03-14 Cross Cultural Risk Perception demonstrates the richness and wealth of theoretical insights and practical information that risk perception studies can offer to policy makers risk experts and interested parties The book begins with an extended introduction summarizing the state of the art in risk perception research and core issues of cross cultural comparisons The main body of the book consists of four cross cultural studies on public attitudes towards risk in different countries including the United States Australia New Zealand France Germany Sweden Bulgaria Romania Japan and

China The last chapter critically discusses the main findings from these studies and proposes a framework for understanding and investigating cross cultural risk perception Finally implications for communication regulation and management are outlined The two editors sociologist Ortwin Renn Center of Technology Assessment Germany and psychologist Bernd Rohrmann University of Melbourne Australia have been engaged in risk research for the last three decades They both have written extensively on this subject and provided new empirical and theoretical insights into the growing body of international risk perception research

Evaluation and Effective Risk Communication Ann Fisher,1991 Environmental Standards Klaus Pinkau,Ortwin Renn,2013-03-14 It is not uncommon that a group of scientists from many different disciplines join a working group discuss a topic of interest and edit a volume of articles related to this topic They may even agree on a jointly written introduction or conclusion The study group Environmental Standards established in 1987 as an expert panel of the German Academy of Sciences and Technology in Berlin broke with that common tradition and became involved in a fascinating but also pain staking experiment to compose a document on setting environmental standards that has been literally written and authorized by all group members The group consisted of eleven individuals representing the following disciplines physics chemistry biology engineering law psychology and sociology economics The study group had two major goals First to provide a document that summarizes the state of the art in each discipline with respect to the topic of environmental standards Since it is impossible to cover all environmental hazards in one book the panel members agreed to limit the discussion of the scientific material to one major case study the effects of ionizing radiation This topic was selected because the scientific data base is well developed in this area and levels of anthropogenic release can be compared with natural background levels These two conditions are rarely met by most chemical hazards
